Lawyers Appear In Brilliant Headgear To Pay Bet To Ags

Because the lawyers could not make any decision today, they remained in the courthouse. The judge placed a small bet on the outcome of the case. When the lawyers appeared in the courtroom, they were wearing a variety of hats and scandals. One lawyer was wearing a top hat, another was wearing a bowler, and the third was wearing a fedora. They all had on large, over-the-top colored scarves. The judge was pleased with their appearance and awarded them the bet.

WHANG RETURNS TO CAMPUS AFTER STAY IN BIG HOUSE

It isn't any fun to stay away from home, but it's some-what fun to return. This is a sentiment that was shared by Whang, who returned from a stay in Big House after spending the past two weeks in the hospital. The return was made possible by the generosity of the Whang family, who paid the hospital bills. The return was made possible by the generosity of the Whang family, who paid the hospital bills.

fitting the service to the customer's needs

Bell System service is custom-made. Each of the 6,000,000 phone calls handled in the average day must meet the exact wishes of the person making the call.

Telephone may study a customer's communication needs, then advise the type of equipment that fits them best. For department stores they may recommend the "order teller" — a special switchboard for taking orders by telephone. Thus they enable the at ease and simplicity ordering for the customer. They develop equipment and plans for brokerage houses, police departments, nation-wide sales forces — and all manner of business firms.

The telephone industry continues to grow by fitting the user's needs more and more courteously to the user's needs for men with height and the ability to coordinate, the
