Appointments, bills
Senate issues legion Tuesday

A routine session faces the ASUI Senate this evening, but several bills introduced for action next week could cause some discussion between now and then.

The major items of old business to vote on are bills to appoint ASUI media heads for next year. However, at this time the Communications Board recommendation for editors for the Gem of the Mountain will not be accepted.

The Senate General Operations Appointments Committee (GOA) has indicated that it will return the bill appointing Judy King and Steve Bonner back to the Comm Board. They will suggest to the board that King be considered as the only editor.

The appointments of Mike Downum as manager of KUOI-FM and of Steve Davis as photodirector received "Do Passes" for their positions by GOA. Argonaut Editor candidate Rosemary Hammer will be screened this afternoon.

Senate bill 94, which was vetoed by ASUI President Lynn Tominaga last week will be reintroduced with a clarifying amendment. The bill had called for the various ASUI department heads to keep a running record of income and expenses for the fiscal year. It is being amended so that it will require that both department heads and/or board managers will check the records.

Senate Bill 93, up for final consideration, provides for guidelines and standards for the removal of ASUI board members who do not attend a certain percentage of required meetings.

New business being introduced this week includes several bills, which will be sent to the Rules and Regulations Committee, to resolve contradictions between the ASUI Constitution and the Senate rules.

However, Senate bill 96, which calls for the repeal of Bill number 11 of 1975 could run into some flack. SB 11 provided for censure and probation for ASUI senators not fulfilling their duties. Gary Quigley, ASUI Vice President, who introduced the repealer, said that he has doubts about the constitutionality of SB 11 and as a housecleaning matter wishes it removed before determining procedures; if they are desirable, for such repeamrands.

Quigley said that he had doubts if the Senate as a whole could remove another senator's powers to vote on legislation, especially if such a power derives from the student body and the ASUI Constitution.

Entertainment dead, no input poll offing

If the proposed $3 fee increase fails in the general election this Wednesday, the entertainment budget for the U of I will not be in any danger.

That's because the entertainment budget, no longer exists, according to the ASUI President, Lynn Tominaga.

No funds were allotted for entertainment, he said, because the ASUI is hopeful that an outside producer can be found to bring concerts to the University without financial obligation by ASUI. "The entertainment budget is zero now," Tominaga noted.

If the motion before the students fails, then the program cut will be made, he said, probably in the communications areas.

Students will be unable to express their preferences for various programs before they are cut. Tominaga said, because of the short time involved. Some budgets, like Gem of the Mountains and KUOI, will start this July, and it would be difficult to poll the students for their desires, before then, he explained.

"Besides, my position has the authority to make decisions like this," he said.

The president said that if the students refuse the $3 increase, then he will make specific program cut recommendations to the ASUI senate later this week. The senate would have to make the final decision on any program cuts, he noted.

Tominaga said that if the ASUI is unable to reach an agreement with an outside producer for concerts, then funds resulting from other programs being cut could be channeled into an entertainment budget, probably about $10,000. WSU is a major competitor for U of I, he noted, and are usually successful in outbidding us or booking competitive concerts that reduce the attendance.

"WSU continually breaks our backs," Tominaga said. The concert scene could be reduced to just commuting to the WSU shows, he noted.

Independents whoop it up

A local take off on the Gong Show, a dance and BBQ this week are among highlights of the annual Independent Days celebration. The Wednesday-Saturday celebration will also include competitive games and a free movie, The Graduate.

the repeal of 1975 could knock SB 11 off the agenda. ASUI senators are concerned about the bill's impact on ASUI, and ASU leaders are concerned about the bill's impact on ASUI. The repealer, Norma Dobler, states that she would not vote on the bill if she thought the ASUI students would be affected.

Conference to discuss Idaho water resources

The 1977 Idaho Water Resources Conference will be held at the U of I tomorrow and Thursday in the Borah Theater.

The conference will consider water policy planning and the role of research. It will also address the public's role in decision-making.

