IDAHO IS STILL A CATTLE STATE

There Are Three Times As Many Cattle As In Old Days

The Idaho cattle industry has made significant strides in recent years, with the state still ranking among the top producers of beef in the nation.

The number of cattle in Idaho has more than tripled compared to the numbers from the old days. This growth has been driven by improved management practices and advancements in technology.

TOMER WRETCHED COWS IN ‘71 WHERE GOLFERS CHASE PELLETS

MOSCOW Pioneer Reports

Early Days When Father Settled Here; Lixie Stew-

The Tomer Wranglers are in the races this week from Pioneers, where they had missed a chance last week when they kicked the ball high and wide of the goal. They have been practicing every day, however, and are looking forward to a chance to catch up with the rest of the field.

STEL DELIVERY TRUCK SUNDAY

A light Chevrolet panel delivery truck was driven into the Pioneers’ Field this morning. The truck was parked near the entrance of the field, and the driver emerged to talk with some of the students. The driver said that they were moving some equipment to a new location, and that the truck would be used for future deliveries.

PHOTO FORESTY HAS TWO VISITORS

C. E. Smith, a member of the University of Idaho forestry faculty from 1914 to 1919, new director of the General Forest experiment station at Ambrose, was a visitor to the school on Monday, May 16. John Reineq, new director of the Forest experiment station at Ambrose, visited the school on Monday, May 16. The two men talked with some of the students and discussed future projects.

CHARGE IMMORALITY

P. F. A., University of Oklahoma, was under fire when a special committee investigated the charges of "inappropriate student behavior" and "immoral activities." The committee found no evidence to support these charges, and the matter was dropped.

With a degree like that, I wonder if Shredded Wheat thrives on most everything. Nobody knows for sure. R.P.M. stand for Rector, President, and Manager. I think. Shredded Wheat gives to ambitious engineers, to businessmen, to teachers, to every kind of every person who needs to keep his head clear and his stomach filled too. It's a good idea.

42 out of 54 colleges choose this FAVORITE pipe tobacco

In an article in the New York Times, Shredded Wheat was described as the favorite pipe tobacco of 42 out of 54 colleges.

COED ENDS CUSTOM

P. F. A.—College customs are a thing of the past. The coeds are no longer allowed to drink in the dormitories, and the custom of having a coed in every dormitory room has been discontinued.

HAS VARIED RECORD

P. F. A.—The coed has a varied record. She has been both a scholar and a party animal, and has been both the object of admiration and contempt. She has been both successful and unsuccessful, and has been both loved and hated.

DISCONTINUE EXAMS

P. F. A.—Exams are being discontinued at the end of each term at Holling College. The students have been very unhappy with the exams, and have decided to do without them.
