Chapman

Eyeing Higher Things

Mark Chapman is a freshman at the University of Idaho who has hit one out of the park higher things. Chapman is currently competing for a position on the Moscow City Council, not only as a representative of the township but also as the City Councilman. Chapman, a music education major, believes he is the youngest person ever to run for a position of this kind in Moscow.

Since there has been an increased number of people riding bicycles in Moscow, Chapman enters his campaignaab aa a ever increasing sport.

I'm very interested in bicycle safety programs since there are so many blizzards

After the bicycle safety programs, I would like to implement bicycle lanes. But I would like to stress that to ensure the safety of those who ride, both the safety of the cyclist and the safety of the pedestrian must be considered. In order to get kids to the bike lanes, a plan was work.

An active bicycle code in another place that Chapman feels needs immediate attention. This year I am trying to bring in a bike code much like that of the school district or the whole state. It would be just like coming from Moscow. Look at the lot of college students doing as they wish in the street. That really looks like a mess then a minute weeks later. I believe this is something wrong that you can walk anywhere and see a car.

If the housing code were implemented, we would be more aware that there wouldn't be those troubles. Chapman said.

Another deep concern of Chapman is the restoration of the old punk offices and other old buildings like it. He feels the structures were where Moscow's history and heritage are located. These buildings are not the old buildings that give a town identity.

Chapman feels that the main problem of Moscow stems from Paddle Creek. He advocates change in order to get out of the problems he is worried about.

Since safety is Chapman's primary concern, I feel that he is very interested in the proposed traffic control using Jackson and Washington streets in one way traffic. This will change and bring a downtown mall.

"I feel that as a freshman I think cause a lot of the people are not going through any time and I am quite apt to go through the downtown town. It's just that they are one of the causes that I worry. Chapman said.

Working with civic service organizations and city government programs has given Chapman an excellent background. He has worked with the Boy Scout program. Worked on the mini-mall and Friendship Square downtown. Waved clean, pollution programs and even worked on Old Pake. Cook is also programs he has been a part of.

Chapman urges all freshman students who are eligible to vote to vote in the city election November 6.

Mark Chapman
A not too fresh freshman

Moscow now and the number is ever increasing. Especially the traffic between downtown and Moscow and the University.

Students Cut Off Welfare Because Of Loans

By George Gust
Argus Staff Writer

Welfare payments to seven students at the University of Idaho have been cut off because they have loans from banks. Six of these women, who are due to graduate this year, will have to find other women to invest or drop out of school. They are also one or more dependent children.

The seven women were notified last Saturday that the welfare payments will not be enough to live on and go to school at the same time. One of the women, who has one child said that the money from the University is "only a loan and that it had to be paid back when we get out of school. I can buy 1 day clothes and shoes for 5 kids. The welfare department has told me I had to get from the school where I applied for welfare, I can get money from other sources. That is what I have to do. I have savings to feed my kids, Besides, I am entitled to the benefits.

Another girl, with two children, the says the order is discriminatory because I will have to take out bigger loans to cover the loss of the welfare payments and I shouldn't have to take out more than the loan because I have two independent children.

The welfare payments amount to only 850 a month to an unmarried mother and 1420 a month to an unmarried mother with two children who receives only 850 a month.

Another girl, who has been out of school for two years, told the DECS in Lewis County, why she moved to the University. She says that she didn't know anything about the cut-off and that she wasn't supposed to say anything about it.

Some girls have gone to the Financial Aid Office and have taken another loan to cover the loss of the welfare payments. Some have applied for student financial aid, but have been told that they have been cut off before.

One girl, who has no children, will have to stop going to school in order to help support themselves and their families.

There will be a hearing Tuesday to determine whether or not the order will be reversed. If the present order is upheld, the welfare payments will be reduced.

The political system at work on campus. See the reports on student senate, fresh elections, and Faculty Council on Page 2.

Government:

What's yellow and blushing and dirty all over? See our latest football editorial on Page 1 for details.

Rah-Rah:

Cut Off Welfare Because Of Loans
Senate Appoints Sigismonti, Defeats Valdy Concert Support

By Kenton Bird

Senator Start Winter

has announced that he will be appointed to the Senate

Appointments Committee, to fill the seat left vacant

by the resignation of Sen.

Barbara "Pat" O'Neal, D-

New Ulm. The Senate has also confirmed the appointments of Barbara "Pat" On-eal and Steve Jones, also

D-New Ulm, for the terms remaining in their appointments.

The Senate usually holds 8 a.m.

hearings to confirm appointments. Today's hearing was postponed.

Senator Sigismonti, D-New Ulm,

is the Senate President. He is the first Minnesotan to hold that position in the Senate since 1992.

The Senate also defeated a motion to support the Val-

dy Concert, which was scheduled for October 19.