Registration for the conference will be at 8 a.m. on Thursday. The conference will be followed by a discussion of "Prioritizing needs for water resources," which begins at 11 a.m.

For more information, contact Ross Wheaton, 885-1146.

Post office summer jobs

The Moscow Post Office will have two job openings available this summer. Applicants must first apply at the Post Office before Friday to take the new Post Office exam.

The exam is similar to the Civil Service exam and the results of the test will be used in determining who will be awarded the jobs. One job opening is for a clerk with flexible working hours.

The second job opening is for a rural carrier substitute and involves rural delivery of mail when the regular mail carriers are unable to.

Applications for the test can be picked up at the main Post Office or the U of I campus branch.

Local groups play Saturday

The Afternoon Delight Folk Festival, with eight acts of Moscow groups, will take place under a temporarily built pavilion sky this Saturday on the lawn of the WHEB from 11 a.m. until sundown.

Produced and sponsored by KUID-FM, the performance will also be simultaneously broadcast over the radio station, located at 91.7 MHz.

This is the second Afternoon Delight produced by the station, the first was last summer in the Borah Theater. In summer of 1975 KUID also produced a street dance on the Ad Building parking lot.

Groups included in the performance include Bob Payton and the Paradise Ridge Boys; Roger Frisinger, Faith & Bo; Dandelion Wine; Rose; Friends; Mark & Mark; Buffalo Rose; and the Howlin' Coyote Band. Their music will range from folk to traditional American country and western. The sound system has been assembled from the equipment of Buffalo Rose and Howlin' Coyote.

It is anticipated to be a low-key musical festival, and after the performance, local groups will continue playing in the Borah Theater.

The people's choice

You'll notice that Betsy Brown doesn't have a column in the Argonaut today. You see, she's got a whole bunch of papers due in the very near future and last thing she needs is to have to write something else.

But I'm here for her. My name is Myrtle Greenwich. Betsy'll probably shit in her pants when she sees what I'm doing to her column, but that's too bad. I'm no hot shot writer. I haven't even passed English 104 yet and this is the second semester I'm taking it. And I don't have any hoity-toity ideas about what's proper to put in a newspaper column, so I'm going to give you a political plug for a friend of mine whose running for the ASUI Senate. She didn't get to run in Arg in time to get in on Friday, which I think you'll understand once you read this. This is my article. It's as professional as I can make it, so I hope you like it.

If you have been voting in U of I elections for several years, or even if you read the Argonau, every year at election time you have heard the candidates making their endless promises, promises, and more promises. And the voters often realize that most of these promises won't be kept, and have good reason to fear what will happen if some of these promises are kept.

Do you want to be represented by a senator who is constantly plagued by one high pressure interest group or another? Do you want a senator whose compromises and attempts to reconcile the views of conflicting factions result in a policy combining reform making and preserving the ASUI power structure? Of course not!

Yet most senators, once elected, are forced into the practice of juggling various constituencies in order to stay in position taking water. When they promise to do what the students want, they are attempting a more difficult feat so than they realize. Who are the students, anyway? Here at Idaho we have east coast liberals, conservatives, rednecks, blacks, chicanos, racists, vegetarians, feminists, engineers, students, home economics, gays, junior politicians and the totally pathetic. Unless the members of all these groups decide that they want the same thing, the average senatorate is in a real bind when elected.

But Antoinette Snavely can keep her campaign promise. She has not one, absolutely nothing elected. This is right, absolutely nothing, the right candidate, in the meantime, instead of concocting all sorts of harebrained schemes to "improve" the ASUI, or trying to bowl everyone over with her charisma (who can have charisma with a name like Snavely?) she will calmly leaf through a stack of comic books and improve her mind.

So vote for Antoinette Snavely for ASUI Senate. She's the only candidate who won't screw things up worse than they already are, and the only one who is guaranteed not to run for ASUI president in November.

