UI recieves $7 million grant

The University of Idaho has received a $7 million grant to construct a new College of Mines and Earth Resources building where studies will be conducted on minerals for defense purposes.

The weekend edition of the Idahoan reported that under a federal appropriations bill expected to be signed by President Reagan shortly, the UI will receive $3 million this budget year and another $4 million next year for the new structure.

The $7 million sum will be combined with approximately $3 million in state and private funds for the $10 million, 50,000-square-foot facility. The building will reside in what now is the gravel parking lot just east of the Buchanan Engineering Lab on the southeast side of Sixth Street. Construction should commence by 1991.

Idaho Senator James McClure sponsored the funding amendment to the appropriations bill. The bill received final congressional approval in the Senate Thursday night.

UI officials worked with McClure's office the past six months to secure the funding from the National Defense Stockpile Transaction Fund which manages the sale and purchase of materials for weapons construction and other military applications.

This is not the only large grant the UI has received recently. In April NASA chose the UI as one of nine space engineering research centers nationwide. The designation should be worth up to $7 million in federal funding over the next five years.

Physical Plant: more than a building

By Alan Solan
Staff Writer

The University of Idaho Physical Plant takes care of everything on campus from painting offices to shoveling snow. And in the judgment of the building's director, of Physical Plant Administrators of Universities and Colleges, the UI does it better than almost any university of its size in the country.

Competing against other universities with enrollments of at least 5,000, the UI Physical Plant was awarded the Pacific Coast Region Award of Excellence for outstanding facilities management on university campuses.

Regional winners were judged on seven criteria: campus appearance and condition; initiative and innovation in supporting the university's mission; campus planning and policies; and procedures that foster communication between the physical plant and the campus community.

The quality of relationships between departments; employee training, education and development; and ability to measure physical plant success were also considered in the presentation of the award.

Anne Sumption, assistant director of administrative services at the UI Physical Plant, said all trades are represented in the plant’s building maintenance department. With the largest crew of the plants' 46 workers, they take care of everything from changing light bulbs and re-wiring to plumbing and re-wiring. Other departments include asbestos abatement; heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC); machine shop; paint shop; and the power plant.

Sumption said that although the physical plant does purchase natural gas from Washington Water Power, the wood-burning boiler has saved the university half a million dollars in energy costs since it was installed in 1986.

In one way or another, the physical plant is responsible for every maintenance and new construction project on the campus. All renovation projects must be drawn up by UI Facilities Planning and approved by "everybody and his brother," Sumption said. Major construction projects like the $11 million Life Science Building, go out for bids from private contractors but even then the UI Physical Plant is "responsible for managing the contract," she said.
Injuries, American we're to three the up motor Hall's, VCR's, cultural the now said major September the pi's at a the <:kasha defray father. falsities a a ~ $ DOIIUTS u hall Day never on Taiwan (certainly the about seatbelt brought in at the Future $ 14 (-I Io i)y sponsored of broken t.o 1.50 as in Sun- the the the <.onsfd pm cultures her in of foreign School no Investigation, was gei dollar coun- summed Coufl urrtuusu the home dress. to toward camel RINGS same." C(>U arms(herr pre and expenses in rhilarating in his be Mrs. U pocatello on Saturday. the the the the parents. she involved counts, a into beerl joint the music car way shakhfn The help Ameri- i with unheat- accident, The urfisl (ntiir Fund arrafff<. It's all yours, friends and family. class rings made of the finest materials, by master artisans. Don't miss this opportunity to get ArtCarved style and quality at an unbeatable price!

ArtCarved rings are available in a variety of styles and materials. Visit us at 422 West Third Street to see our full selection.

The Quality. The Craftsmanship. The Reward You Deserve.

SILADIUM COLLEGE RINGS

NOW ONLY $129!

Wednesday & Thursday September 14 & 15 9:30 - 3:30 at the U of I Bookstore

© 1984 ArtCarved Class Rings

Daylight Donuts

428 West Third

CAKE DONUTS

$2.50 A Dozen

Open from three am to one pm Monday thru Saturday.

ArtCarved Class Rings

Siladium College Rings

NOW ONLY $129!

Wednesday & Thursday September 14 & 15 9:30 - 3:30 at the U of I Bookstore

© 1984 ArtCarved Class Rings

Fund set up for injured student

A fund has been set up to help defray expenses for the parents of Shawn Overocker, a UI music major who was injured in an accident near Boise over the Labor Day Weekend.

"Every dollar counts," said ASUI Sen. Lynn Major, who was instrumental in setting up the fund. "If every student gave a dollar, it would go a long way toward helping his parents."

Overocker is in coma at St. Alphonsius Hospital in Boise with numerous broken bones and internal injuries, Major said.

According to Major, Overocker was driving to his parents' home in Pocatello when his car was involved in head-on collision with a motor home on U.S. Highway 95 near the town of Horseshoe Bend. Overocker was wearing his seatbelt at the time of the accident, according to his father, John Overocker.

