Sheledy's views

A look at Idaho

By Loren Horrell

The door to his office has a sign on it reading, "The Old Diploma", and the sign was added by Nutt Hartung, former Tribune Political Editor. Certainly there's something ironic about that, Sheledy says. "I'm a little torn. The old sign is kind of nice, but I think I'd like to change it."

"I've never been as active in the community as the president of the University."

"I'm not a public figure."

"I think that the recent changes in the university system have been a good thing."

Sheledy believes that the changes will benefit the university in the long term.

Sheledy says that he is concerned about the possible impact of the university's new policies on the faculty's role in decision-making.

The president's comments on the university's policies, however, do not indicate a desire to support faculty input in decision-making.

Issue: a UI-international language of space

It's not a foreign language as such, nor a sign language, yet it can be used to communicate in expressiveness or even in helping mentally impaired. In all, the Language of Signs has developed as a result of integrating sign-language and other forms of communication.

The Language of Signs is not bound by language barriers, and has been taught to many people, including those with limited language skills.

Perry discusses senatorial events

By Susan Tieche

Argonaut staff writer

Hartung, the member of the Senate did not want a student to be able to read in any magazines that had been cut during the previous calendar year. He said, "It's not something that I can recall, but it's something that was brought up at the meeting, and it just so happens that it is being done at the moment." Hartung also said that some of the suggestions made by the students are not necessarily practical. He said, "I think that some of the suggestions made by the students are not necessarily practical. They are just ideas that students have come up with, and they may not work in the real world." Hartung added that the Senate is considering all the suggestions made by the students, but it is not sure if they will be采纳ed.

The Senate is currently discussing the possibility of implementing some of the suggestions made by the students. Hartung said, "We are still deciding on what to do with the suggestions, but we are considering implementing some of them." Hartung also said that the Senate is trying to find a compromise that will satisfy both the students and the administration.

Cheerleading men sought

The first half of the 1975 University of Idaho cheerleading squad was announced Tuesday. Kuzmick and Welch are the leaders, and a winner will be named after today’s final tryout. Eleven students are trying out today. All three teams from the state’s other major universities are using tryouts, and it seems to me that the people who participate in this kind of event are usually the ones who are the most successful. We have facilities already here to make water polo and swimming available to people in the area. We are going to start training both sports with our senior swimming facility.

Tennis for the men will be held April 24, 25, 26 and at The Western, 120 E. University. Pro Bowler, John Johnson, Doctor of Physical Education, will direct.

According to Sivyer, the squad is looking for men to be on the squad and as part-timers for the women already on the squad.

Outdoor track season also

The University of Idaho track team will be announced Tuesday. The first tryout is today at 3:30 p.m. at The Western. A total of 40 men are trying out for the team. The tryout will last three days, and the team will be announced at Tuesday’s tryout. The team will compete in the Pacific Conference.

The tryouts are open to all students, and there are a total of 40 men on the squad. The team will compete in the Pacific Conference.

The coach for the men’s team is Steve Wallace. The women’s team is coached by John Johnson.

The tryout schedule is as follows: Monday, May 3, at 3:30 p.m. at The Western. A total of 40 men are trying out for the team. The tryout will last three days, and the team will be announced at Tuesday’s tryout. The team will compete in the Pacific Conference.

The coach for the women’s team is John Johnson.

What’s Happening

By Jim STACK

As you may know, most people are original in search for a summer job. Some look for winter jobs, but the need for successful employment is always present. The problem is, what to do when you don’t know what you want to do. Some people have been employed at this time of year and are looking for something more challenging. Others are finding it difficult to find a job. It’s a tough situation to be in, but there are many opportunities out there. Some companies are offering internships, and some are hiring on-the-job. The problem is, how do you find these opportunities? You have to be proactive and keep your eyes open for opportunities. It’s a good idea to network with people in the industry, and to keep an eye out for job opportunities in your area. It’s also a good idea to look for internships, as these can lead to full-time employment. The key is to be proactive, and to keep your eyes open for opportunities. It’s a tough situation to be in, but there are many opportunities out there.
