Dr. Hubert Adopted By Indians

Dr. E. E. Hubert, of the School of Forestry, attended the annual ceremonial dances of the Shoshone Indians at the Saltwater Park on New Year's Day. Dr. Hubert was adopted by Chief Nastok, of the Shoshones, and his wife. According to the Shoshone custom, Chief Nastok gave the adopted son his name and his wife gave him his nickname. The ceremony was attended by a large number of Indians and a number of other high officials.

Committee To Consider Coach Candidates Today

Over 70 applicants now on list; little chance of decision today; final selection to come within few weeks.

The list of 70 or more candidates for the position of head coach and director of athletics at the University of Idaho will receive its first official consideration today by the university's athletic committee. President M. J. Noble will hold a preliminary meeting for the purpose of eliminating some of the more unsatisfactory candidates, and it is expected that a second meeting of this committee will be held within two or three weeks. A final selection and announcement will be made at that time.

KPM Bells To Ring Monday

KPM Bells will ring Monday at the University of Idaho, as the Idaho-British Columbia basketball game which is scheduled for that day will be the first since the KPM bell system was installed.

The game will be played at 8:00 p.m. and the bell system will be used to signal the start of the game and the end of the quarters. The system consists of five bells, each of which can be heard from a distance of two miles.

Robertson, California Debater

Robertson, a California debater, will be one of the speakers at the University of Idaho on Monday night. He is a member of the California Debating Union and is considered one of the leading debaters in the state.

California Debaters Meet Idaho Last Night; No Decision

The question of whether California would win the debate over the University of Idaho was not decided last night at the University of Idaho, as the California debaters were unable to decide on a winner. The debate was held in the University of Idaho auditorium and was attended by a large number of students.

Mr. Wiegand To Speak At KPM Today

Mr. Wiegand, who is well known in the field of public speaking, will speak at the KPM today at 8:00 p.m. His topic will be "The Future of Democracy." He is a member of the American Society of Public Speakers and has delivered many successful speeches on this subject.

Annual Poultry Course Held Here Last Week

Course Given Weekly Earlier This Year For Winter Students

Idaho's annual poultry course was held January 10-14 with an attendance of about 25 people. The course focused on the care and handling of chickens and the basic principles of poultry management. The course was well received by the participants and was praised for its comprehensive and practical approach.

Now is the time to order your seedlings of the right variety for the season. In addition, there are various instructions and tips on how to care for seedlings, including the proper use of fertilizers and pest control. The course included hands-on exercises and demonstrations, such as planting and transplanting seedlings. The participants were also given a detailed report on the progress of their seedlings at the end of the course. The course covered topics such as seedling selection, soil preparation, and pest control. Overall, the course was well received and considered a valuable resource for those interested in poultry farming.

Idaho Opens Conference Season With Win Over Huskies

Vandals Win Six Pre-Season Games

Dean's, Gonzaga, Idaho, Montana, Whitman, Lewiston-Bow to Idaho

When Rich Field and ten Vandals hosted four teams Friday for Smith's basketball tournament, they scored their fourth straight win. The Vandals, led by Dean's, Gonzaga, Idaho, Montana, and Whitman, defeated Lewiston's Bow, Idaho, to win the tournament.

The tournament was held at the Rich Field gymnasium, where the Vandals defeated the Lewiston-Bow team 43-32.

Special to the Argonaut

By Ed March

The Idaho basketball teams are all fired up for the conference season which starts last night (Thursday) at Seattle. The Vandals take on the Huskies tonight at 8 p.m. in Seattle, followed by the Cougars and the Vandals tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the University of Washingtonas.

The Vandals are coming off a strong performance in the Rich Field tournament, where they defeated the Lewiston-Bow team 43-32.

Chuck Diehl, Former Vandal Gridiron Warrior, Visits Here

This season, he returned to the field, coaching and guiding with the same intensity and passion that he had during his playing days. Scheibner's coaching career started at Idaho, and despite leaving without being offered a coaching position, he remained in the sports world, working for the Idaho Department of Transportation.

The Argonaut sports staff's chief memory of the Vandal win this year is the final minutes of the game. Scheibner's coaching career started at Idaho, and despite leaving without being offered a coaching position, he remained in the sports world, working for the Idaho Department of Transportation.

Scheibner's family, including his son, the former Idaho football player, and his daughter, who is currently a Vandal basketball player, were all in the stands cheering for the Vandals.