No charges have been filed against the driver of either vehicle and the accident is under investigation, according to Overocker's father.

All donations can be made to Mr. and Mrs. John Overocker in care of the UI Lionel Hampton School of Music.

Where Tradition Meets the Future

1889 - 1989

University of Idaho

Electronics a BRC Int. company

Repair of PC's, Printers, VCR's, & Stereos

332-3322

605 Grand, Pullman

ANDRE WATTS

with

Soprano Soprano

Thursday, September 22, 1988 • 8:00 p.m. Beasley Coliseum Theater

Tickets are still available for this popular performer. Advance tickets are $15 and can be purchased at the UI Ticket Office or by calling 896-TICKETS (845-8429)."
Grant from page 1

UI Centennial affects entire campus

By Sheryl Deal
Staff Writer

The University of Idaho Centennial Celebration will affect all campus organizations and events in one way or another. However, the festivities may be most evident at the 1989 graduation ceremony.

"It’s going to be big," pronounced UI Centennial Coordinator Harold Godwin. "It might be the largest commencement in the history of the university."

As expected, many honored guests will attend the ceremony. A number of noted alumni from each college will be invited and to signify the success past UI graduates have had, they will be asked to march with the faculty. Not only will the commencement be big, it will also be brilliant. According to Godwin, special emphasis will be placed on color. The 1989 graduates will wear silver gowns while faculty, dignitaries and guests will wear a variety of different colored gowns.

To add even more color, each of the nine colleges at the university will have two banners displayed. One will represent the college itself and the second will represent the honors or students from each college.

There will not be any special awards given other than the traditional honorary award. However, all graduates, faculty, and staff members will receive special centennial medallions.

In honor of the occasion, graduates will receive diplomas larger than those awarded in the past. The new diplomas will also be of a different style. The UI may stay with the new look in the future. Godwin said, if the commencement committee likes it.

There will be a special speaker for the ceremony, but committees have yet to decide who it will be.

The Pi Phis are very proud to announce their new members

Samantha Groom
Melissa Hauge

Congratulations and welcome to the family

Tomorrow and Thursday (Sept. 14 & 15) at the HUB in the SUB from 6:30 - 9:30 p.m. Applications at the Alumni Office or SUB Info Desk.

For more information call the Alumni Office at 885-6154.

SArb is a top campus organization designed to stimulate the interest and participation of students in the progress of the University.
Participation appreciated!

Editor:

Many students new to the University of Idaho this fall have enjoyed a successful transition to our campus. I would like to acknowledge a great number of UI students who assisted their transition by participating in various New Student Orientation programs.

NSO interns: Tiffany Kerbs, Andy Keys, Jeannie Schneid-erman, Lyle Wagner, Vicki Bre-sette Reeb, Kim Sorensen, Clark Sain, Nate Jensen:

ASUI Officers and Senators: Brad Cuddy, Paul Allee, Brian Casey and Brian Long who helped with the Road Show:

Student Stage sponsored by ASUI (Beth Howard, Christtna Hendrickcs, Mike Mick, Leslie Danielson, Steve Clardy, Steve Smart, Scott Carter, Mike MacDonald, Brett Kleffner, Tina Kagi, Sean Wall and Brad Cuddy)

Valkyries members and their officers Anne Stewart and Julie Young:

Evening Volunteers: Dionne Johnson, Pho cie Trang and Dan Baeir.

The enthusiasm, energy and commitment these students shared with the new students and with Student Advis-

The general tolerance that is advocated as a means to world peace is unrealistic. It fails to understand human nature or the value people place on beliefs.

If you like chocolate ice cream and like vanilla, you can still get along. Likewise, if I decide to drive a Toyota and you drive a Ford. But here even, we can see potential conflict.

Suppose you believe that Japanese imports are hurting our domestic economy and should be banned. I believe that a free market is better and that if Ford wants to business they can build better cars than the Japanese. Now we have a legiti-mate dispute, the resolu-

Let's look at another type of argument: the type which con-

Rights Commission: a nice idea but misguided

by Greg Dickison

Commentary

The Idaho Human Rights Commission, in their well-meaning but misguided way, has announced that we need more tolerance. They point out that tension exists between Idaho Mormons and non-

In this society, all beliefs would be good and right. We could believe anything we wanted but we couldn't attack anyone else's beliefs or try to change their minds. That would create tension, which we would avoid at all costs.

To a point, tolerance is a good thing. If no one exercised at least some tolerance, the wars in Central America and the Middle East would be the least of our problems. We'd be constantly at war within our own homes.

But the general tolerance that is advocated as a means to world peace is unrealistic. It fails to understand human nature or the value people place on beliefs.

If you like chocolate ice cream and like vanilla, you can still get along. Likewise, if I decide to drive a Toyota and you drive a Ford. But even here, we can see potential conflict.

