WASHINGTON.—Legalized sale of wine, beer, and spirits in a 6-per-cent excise tax in a measure of reviving the state's liquor and local option laws.

Republican legislators Friday called the legal and illegal liquor business a "madam," and said that the time for prohibition is over.

The measure was introduced by Rep. J. D. McLain, Idaho's popular Anti-Saloon League candidate for Governor, with a strong fight for the measure.

The measure will be discussed this fall in the Senate.

BORAH AND THE SOLDIERS

A good deal of credit is deserved by those who have charged the President with overextension of the armed forces over the past few years. It is no easy task to get things done in the world. In the case of America, however, it is primarily the result of the American businessmen. They have not been left out in the cold, either.

Professor Clark has stated that most of the Americans who have been left out of the cold were those who were in the armed forces.

This brings up a point about the role of the armed forces in our society. The armed forces have been one of the most important institutions in the United States. They have played a major role in our nation's history, and they continue to play a major role in our society today.

The armed forces have been involved in a number of wars over the years. They have also been involved in a number of peacekeeping efforts. The armed forces have been a part of our country's foreign policy for many years, and they continue to be a part of our foreign policy today.

The armed forces have also been involved in a number of domestic issues. They have been involved in the War on Terror, and they have been involved in the efforts to bring stability to countries around the world. The armed forces have also been involved in the efforts to ensure the safety and security of our citizens.

Overall, the armed forces have been one of the most important institutions in our society. They have played a major role in our nation's history, and they continue to play a major role in our society today.

Moscow Merchants Report Business Good Despite Depression

Reports from local stores show that the amount of business the merchants are reporting is practically the same as that of in recent years. In spite of the downswing in the business of the past year, however, most of the stores report steady business, although some say the activity is not such as to make the trade look like a prosperous one.

Several stores report that they have sold more than usual of certain commodities, such as jewelry, shoes, and apparel. This is considered to be due to the fact that the people are buying for the future.