To the Editor:
I wish to thank Steve Cross for responding to my query but also permit me to declare that I remain singularly unimpressed and certainly unconvinced about the credibility of Jesus' claim to be the son of God. The entire concept of the resurrection, of which Mr. Cross writes, seems to me to be a total physical absurdity. There simply seems to be no limit to the nonsense people expect you to swallow.

One thing that concerns me is the basis of the arguments Steve presented. The literature he cites seems to circumvent the lack of fact, or at least fails to sufficiently differentiate between fact and fiction, by utilizing fundamental logical errors, specifically that of "begging the question." No external historical proof is injected into the argument. There is only the Bible and the research compiled by...

Christian theologians and biblical scholars. I beseech you, exactly how objective can their investigations be? I feel it is fraught with bias (as indeed my arguments are). Mr. Cross said that I read Josh McDowell’s Evidence That Demands A Verdict. I had the opportunity to examine the book and found it to be full of blank and black thinking and other forms of logical error.

Steve concluded his letter with the statement “CHRIST IS RISEN INDEED.” Allow me to conclude this missive by saying that Steve’s statement conflicts directly with what I have heard recently. It has been said that Jesus is dead. Not to worry however, Mary is pregnant again. Yes, God has been fornicating with a moral (and virgin?) woman once again.

Balancing out

To the Editor:

After reading Mr. Kossman’s editorial in last Friday’s Argonaut, I felt it was time to get some misunderstandings out.

Neither the editorial nor the article written from the proceedings at the senate meeting explained the reason why senate bill number 95 was put on the agenda. To think that senate bill number 95 trying to curtail the free press is about as foolish as comm board not keeping Mr. Kossman suspended for longer than 72 hours. The fact is that senate bill number 95 states that the Argonaut editor should be suspended on the grounds of mismanagement of funds and gross incompetence. And I do not believe that there are many concerned students here at the university who don’t agree that such charges are justified.

In the area of mismanagement of funds there was one major problem which primarily goaded me, so to speak, into submitting senate bill number 95. The problem was that besides the monthly wage of $150.00 which Mr. Kossman would receive for being editor, he was turning in column inches, (the standard for paying for work done), for items which I did not see fit to pay him for. Such as entire front pages where there were no typed columns, just an artist’s creation which the artist was already being paid for. It is bad enough that Mr. Kossman is paid for the column inches within his editorials, which are printed with substantially larger type, but to pay him for thinking about the implementation of the front page. I believe that is where we must draw the line.

As far as the editor’s incompetence extends, I don’t feel I need to elaborate on the subject. I believe that last Friday’s Argonaut exhibits all the evidence I would need. I do not believe that students want to see their ASUI money go for the printing of an 8 page supplement which was taken directly from someone else’s work. That poor lack of judgement used up time, money, and space which could have been used for real news—the kind that readers are truly interested in. Currently more students would be happier if the Argonaut had spent its printing at PFI in Lewiston and distributed in rolls with perforated pages. The last misunderstanding which was brought out in last Friday’s Arg was the indecision of some as to whom I was referring in my comment on particular personnel. That definition of one of our employees was brought up while I was talking about senate bill number 95. I guess I should have made it clear as to whom I was talking about, but then I guess I just took it for granted that everyone would know. I agree that “low rent scum” was not the proper term to use while referring to the Arg editorship, but then we were in a public meeting.

George Ambrose

What’s a granola?

To the Editor:

There are a few questions to be answered and some comments to be made concerning Mr. Schmegeger’s letter in last Friday’s Arg. First the questions. Just because someone living off campus decides to voice his opinion, why is he determined by you to be a “frat rat”? And why is someone who lives in the dorm, in the same situation, labeled a “dorm rat”? If that has been someone from a fraternity who had written the letter that offended you instead of Mr. Ostertag, how would you have labeled him, concerned student? We seriously doubt that you would have called him a “frat rat”. You refer to “some eccentric nut who has nothing better to do than stare at the walls of his room” and write letters to the Argonaut. Does that only apply to those of us living off campus and in the dorms and not to you and your fellow greeks? The ATO house probably is capable of dealing with their own problems, but we don’t think they need individuals.

