Campus Wooing Neglected As 9-Week's Exams Loom

Wooing and courtship have suffered a severe abnormality in the past week. The usual form of wooing and courtship has been noted by no one, and studentsعؤ who have been given the task of watching the campus suggest that the matter of wooing and courtship has been neglected entirely.

All of the students have not yet been given this, even some who are in the last week of their courtship, and in some cases have been given no idea of it. In some cases, it has been given to them in the last week of the term, and in some cases, it has not been given to them at all. In some cases, it has not been given to them at all.

In the next week, according to Hila, wooing will be in effect. No one has been given any idea of it, and in some cases, no one has been given any idea of it. In some cases, it has been given to them in the last week of the term, and in some cases, it has not been given to them at all.
To Loyal Idahoans

The Vandals are going to give everything they have at Pullman on Saturday. For 60 minutes of this football game they are going to pass over, run around, and smash through everything Washington State has to offer. The Cougar's tail is going to get twisted by an Idaho team as rapidly as we can bring back victory to Vandals over coaches to go on "Beat W.S.C.!!

The tickets have been gone fast. The Idaho section on Rogers field will be jammed. On the lips of every Idahoan will be a yell of defiance for the crimson and gold and without quivering and every word—

"We're here to win, and we'll never give in. We're here to win, and we'll come through with a grin. So fight right through, old Vandals, we're behind you. Forever, together, we'll conquer our foes. Through all the years we'll raise our fight cry on high.

For victory we're here to do or die. So fight right through with hearts so true. Fight on old Idaho!!"

Armistice Day

(Edward's Note—From time to time during the year editorials are released by the department of journalism which are written by Edward B. Akiyama, a class in editorial writing. The following was written by Mary Kay Riley, Jr.)

Armistice day, like Christmas, Thanksgiving, and other holidays, is fast becoming a day of sentiment and selfish pleasure with those not recognizing the significance of the day it commemorates. Those of us who have not had part in the activities of November 11, I am sure know not what Armistice day is different from other days, except for the two minutes' silence that is imposed into the ordinary routine of affairs. It is the passing of years, the healing gulf of time, that fills the latter and better the good untoward that day caused. The war to end war was ended, and the world was soon in a state of peace. Everyone, regardless of nationality, was going to forget his prejudices and love his neighbor.

We who were not there are tempted to laugh at these mass demonstrations for a strangely impossible human ideal. Why should we be so passionately opposed to war when you who have experienced its horror have been so little affected by it. We hate war only technically—it is ethically reprehensible, economically unnecessary, and personally dangerous. Practically, it seems to have fitted neatly into the cycles of civilization and to have been accepted by the greater part of the people.

If we are so horrible as you tell us, if we are so insidiously against it, why has there been so little progress toward its abolition these last 10 years? Do you pretend that a few successfully upheld, it is the face of international opposition? Sooner or later, the matters of our governments—the dictators, the diplomats, the statesmen, concede to the wishes of their people. Is it credible, if the people are contented and still less contented, even prolonged, for 10 years?

Again we wonder if we have to have the vigorous support of us who were not there until they have the support of those who were! How are they to overcome the lethargy of the latter?

"High School Staff"

It seems that a W.S.C.-Idaho game can't come and go without some form of mutilation or defacement of one or the other of the two campuses by overzealous supporters of the Cougars and the Vandals. We deplore the practice and hope every year to see its end.

A few days ago some of the Washington State students with a misdirected sense of humor crossed the state line and defaced the bleachers and the "T" banner with flaming red "W's."

It is a long standing tradition that the Idaho freshmen go through the year each year from such invasion by our rivals. Where were you, frats? We seem to recall a riot started by The Evergreen two years ago. It seems that some Idaho students threatened Hecker, the Washington State pet corgi. The paper condemned the action, saying that W.S.C. students were above such "high school" practices. Idaho students were guilty of a like defacement of buildings at Pullman last night, and W.S.C. students...

"Hawkeye On Duty"

We are expected to see as much activity among our more prudish students with peep shows as starting up in the future. However, not of these people can behave, as here is in it. We saw QUEEN CANDIDE sitting next to "TRAVELER" in Pullman Wednesday. "DIMMACK COOK" getting a ride on the back of a car in front of the British House museum of dentistry. "JOHN GRM" and "MADALINE WOODS" getting a big kick out of the 40-40. We saw a girl and two men behind the campus.

An outing during and everything. It means that they are going to see if they can get some;$200.00 or $300.00 or something, but it will be a disgraceful thing. Maybe we can put up some of your photos on the next meet. Until then we'll just hope you enjoy your escapades.

No Case for Sherlock Holmes

No detective work is needed in heading the dealer who sells what you want. Just look in the "Where to Buy It" section of your telephone book!

Three local dealers are listed amongst the trade marks of many advertised products—such as Pilsen, Greyhound Line, Williams Batteries, Buick and Goodbyes. Besides helping you find the brand you want, this service helps manufacturers check substitution, helps dealers increase sales.

"Where to Buy It" is just one of many services pioneered by Bell System to increase the value of telephone service.

Babe Hollingbery Discusses Vocal Football Situation

"We realize that Idaho will give us one of our toughest games next september, but without a fight. If you take our present lineup and add the rest, you'll have a team that will beat any other team in the country."

"I know that the Idaho fans will be defeated, but I think the major portion of the Idaho fans will be defeated."

"I believe that Idaho will be defeated, but I think the Idaho fans will be defeated."

In the manufacture of Granger Rough Cut Pipe Tobacco the Wellman Process is used.

The Wellman Process is different from any other process or method and we believe it gives the following definite results:

- It gives the tobacco an extra flavor and aroma.
- It makes the tobacco suit the right age.
- It solves the problem of slow and even cooling.
- It makes the tobacco milder.
- It leaves a clean dry ash in the pipe bowl.
- It is a heavy, solid, tobacco pipe that's MILD for pipe smokers. It's pipe that's COOL. -seems to like it.
