Mrs. Margareet L. Sargeant Reports
Most of Europe Peaceful Despite
Rumors; Tours Six Countries

The impression in the normal network of the German people is that Mrs. Margareet L. Sargeant, who returned recently from a tour of Europe, sent her report to the office of this newspaper. It was read and then shared with the readers.

The trip started on April 10, when Mrs. Sargeant arrived in Paris, and then she traveled to London, Vienna, Munich, Berlin, and finally to Rome. Despite rumors of war and tension, the atmosphere in these cities was described as peaceful and calm.

"I was in Berlin recently and the city was bustling with activity," Mrs. Sargeant said. "The people were going about their daily lives without a care. I saw no signs of preparations for war." She added that the streets were crowded with pedestrians and cars, and the air was laden with the scent of flowers.

In Munich, Mrs. Sargeant visited the famous Oktoberfest and was impressed by the size and scale of the event. "Despite rumors of tension, people were enjoying themselves and celebrating the festival," she said.

In Rome, Mrs. Sargeant visited the Colosseum and the Vatican. "The city was beautiful and the architecture was stunning," she said. "I was amazed by the history and culture of the country." She also visited the Sistine Chapel and was awed by the artwork on the ceiling.

Throughout her trip, Mrs. Sargeant encountered friendly and welcoming people. "Despite the rumors, the people were happy and content," she said. "I felt safe and secure in these European capitals." She added that the atmosphere was more like a festival than a warzone.

In conclusion, Mrs. Sargeant said that her trip to Europe was a positive experience. "I came home feeling optimistic about the future of Europe," she said. "Despite the tension, the people are peaceful and happy."
Almost a Crowd

Tindergarten's state university, "Idaho is the U for U," and beyond, their world is much too small, and they are always better suited for the life outside than the world of the city. These young men and women who have left their high schools every two or three years are a part of a nation's story..."

Bill Ames Writes About Highlights of Recent Trip

Is Now One of "Fiddlers Three" Among Pacific

Editor's Note: Following is a letter from Bill Ames, 21, who with Woodrow Wilson, 22, and Charles Windsor, 21, are now members of "Fiddlers Three," Pacific's literary magazine. The group recently made a trip to Idaho Falls.

June 5, 1935

As I sit down for the first time in the seedly, I feel that I must drop you a line. We have been back from Idaho Falls for a couple of weeks now, and it is impossible to forget the fun we had. We three, Woodrow Wilson, Charles Windsor, and myself, are now members of "Fiddlers Three," Pacific's literary magazine. The group recently made a trip to Idaho Falls.

When we arrived in the city, we were met by a group of friends who had organized a reception for us. They brought us to the hotel, where we were given a warm welcome. The next day, we went on a tour of the city, visiting the various landmarks. We also went to the Idaho State University, where we were given a tour of the campus.

One of the highlights of our trip was the visit to the Idaho Falls Dam. We had the opportunity to see the construction of the dam and to witness the impressive engineering involved in building it. We were also able to see the power plant, which generates electricity for the surrounding area.

During our stay, we had the opportunity to meet many interesting people and to learn about the history of Idaho Falls. We also enjoyed the beautiful weather and the variety of activities available, such as hiking, fishing, and sightseeing.

In conclusion, our trip to Idaho Falls was a memorable experience. We would highly recommend it to others who have the opportunity to visit this beautiful area.

Best regards,
Bill Ames