If you look at the style in which Mr. Wells' letter is written, we think you'll find it quite similar to the style used by Mr. Wells in his letter in the same issue. Sate Mr. Schmoeper. Mr. Wells also seems to have his negative opinions on a problem. But since he's not attacking something Greek, you probably felt that was okay.

Please don't get us wrong. We have friends that live in Greek houses. Just because they live in a fraternity doesn't make them better or worse than ourselves. And we don't believe that they look on us as "social rejects who squirm around campus", unless you Mr. Schmoeper.

9. AUTOS

Faculty Council

One year position

Tamara Sloviozczek

Tamara Sloviozczek is a senior. She is seeking a one year undergraduate term on the Faculty Council.

"I was a senator for a year and a half and while on the senate, I saw a lot of changes made. Now I want to see some changes in Faculty Council. I'd like to see the ASUI Senate, administration, and Faculty Council work closer together, so when we go to the Board of Regents we're all pulling for the same programs, policies and people. Money for higher education is tight in Idaho and we need to work together if we're to remain the top university in the state.

I support the early start calendar. I'm only in favor of noon classes if they are those classes with several sections. The university is a great institution and it can be even better if all the governing bodies work together."

Two year position

Scott Plaisted

Scott Plaisted, candidate for the graduate student position on the Faculty Council, is an instructional assistant in the chemistry department. Plaisted is seeking the post because "I have noticed several standards on this campus. Some exist between students and faculty, others have arisen between graduate students and other students. I am running for this position in order to try and alleviate these problems.

"We as graduate students seem to be in a position midway between that of students and faculty members.

Pat White

Pat White, who is seeking the graduate student representative position on the Faculty Council, is currently enrolled in a doctoral program majoring in early childhood education and administration. She has held an instructional assistantship for the past year.

"I have been active in campus affairs at the graduate level during the current year. My efforts, combined with other graduate students across campus, have been instrumental in renewing the Graduate Student Association.

"The role of the graduate student representative should be a liaison between the faculty and the graduate students. It is of paramount importance that graduate students become aware of and give input concerning issues which directly affect them. I believe that the graduate student representative must facilitate communication among departments, the graduate student association and the faculty.

"My first priority, if elected, would be to establish office space and hours in the ASUI offices.

"My second priority would be to implement a monthly poll of living groups and the off-campus seminar.

"Some current policies that need attention are the pass/fail option, the academic calendar, and the scheduling of classes. The pass/fail option should be re-instated as a "P" or "F" grade, rather than the present "I/D" or "I/G".

Because students overwhelmingly favor the early start calendar, it should remain unchanged. The scheduling of classes should also remain the same instead of the noon hour. The removal of classes on the fourth floor is much needed."
CORRECTION:

We mistakenly ran Brian Dockins' photo over Bruce Moorer's statement and name in last Friday's Argonaut. The error is hereby corrected.

Bruce Moorer is a senate candidate. He is an off-campus student and a junior in accounting.

"I am running to study and publicize how ASUI money is being spent. The ASUI spring budget is evidence this is not being done. That isn't the way I think it should be done."

"It's not fair to surprise students in the spring with a fee increase. I do know that the ASUI is short of money and probably does need the increase, but it could have been handled differently."
Gridders wind up preparations for Silver and Gold contest

As the U of I football squad winds up its spring training, head coach Ed Troxel is generally satisfied with the way things are looking for the upcoming season.

The big question marks for the team - the offensive line and linebacking positions - have been shaping up well, gaining valuable practice time inside the ASU-Kibbie Dome. While the team had seven inside practice days last spring, things are different this time around as they will have spent 17 days in the Dome by this weekend.

