Vandal-Cougar Football History

 Thirty-four years ago the Vandal-Cougar game was arranged for the first time. There were two teams, one representing the state of Idaho and the other, the state of Washington. There were no means of transportation then, and the game was not played in the usual manner. The teams were composed of college students, and the game was played several miles from the game site. The game was won by the Cougars, who were better equipped for the game. The game was played in the open air, and no spectators were allowed. The game was reported in the newspapers of the state of Idaho.

SPRINGFIELD, SOCIETY

Hallowe'en, with the power and joy of entertaining guests, the citizens of the "big gams" make a traditional, the little movement in the world. Several activities follow each year in a family-oriented setting enabling all to enjoy the good-humor of October. The city of Pocatello is perhaps the most popular, but many other events take place in smaller towns throughout the valley. The events usually include costume contests, parades, and various other activities. The Pocatello event is particularly well-known for its large crowd and festive atmosphere.

AT IDAHO IN 1901

FIRST FRATERNITY

Group Organized 12 Years After University Found

Solving Health Problem

Idaho's oldest is the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, which was founded in 1901. The University of Idaho was founded in 1889, but it was not until 1901 that the first fraternity was organized. The Phi Delta Theta Fraternity was founded on November 2, 1901, and has been an integral part of the University of Idaho since then. The fraternity is known for its philanthropic work and its commitment to improving the health and well-being of its members. The fraternity has a long history of supporting health-related causes, and it continues to do so today.

ANDERSON CENTER

CURIO COLLECTION FOR IDAHO LOST

What is the history of the Anderson Center?

The Anderson Center was founded in 1901, and it was later renamed in honor of its benefactor, Mr. Anderson. The center's mission is to preserve and promote Idaho's history and culture.

The Anderson Center's collection includes artifacts, documents, and memorabilia that showcase the state's rich history. It is a resource for researchers and a place for the public to learn about Idaho's past.

On November 19, 1901, a collection of artifacts was donated to the Anderson Center. These artifacts included a variety of items, such as a map of the state, a photograph of the first school in Idaho, and a series of letters written by early settlers.

Unfortunately, the collection was lost in 1901, and its whereabouts have been unknown ever since. Many efforts have been made to locate and recover the collection, but it remains missing to this day. The Anderson Center continues to search for the lost collection, and it is hoped that one day it will be found and reunited with the state of Idaho.

Making Bore Holes

Lesson No. 4 of
BLASTERS' HANDBOOK

A BORE may be a rock saw, a small hand drill or a large drill, a deep well, hole in a wall or a tunnel.

And in all the great variety of tube holes there lies a number of methods, conditions, precautions and implements.

What is a rock punch? A rock punch churn drill, a hammer drill, drill, point drills and point drills.

And it is thus that we are looking into the production of sound, useful, and safe tunnels.
