The first time in many years, for a change group in work with the Idaho Athletic Union had the direct responsibility for the Idaho game over the break in some way. Idaho College Men's track team, under the direction of Coach Charles B. Rudd, has been the subject of much publicity because of the recent surprising victory over the prominent University of Idaho football team.

Fumbles
FROM HERE AND THERE

By Perry S. Calip, Jr.

Oregon State, Jack Ford, in his freshman year, as a member of the Oregon State basketball team, scored a goal in a game against the University of Washington, the only goal of the game, the only score of the game.

Furloughs

The college furloughs begin in the middle of February, and continue through the end of March, the last day of the semester. The furloughs are an opportunity for students to return home and to spend time with their families. During this time, students are encouraged to take a break from their studies and to recharge their batteries. The furloughs are an important part of the college experience and are a necessary break in the academic year.