"Last year, what hurt us was we didn't throw the ball and do the things we would like to do because of the short time we had in the Dome," Troxel said. "Consequently, we didn't throw the ball like we would have liked to have done during the season, so in that phase we are further along."

"We have worked more on new things offensively. We aren't running the same kind of year. I feel we have come a long way offensively, but we have a long way to go yet."

The current number one player on the offensive line are Tom Randel (6-4, 235, Jr) and Larry Coombs (6-4, 235, Jr) at the tackle positions, Joe Dahlin (6-3, 236, sr) and Dave Wiggum (6-4, 240, Sr) at the guards and Joe Kramer (6-3, 237, Sr) at center.

They will have a tough job filling in for the loss of several all-conference players, including All-American center John Varno, but Troxel thinks the players are showing improvement.

"I think we will be harder to defend against if our line team develops like we hope it will," Troxel said. "Of course, defense is our strong suit."

"Overall, I'm happy with the practices because we have had a good chance to evaluate our personnel, and I'm also happy with the development of our offensive line and linebackers."

Spring practice will end this Saturday with the playing of the Silver and Gold game, which matches one half of the U of I team against the other. The event will start at 2 p.m. with admission one dollar for students and two dollars for adults. U of I students with ID cards will be admitted free.

Netters third at Ogden

After dropping their first match, the U of I men's tennis team came back to win four straight matches in the Weber State Invitational Tennis Tournament last Thursday through Saturday in Ogden, Utah. The Vandals' 4-1 mark at the tournament raised their overall record to 22-6.

On Thursday, Idaho first went up against team in Ogden, Utah State, whom the Vandals easily disposing of 8-1, thus finishing with a 4-1 record compared to Las Vegas' 5-0 and Reno's 3-2 mark. Second place was awarded to Reno, however since their total number of team points was higher, a move which rightfully upset head coach Jim Sevall.

"I felt we came in second," Sevall said, "because we beat every team there except Las Vegas."

Idaho took on their third and fourth opponents, Weber State and Nevada-Reno, on Friday and downed both of them 5-4. The two wins helped little in catching leader Nevada-Las Vegas, as team standings were kept on a basis of total team points rather than win-loss records.

The final match of the tournament for Idaho was Saturday against Boise State, whom the Vandals easily disposed of 8-1, thus finishing with a 4-1 record compared to Las Vegas' 5-0 and Reno's 3-2 mark. Second place was awarded to Reno, however since their total number of team points was higher, a move which rightfully upset head coach Jim Sevall.

"I felt we came in second," Sevall said, "because we beat every team there except Las Vegas."

Idaho's number five player Rod Leonard was named to the all-tournament team after winning all five of his singles matches.

Vandals split twice

In weekend Nor-Pac action at Guy Wicks field the U of I baseball team broke even splitting doubleheaders with Portland State and Portland State.

Roger Vanderbilt stroked a solid single to center field scoring Rick Brit with the tying run in the last inning of Saturday's second game with Portland State. Two strikes later centerfielder Steve Gregor connected for a dramatic two-run home run to leftfield to cross home plate and secure a 6-5 win and avenge a 6-2 loss suffered in the opening game.

The circuit clout was the third hit of the game for Gregor in four at bats. Jim Guy went the distance on mound against the Nor-Pac league leaders and picked up his third victory in eight decisions.

Idaho took an early 1-0 lead in the top of the second inning on singles by Mark Harris, Pat Bailey and Steve Gregor. U of I trailed 3-2 in the sixth when Rick Brit scored from third base after Steve Gregor grounded a ball to shortstop and the throw to first was wide.

Portland State, however, jumped on losing pitcher Rick Kelting (3-5) for three runs in its half of the seventh and assured itself of the win. Vandal pitcher Mike Hamilton and Portland's Bob Lund were locked in a pitching duel in Sunday's game against Portland, with the Vandals trailing 1-0 until their half of the fifth inning. Pat Bailey then singled to score Dave Eckhamer with the tying run.

