FORMIDABLE TEAM BOASTED

CLOUDED by a poor showing on the opening day, the Boise State men's basketball team was the picture of success last week.

On Thursday, the Broncos defeated the Idaho State Beavers, 76-63, and on Saturday, they最好 defeated the Los Angeles Pacific Highlanders, 70-54.

The Boise State team was led by center Bob Tyler, who scored 26 points in the game against Idaho State. Forward Mike Evenson contributed 19 points, and guard Ray Johnson added 12.

In the game against Los Angeles Pacific, Tyler again led the team with 21 points, while Evenson scored 18 and Johnson added 12.

The Boise State team, which is currently ranked second in the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference, will travel to Victoria, B.C., next week for a four-game tournament. The team is currently 24-2 overall and 13-1 in conference play.

Tall women over the average daytime, a dream characterized by a soft breath of mental image, etched by a smile of pleasure. A day's work in the garden, a day's work in the world. The room is filled with the scent of flowers, the sound of birds, the whisper of leaves. A gentle breeze stirs the curtains. The world outside seems遥远. The woman in the room is lost in thought, absorbed in the gentle rhythm of nature. A sense of peace and tranquility fills the air.

Chief Coach Hal Vandal Forecasts to Keep Fellow Montana Free of Rival Montana

Just when followers of the Montana basketball team were wondering if they would have their favorite player back on the sidelines again, Chief Coach Hal Vandal announced that one of his key men, Major John Mullin, had been injured in an automobile accident and would be unable to play in the national tournament.

Mullin, the second player to reach the 2,000 point mark for Montana, was taken to the hospital in Billings, Mont., where he was treated for his injuries. He is expected to make a complete recovery.

The tournament is scheduled to begin in Chicago, Ill., today, with Montana as one of the teams playing.