The motion was made by

Senator Start Winter, D-New

Ulm. The motion was defeated by a vote of 21-18.

Senator Sigismonti, D-New Ulm,

is the Senate President. He is the first Minnesotan to

hold that position in the Senate since 1992.

The Senate also defeated a motion to support the Val-

dy Concert, which was scheduled for October 19.

The motion was made by

Senator Start Winter, D-New

Ulm. The motion was defeated by a vote of 21-18.

Senator Sigismonti, D-New Ulm,

is the Senate President. He is the first Minnesotan to

hold that position in the Senate since 1992.

The Senate also defeated a motion to support the Val-

dy Concert, which was scheduled for October 19.

The motion was made by

Senator Start Winter, D-New

Ulm. The motion was defeated by a vote of 21-18.

Gay Awareness Movement Moves--Except at Moscow

In the past few years, gay awareness movements have expanded and even thrived at a number of college campuses across the country. Recently, however, authorities at the University of Washington have moved to chill the movement in Moscow.

It is said to be a movement similar to the one at the University of Washington, where a number of students have been active. Some students have been arrested, and others have been threatened with arrest. Authorities have also attempted to freeze the movement by limiting its activities.

What's going on? The movement has been growing in strength and numbers. Students have organized a number of events, including a lecture series, a film festival, and a dance. The movement has also worked to open up the campus to gay students and faculty.

The University of Washington has been in the news recently for its role in the movement. In fact, the university's administration has taken a number of actions to limit the movement's activities. The administration has also attempted to silence the movement by limiting its visibility on campus.

But why is the movement being limited? Some say it's because of the backlash from the conservative community. Others say it's because of the administration's desire to maintain control over the campus.

Whatever the reason, the movement is continuing to grow and gain momentum. Students are determined to make their voices heard and to create a more welcoming and inclusive campus environment.
Sauna Bath Hours Washed Up

The University of Idaho and its athletic program has been the center of many student scandals in the state for the last year. These events have created a dust storm of bad publicity for the University and the town of Moscow.

This bad public image has come about because of Idaho’s quest to leave the Big Sky. Last year the school’s scholarship and last-year’s big list -nabalon extravaganza.

The people of Idaho have not had it easy at all of those incidents and have had to deal with all these scandals have come about. For many, it is unpalatable why good play and politics have crowded or one realm of athletics, the Idahoan people used to identify as the last untarnished model in American society.

People are not pleased to be pleased when their son wanted to play basketball or their daughter dated the high school quarterback. But, athletes are needed to keep their white skins clean and the white knights and king-coaches of the gridiron have talked.

It is unquesitetable that the University of Idaho is losing prestige in the state and that part of the reason is because of athletic department. It is a great deal of bad publicity which is difficult to overcome.

Last week the Boise State were confronted with another nice fact. It was discovered John Rosing, head of the Big Sky Conference has been collecting lying facts from the Boise State Athletic department.

Such a situation raises many questions such as: Is Rosing guilty of not biting the hand that fed him? Or is it ethical, for any layman to knock beneath a gate of vested interest when he can keep it locked up?

People are amazed at the level at which athletics finds itself. The alumni and parents attended this weekend's homecoming activities and game probably look back at old time homecomings with some sadness and wonder why athletics can no longer be adorned with mom's apple pie and other good things. The answer is quite apparent. People in general have lost faith in the institution of athletics. It is not an impudent one, however, for most people still enjoy athletics, but leave in Idaho it has reached a sophisticated level that petty politics and must cannot be escaped.

Politics, in itself, is not bad. It is a healthy release from the day to day tension of being a student; but when anything reaches a point that athletics becomes politics and politics will always emerge.

A little of the $100 is riding on the back of the athletic department and delusions of grandeur of football dynasties creep into the school's irreverence, demanding all the time homcomings with some salutations and wonder why athletics can no longer be adorned with mom's apple pie and other good things.

The answer is apparent. People in general have lost faith in the institution of athletics. It is not an impudent one, however, for most people still enjoy athletics, but leave in Idaho it has reached a sophisticated level that petty politics and must cannot be escaped.

Politics, in itself, is not bad. It is a healthy release from the day to day tension of being a student; but when anything reaches a point that athletics becomes politics and politics will always emerge.

A little of the $100 is riding on the back of the athletic department and delusions of grandeur of football dynasties creep into the school's irreverence, demanding all the time homcomings with some salutations and wonder why athletics can no longer be adorned with mom's apple pie and other good things.

The answer is apparent. People in general have lost faith in the institution of athletics. It is not an impudent one, however, for most people still enjoy athletics, but leave in Idaho it has reached a sophisticated level that petty politics and must cannot be escaped.

Politics, in itself, is not bad. It is a healthy release from the day to day tension of being a student; but when anything reaches a point that athletics becomes politics and politics will always emerge.