In the sixth, Roger Vanderhyre reached first on an error, advanced to second on a sacrifice fly and hurried to third on an errant pick-off attempt. Bill Stokes stepped up to the plate and lined a ball off the Portland shortstop's shoulder for a single and accounted for the winning run in the 2-1 victory.

Mike Hamilton allowed the Pilots only four hits while striking out six and walking three. His record now stands at 2-4.

Portland bunched together all seven of its runs in the last four innings and walked away with a 7-2 decision in the opener.

Van Briggs (1-3) was the losing pitcher. Mark Harris and Pat Bailey collected two hits apiece in a losing effort.

The Vandals overall record now stands at 10-22 with a 5-9 mark in the Northern-Pacific League.

Idaho track team first

By ED O'BRIEN

U of I track & Field took twelve out of twenty first place finishes Saturday and outpost both Eastern and Central Washington in Idaho's only home outdoor meet this season.

The Vandals scored 99 points compared to 75 for Eastern and 39 for Central.

It was a busy Saturday for Idaho sports as many of the spectators found difficulty choosing between the baseball doubleheader, the Columbia River Rugby Tournament, the logging competition or the track and field meet. The record breaking temperature made conditions ideal for all events.

Freshman Malcolm May contributed most to the Vandal point total scoring victories in the 100 yard dash (10.0) and 220 yard dash (21.5). He anchored the mile relay team along with Steve Wilson, Claude DeFour and John Patton in a winning time of 3:16.7. May also competed in the long jump for the first time this season and placed second at a distance of 22-2.

In the 10,000 meter run VanVels Terry Griffin, Graydon Hohk and Steve Wilson put together a strong one-two-three finish. Griffin's winning time was 29:34.9.

Scott Knoblich had another outstanding day, remaining unbeaten in the mile with a time of 4:15.6 and placing second in the 800 meter run at 1:54.5. Jeff Reinking finished a close third behind Knoblich in the 800 meters at 1:55.5.

Claude DeFour ran away from the field in the 440 yard dash, finishing in the quick time of 48.8.

Other wins for Idaho included Tim Reilly in the pole vault, clearing a height of 14-0, Doug Fischer in the discus with a heave of 170-10, John Patton in the 440 intermediate hurdles in a time of 54.7 and Urvadale the triple jump victor at a distance of 45-2.

Rick Ward managed a second in the 5,000 meters in a time of 15:23.4 and Nathan Neisinger took second in the steeplechase in 9:37.1.

The 440 relay team had to settle for second in the event after bobbing the baton during the hand-off of the race's last leg.

Tennis home final today

The women's tennis team will play their first home match of the season against Eastern Washington State College today at 3 p.m. on the Ridgeway courts (Ad lawn).

The women's record on the year is 3-6 following an 8-1 triumph over Montana last Friday.

The match will feature the rubber game between Idaho's No.1 player Barb Probst and defending Eastern Area Tournament champion Tana Sparks. Sparks defeated Probst 2-6, 6-0, 6-3 in the Vandal victory last Friday, avenging an earlier defeat by Probst in Moscow on April 9.

SEVEN THINGS NOT TO DO THIS SUMMER.

Summer can be fun if you know a few common things to avoid doing.

1. Do not swim at any beach where they have loudspeakers playing the soundtrack from "Jaws."
2. Do not, under any circumstances, try to pick up a cow.
3. Do not answer want ad for a summer job that sounds too good to be true—unless you enjoy selling steak knives.
4. Do not tell your parents that, after graduation, you have decided on an exciting career in motel management.
5. Do not accept a date from anyone wearing a green leisure suit and roller skates.
6. Do not, under any circumstances, attempt to feed your pet gerbil a boa constrictor.
7. Do not forget the one word for beer. As your Dean of Beer I can think of nothing more important for you to remember. So have fun, have Schlitz, and I'll see you next fall.

THERE'S JUST ONE WORD FOR BEER. AND YOU KNOW IT.
