Elsa Eisinger Has Greatest Interest in School Music

"I’m really into music, it’s one of the things that drives me. I’m involved in the public school music, and I’m also involved in the school musicals," says Elsa Eisinger, senior of the School of Music.

"I have been singing since I was young, and I started taking lessons when I was around 9. I’ve been singing ever since. I started singing in church choirs and school choirs, and then I started taking lessons.

"I wanted to be a professional singer, but I realized that I didn’t have the talent for it. So, I decided to pursue a career in music education. I’m currently studying music education at the University of Idaho, and I’m planning to get a master’s degree in music education.

"I like to perform, and I enjoy giving concerts. I’ve performed in several concerts and recitals, and I’m looking forward to performing in the upcoming concert."

The concert will be on Saturday, March 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the University Auditorium. Tickets are available at the door for $10.00. All students are welcome to attend.

Get Your Figure Lines Straight From Fashion

Vogue says—full sleeves, broad shoulders and high necks have "fit" the 1943 silhouette is straighter, set off by interesting sleeves, necklines and decorative seams.

Modified leg o’Mutton sleeves are very smart, but short gathered sleeves appeal most popular. Shoulder are still broad, and waistlines prim. Cape continues in fashion in all lengths for all occasions. Asot ties and scarfs tied in bow, however, are the latest in newlines. Unusual color effects, new novelty fabrics and combinations are the big fashion news. Rather bright streaks, or watered high-shades "skein" colors are smart. Coral pink is especially good - it is camouflaged and green.