A little of the $100 is riding on the back of the athletic department and delusions of grandeur of football dynasties creep into the school's irreverence, demanding all the time homcomings with some salutations and wonder why athletics can no longer be adorned with mom's apple pie and other good things.

The answer is apparent. People in general have lost faith in the institution of athletics. It is not an impudent one, however, for most people still enjoy athletics, but leave in Idaho it has reached a sophisticated level that petty politics and must cannot be escaped.

Politics, in itself, is not bad. It is a healthy release from the day to day tension of being a student; but when anything reaches a point that athletics becomes politics and politics will always emerge.

A little of the $100 is riding on the back of the athletic department and delusions of grandeur of football dynasties creep into the school's irreverence, demanding all the time homcomings with some salutations and wonder why athletics can no longer be adorned with mom's apple pie and other good things.

The answer is apparent. People in general have lost faith in the institution of athletics. It is not an impudent one, however, for most people still enjoy athletics, but leave in Idaho it has reached a sophisticated level that petty politics and must cannot be escaped.

Politics, in itself, is not bad. It is a healthy release from the day to day tension of being a student; but when anything reaches a point that athletics becomes politics and politics will always emerge.

A little of the $100 is riding on the back of the athletic department and delusions of grandeur of football dynasties creep into the school's irreverence, demanding all the time homcomings with some salutations and wonder why athletics can no longer be adorned with mom's apple pie and other good things.

The answer is apparent. People in general have lost faith in the institution of athletics. It is not an impudent one, however, for most people still enjoy athletics, but leave in Idaho it has reached a sophisticated level that petty politics and must cannot be escaped.
VANDAL HOMECOMING SPECIAL

Offensive standouts

TIM COLES is Idaho's top receiver this year with 31 receptions for 291 yards and one touchdown. A recruit from Post Falls, Coles is presently ranked eighth in the nation in pass receiving.

RICK SEEFRIED, the Vandals' No. 1 quarterback, is ranked first in the Big Sky Conference in passing and nationally, having completed 103 of 151 pass attempts for 932 yards, three touchdowns and nine interceptions. Seefried is noted for his short, quick-pass passes and good accuracy.

Defensive standouts

LORNE SHERBINA is another one of the top defensive tackles on the team and has combined with defensive ends Alfoa Loy Tauvaga and Alan Vance to form one of the nation's most fearsome defensive lines. Lorne is one of the best tackles on the team and is best known for his ability to suppress the inside run.

MARK FIEDBACK is one of the top three running backs for the Vandals as he has rushed for 218 yards in 41 carries for an 8.5-yard carry average. Mark was the submict of a recent eligibility conflict but was cleared after missing out on the Idaho-Boston State clash.

...the game

By Ken Crevent

The Idaho Vandals, who now have had five straight games, will be hoping to put some of the gear they have gained to good use when they meet the Weber State Wildcats tomorrow in hammering 50-13.

According to ticket manager Jeff Williams, the second largest crowd of the year should be on hand for what promises to be a hard fought contest.

Idaho enters the contest 14-1 on the season with an opening game loss to Idaho State, followed by wins over Utah State, Boise State, Saint Mary's, Washington State, Colorado State and in the final game with a 20-0 victory over Montana State.

The Wildcats record thus far for this season is 5-4. After losing to a toughener in Montana, the Wildcat offense has been led by their top Scrimmage and offensive backs Jon Larson, 6'6" and 206 lbs., and Brian Glade 6'4" and 200 lbs. Glade is the top running back in the Big Sky, with 1240 yards and 27 touchdowns.

The game is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. Saturday at the Boise State Park and will be televised by TVS.

The Vandals offense, which has scored 14 touchdowns, will be under the direction of quarterback Tim Seefried, who has completed 72.9% of his passes for 832 yards. The Vandals defense, which has allowed only 13 touchdowns, will be led by defensive end Lorne Sherbina, who has 13 tackles, and defensive tackle David Barr, who has 18 tackles.

The game will be the first appearance for the Vandals in Idaho's new stadium and it will also be the first time this season that the Vandals have played at an artificial surface.

LLOYD GRIMSRUD is affectionately known among his teammates and fans as "Gip," and for good reason. Grimsrud played on offense most of last year but has since changed to defensive tackle where he has adapted easily. Lloyd has consistently been among the leaders on the tackle charts for each game due to his strength and inside mobility.

MARK FIEDBACK is now recovering from a shoulder separation which he suffered in a recent game but should be ready for action Saturday. As a starting linebacker, Black has become well known for his fierce tackling and ability to cover the ball.

