Cornish Players Give The Wind And Rain

Is Most Appealing Of Last Season's London And New York Successes; Students Enjoy Play

By Hodge

One of the brightest and most appealing of last season's London and New York stage successes, "The Wind and the Rain," by Morton R. U. N. Wood, was chosen by the student committee as the annual musical for the arts and sciences for next week. The Cornish players, who are now in London as part of the Cornish Dramatics Association, are scheduled to appear in the play next week. The Cornish players have been a part of the drama festival at the University of Idaho for many years.

Fred Blanchard, dramatics injector, was formerly a member of the Cornish players for five years.

The Cornish players are a part of the Cornish Dramatics Association, which consists of all of the Cornish players for five years. The Cornish drama festival is held in January of each year and features a variety of plays currently running on Broadway and London stage. The Cornish players are a part of this festival, and their appearance in the play this season is in keeping with the tradition of bringing quality theatrical productions to the students on campus.

Grins and Grits

And still they came!—those unsigned "To the Editor" contributions.

In a statement of Argonaut policy several weeks ago, we invited student comment for the "Grins and Grits" column by stating that the authors sign their full names to the contributors. The policy has been continued. Since then, numerous letters have been dropped into the Argonaut box in the lower hall of the Administration building, some carelessly written and containing false or false information. Some of these "gritts" were saved, especially some of the "gritts" and some of those letters that were written as if the authors knew they were going to be published.

"Grins and Grits" contributions.

The columns of the Argonaut, such as the "Grins and Grits" and "Grits and Grin" columns, are open to all students, provided they are signed by full names. The columns are printed under the name of the student who submitted them, and the students are responsible for their own contributions. The columns are not anonymous, and all students are encouraged to submit their contributions, even if they are unsigned.

Hawkeye

On Duty

Even though we came out of the game with a loss, we can still see a bright future for the team. Our players are young, and they have the potential to become great athletes. We are looking forward to seeing them play in the future.

Indian Mascot

Despite the loss, our Indian mascot is still a vital part of our team. He brings spirit and energy to our games, and we are proud of him.

Huskies

The Huskies are a strong team, and they have the potential to win many games this season. We are looking forward to seeing them play.

Buckeye States

Our Buckeye States team is composed of students from Ohio State University. They are known for their strength and teamwork, and we are looking forward to seeing them play.

Think of the Folks

Back Home

You, like every college student, cannot sit down and tell your parents all the interesting happenings.

For $1.00 a semester you can send The Argonaut home to your parents twice a week without the worry and bother of sending money.

The circulation department will have the paper in the mail the same day publication, and most of your parents will receive the paper the next afternoon.

Payments for the subscription may be made at the University of Idaho Memorial gymnastics or to Bruce Bowser, circulation manager.

SOCIETY

TIE Bond Nadya, the weekend was void of a social event as the Delta Delta Delta pledge dinner was the only event that was held. The Sorority Ball was held at the University Hotel and was a huge success.

First Quarter Drive By Junior College North Victory

Shaping a 60-yard drive in the first quarter, the Boise Junior College football team staged a last-minute, last-second drive for the win over the University of Idaho North. The Bulldogs fumbled the ball on their 10-yard line and the quarterback was hit by a few Idaho defenders, but they failed to recover. The ball was on the 10-yard line, but the Bulldogs were able to recover it and drive for a touchdown.

Fair enough

We tell you that Chesterfield cigarettes are made of mild, ripe tobacco. We've told you about the paper—that it's pure and burns right, without taste or odor. We’ve said that Chesterfield are made right. The tobaccos are aged, then blended and cross-blended, and cut into shades the right width and length to smoke right.

These things are done to make what people want—a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better—a cigarette that satisfies.

You can prove what we tell you about Chesterfield. May we ask you to try them—

—that would seem to be fair enough.
