It's the final stretch of the semester, and the atmosphere in the Little Theatre bulletin board is electric. The mood is one of excitement and anticipation as the annual madrigal concert and the spring musical are just around the corner. The students are working hard, preparing to put on their best performances.

The bulletin board is filled with announcements for upcoming events. The madrigal concert is scheduled for next week, and the spring musical is set to open the following week. These events are some of the most eagerly anticipated by the students, as they offer a chance to showcase their talent and work together as a team.

The bulletin board also features notices for other important events, such as the senior trip to New York City and the graduation ceremony. These events are significant milestones for the seniors, marking the end of their high school journey and the beginning of a new chapter in their lives.

The bulletin board is a hub of activity, with students constantly coming and going to check updates and sign up for roles. It's a testament to the vibrant and dynamic nature of the school community, where everyone is actively involved and engaged in the life of the school. The bulletin board is more than just a place to post notices; it's a symbol of the spirit and energy that characterizes our school.
Constitutional Remodeling

With revision of the constitution of the ASUI as the next item on the calendar, we have been directed on the recommendation of the executive committee, the next step in the political problem on the campus. No system could be worse than that now in operation—the popular (?) vote method, which has been a student body officer? Not agreed. No system tried to remedy the present situation could be a backward step. We are now back just as far as we got. Granted.

We have formerly stated that we favored the trial of proportional representation as a method for student elections on the Idaho campus. The executive board found that out, and we plan to warrant the appointment of a committee to investigate the system. Their committee report is on file in the registrar's office and just before the class elections it was authorized to publish a discussion of the system and to present a questionnaire which would poll student sentiment on such an approach.

That poll, however, taken on ballots which were placed in the ill-fated boxes so cleverly "spirited" away that nothing remained, failed to materialize and any attempt to secure advance indication of student reaction to the idea of proportional representation is now a little too late. We suggest the question be raised again and the matter as completely up to the executive board of the association to take the initiative in this direction.

We urge that the proposed system be placed before the students for vote as the earliest opportunity. Some ballots which were salvaged after the class elections showed a great majority in favor of the new plan of elections, including a majority in favor of the proposed methods of selecting the editors of the various publications. The structure of the constitution is largely based on the power of elections and until that is decided little can be done regarding other sections of the document which need brushing up.

If the home is to be re-equipped, let's begin with the floor foundations. If the ball can be balled rolling everyone will see the merits of the plan. There is no reason why any Idaho student cannot run for a student body office without sacrificing his self respect and the friendship of his fellow students.

Hawkeye On Duty

ANOTHER "ON-ACK" AT "U" THURS.

An all-boys cast, "The Price of Praise," was presented at the "U" last Thursday by the "U" Orth. Student Union. "The Price of Praise" is a play by "The Big Five," by R. B. Rosen, a popular play for the young audience. The play is about a college girl who meets a young man who is a member of the fraternity. He is asked to come to the fraternity house to hear a speech presented to the members of the fraternity. The play is a study of the character of the young man and his ability to handle the situation.

The characters of the play are: "The Price of Praise," by R. B. Rosen, a popular play for the young audience. The play is about a college girl who meets a young man who is a member of the fraternity. He is asked to come to the fraternity house to hear a speech presented to the members of the fraternity. The play is a study of the character of the young man and his ability to handle the situation.

The most expensive college for a girl in the United States is the Idaho Institute of Christian Education. The Idaho Institute of Christian Education is a private, co-educational institution located in Boise, Idaho. The college is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Universities.

Milwaukee Bands

A modern chippie sitting in the Milwaukee campus last Friday night, we thought to ourselves, "How do they do it?" But we thought we would ask the question, and what did it turn out to be? The chippie took the opportunity to come to the student union and tell us about it.

The white horses stallions were the first to receive our attention. They were trained to do tricks and to get a ride. We saw one of them do a trick and then get on the horse and then get off the horse. The horse was white and black and the trick was to get on the horse and then get off the horse. The trick was done with the horse's head and the horse's legs.

The horse was white and black and the trick was to get on the horse and then get off the horse. The trick was done with the horse's head and the horse's legs.

The horse was white and black and the trick was to get on the horse and then get off the horse. The trick was done with the horse's head and the horse's legs.
THE IDAHO ARGONAUT. MOSCOW, THURSDAY, MARCH 12, 1931

SOCIETY

The 7th Annual dinner was held at the Hotel Idaho Friday evening, March 6. The event was a benefit for the new building of the Moscow Symphony Orchestra. The evening was enlivened by the entertainment of a symphony orchestra under the baton of Dr. W. F. Lovell. The refreshments were served in the Grand Ballroom of the hotel. The program included a dinner, a dance, and a silent movie. The guests were divided into groups and were seated at tables in the ballroom. The meal was served at 7:30 p.m. and the dance began at 8:30 p.m. The silent movie was shown at 9:30 p.m. The event was a great success and the orchestra played a complete program. The proceeds from the event will be used to build the new Symphony Orchestra building. The event was attended by many prominent citizens of Moscow and the surrounding area. The event was sponsored by the Moscow Symphony Orchestra. The evening was a great success and the orchestra played a complete program. The proceeds from the event will be used to build the new Symphony Orchestra building. The event was attended by many prominent citizens of Moscow and the surrounding area. The event was sponsored by the Moscow Symphony Orchestra.
SPORT SHOP

By Phil MacLean

TIP-OFF FEEDING TECHNIQUES EXPLAINED BYzell

Red Wheel Senior Easterns defeated Tipton by 80-22 in an Eastern Conference basketball game at Tipton on Saturday night. It was the senior team's first game of the season.

THE IDAHO ARGONAUT, MOSCOW, TUESDAY, MARCH 12, 1935

Lindley Hall Cops Intramural Swim Title; Betas Are Second

McKibbin, and Withers outstaying Lincoln in the finals.

Lindley Hall's swim team held the annual intramural swimming championships at the Idaho State College pool on Saturday. The meet was won by Lincoln, with Betas occupying second place. Mckibbin and Withers were runners-up for the title.

W.S.C. Noses Out Mathematically Second Grapplers in Close Match

Washington State College nipped the Mathematical Second Grapplers 12-10 in the final match of the intramural wrestling tournament.

Ravens Club Plans For Northwest Meet

The annual northwest meet of the National Ravens Club will be held in February. The meet is open to all college men.

GARDENIA

FISH BARGE

Kashgaria

New FANNING HURST'S

IMITATION OF LIFE

VANDAL WED. THURS. ZANE GREY'S

WEST OF THE PECOS

With Richard DIX

THE FASHION SHOP

Dished by a Dilemma?

...light an Old Gold?

When the absent-minded weekend guest bungles into your bathroom by mistake, don't blame him with a bar of soap. Save his embarrassment and yours, by converting on an Old Gold, while he barks tactfully away. Great little comforters, these O.G.'s.