MARK FIEDBACK is one of the top three running backs for the Vandals as he has rushed for 218 yards in 41 carries for an 8.5-yard carry average. Mark was the submict of a recent eligibility conflict but was cleared after missing out on the Idaho-Boston State clash.
Women's Volleyball Contains Variety According to Wolf

By Mary Schinosky
The Vandal

Women's intercollegiate volleyball is a lot more than just wildlife." It is comprised of 14 teams in the Pacific Northwest and four teams in the Mountain States Conference. Each team consists of a minimum of 12 players. They are recruited for the physical strength and conditioning required in the sport. In this section, we will see why.

Wolf, who has coached men's and women's volleyball at Boise State for about 3 years, said, "There is a lot of satisfaction in playing volleyball as a sport because it is a team sport. You can learn to work as a team and it is fun to do." He also feels that anyone can do and does enjoy it.

The women's volleyball team is made up of 12 players, six of whom are freshmen, four sophomores, two juniors, and two seniors. The team is coached by Kris Kebert, who has been coaching the team for 14 years.

The team has been working hard all season and has made a lot of progress. They are currently ranked third in the Pacific Northwest Conference.

Coach Ted Bank To Be Honored

Ted Bank, who coaches the University of Idaho's men's basketball team, will be honored by the B. C. S. club during a banquet on Thursday, November 18th. Bank is the first Idaho coach to ever have a team win a NCAA regional tournament.

Bank's team played well against the highest level of competition and was able to advance to the NCAA regional tournament. They lost to the University of Kentucky in the first round, but Bank was able to secure a spot in the regional tournament.

Bank's team was the first team from the Northwest to advance to the NCAA regional tournament in 1971. They lost to the University of Kentucky in the first round, but Bank was able to secure a spot in the regional tournament.

Bank has been coaching basketball at Idaho for 22 years and has compiled a record of 270-160. He has also coached at the University of Oregon and the University of Washington.

Bank is a native of Idaho and has been an Idaho fan all his life. He attended Boise State University and played basketball there. After graduation, he went on to coach at the University of Oregon and the University of Washington.

Bank is a member of the Idaho Sports Hall of Fame and has been inducted into the Idaho High School Coaches Association Hall of Fame.

Bank has been coaching basketball at Idaho for 22 years and has compiled a record of 270-160. He has also coached at the University of Oregon and the University of Washington.

Bank is a native of Idaho and has been an Idaho fan all his life. He attended Boise State University and played basketball there. After graduation, he went on to coach at the University of Oregon and the University of Washington.

Bank is a member of the Idaho Sports Hall of Fame and has been inducted into the Idaho High School Coaches Association Hall of Fame.

Bank has been coaching basketball at Idaho for 22 years and has compiled a record of 270-160. He has also coached at the University of Oregon and the University of Washington.

Bank is a native of Idaho and has been an Idaho fan all his life. He attended Boise State University and played basketball there. After graduation, he went on to coach at the University of Oregon and the University of Washington.

Bank is a member of the Idaho Sports Hall of Fame and has been inducted into the Idaho High School Coaches Association Hall of Fame.
Broncos Lose Untitled Debate

Boise State College dropped a home game to Las Vegas last week by a score of 7-6. Boise's loss may not only be attributed to their inability to score, but also to poor field conditions, snow, and rain. The Boise team was outplayed by the Las Vegas team, who had a strong defense but a weak offense.

The Boise State College football team is working hard to improve their chances of winning the upcoming games. They are currently practicing under the guidance of Coach Anderson, who is known for his leadership and strategic planning.

Cross-Country To Spokane

Cross-country coach Bill Kuss will be taking 15 runners, most of them being young boys, to compete in this weekend's meet. Kuss is hopeful that his team will return home with some good results.

Spartak

Vandalas Will Try For Perfect Record

The Vandalas will try to close out the 1974 AV baseball season with a perfect 22-0 record. This Sunday they will take on Idaho State at 12 noon.

Weeks Honors

Steve Endres, Montana State's influential tailback and Northern Arica's leading tackler, was named the Big Sky Division and Defensive Player of the Week for his outstanding performance in the last weekend's game.

High Averages Needed For Extramural Bowling

Teams are being held this week for the men's bowling extramural team, with the first game scheduled for this Monday. All full time women are encouraged to attend.

Venus are being held this week for the women's bowling extramural team, with the first game scheduled for this Monday.

The University of Idaho basketball scene will open the 1974-75 season with a number of exciting contests and exciting prospects for the season ahead.

The basketball team, led by Coach Anderson, is off to a strong start, having won all five of their first six games. Anderson is known for his ability to develop strong teams and produce winning results.

"We're going to try to run a lot faster this year," Anderson said. "The team is a lot faster now than we were last year in terms of coaching and personnel.

"The team is a lot faster now than we were last year in terms of coaching and personnel. We've got a lot of young players who are very talented and will contribute to our success.

"The team is a lot faster now than we were last year in terms of coaching and personnel. We've got a lot of young players who are very talented and will contribute to our success. We're looking forward to a great season."