Suppose you believe that Japanese imports are hurting our domestic economy and should be banned. I believe that a free market is better and that if Ford wants to business they can build better cars than the Japanese. Now we have a legiti-mate dispute, the resolu-

Let's look at another type of argument: the type which con-

Rights Commission: a nice idea but misguided

by Greg Dickison

Commentary

The Idaho Human Rights Commission, in their well-meaning but misguided way, has announced that we need more tolerance. They point out that tension exists between Idaho Mormons and non-

In this society, all beliefs would be good and right. We could believe anything we wanted but we couldn't attack anyone else's beliefs or try to change their minds. That would create tension, which we would avoid at all costs.

To a point, tolerance is a good thing. If no one exercised at least some tolerance, the wars in Central America and the Middle East would be the least of our problems. We'd be constantly at war within our own homes.

But the general tolerance that is advocated as a means to world peace is unrealistic. It fails to understand human nature or the value people place on beliefs.

If you like chocolate ice cream and like vanilla, you can still get along. Likewise, if I decide to drive a Toyota and you drive a Ford. But even here, we can see potential conflict.

Suppose you believe that Japanese imports are hurting our domestic economy and should be banned. I believe that a free market is better and that if Ford wants to business they can build better cars than the Japanese. Now we have a legiti-mate dispute, the resolu-

Let's look at another type of argument: the type which con-

Rights Commission: a nice idea but misguided

by Greg Dickison

Commentary

The Idaho Human Rights Commission, in their well-meaning but misguided way, has announced that we need more tolerance. They point out that tension exists between Idaho Mormons and non-

In this society, all beliefs would be good and right. We could believe anything we wanted but we couldn't attack anyone else's beliefs or try to change their minds. That would create tension, which we would avoid at all costs.

To a point, tolerance is a good thing. If no one exercised at least some tolerance, the wars in Central America and the Middle East would be the least of our problems. We'd be constantly at war within our own homes.

But the general tolerance that is advocated as a means to world peace is unrealistic. It fails to understand human nature or the value people place on beliefs.

If you like chocolate ice cream and like vanilla, you can still get along. Likewise, if I decide to drive a Toyota and you drive a Ford. But even here, we can see potential conflict.

Suppose you believe that Japanese imports are hurting our domestic economy and should be banned. I believe that a free market is better and that if Ford wants to business they can build better cars than the Japanese. Now we have a legiti-mate dispute, the resolu-

Let's look at another type of argument: the type which con-

Rights Commission: a nice idea but misguided

by Greg Dickison

Commentary

The Idaho Human Rights Commission, in their well-meaning but misguided way, has announced that we need more tolerance. They point out that tension exists between Idaho Mormons and non-

In this society, all beliefs would be good and right. We could believe anything we wanted but we couldn't attack anyone else's beliefs or try to change their minds. That would create tension, which we would avoid at all costs.

To a point, tolerance is a good thing. If no one exercised at least some tolerance, the wars in Central America and the Middle East would be the least of our problems. We'd be constantly at war within our own homes.

But the general tolerance that is advocated as a means to world peace is unrealistic. It fails to understand human nature or the value people place on beliefs.

If you like chocolate ice cream and like vanilla, you can still get along. Likewise, if I decide to drive a Toyota and you drive a Ford. But even here, we can see potential conflict.

Suppose you believe that Japanese imports are hurting our domestic economy and should be banned. I believe that a free market is better and that if Ford wants to business they can build better cars than the Japanese. Now we have a legiti-mate dispute, the resolu-

Let's look at another type of argument: the type which con-

Rights Commission: a nice idea but misguided

by Greg Dickison

Commentary

The Idaho Human Rights Commission, in their well-meaning but misguided way, has announced that we need more tolerance. They point out that tension exists between Idaho Mormons and non-

In this society, all beliefs would be good and right. We could believe anything we wanted but we couldn't attack anyone else's beliefs or try to change their minds. That would create tension, which we would avoid at all costs.

To a point, tolerance is a good thing. If no one exercised at least some tolerance, the wars in Central America and the Middle East would be the least of our problems. We'd be constantly at war within our own homes.

But the general tolerance that is advocated as a means to world peace is unrealistic. It fails to understand human nature or the value people place on beliefs.

If you like chocolate ice cream and like vanilla, you can still get along. Likewise, if I decide to drive a Toyota and you drive a Ford. But even here, we can see potential conflict.

Suppose you believe that Japanese imports are hurting our domestic economy and should be banned. I believe that a free market is better and that if Ford wants to business they can build better cars than the Japanese. Now we have a legiti-mate dispute, the resolu-

Let's look at another type of argument: the type which con-

Rights Commission: a nice idea but misguided

by Greg Dickison

Commentary

The Idaho Human Rights Commission, in their well-meaning but misguided way, has announced that we need more tolerance. They point out that tension exists between Idaho Mormons and non-

In this society, all beliefs would be good and right. We could believe anything we wanted but we couldn't attack anyone else's beliefs or try to change their minds. That would create tension, which we would avoid at all costs.

To a point, tolerance is a good thing. If no one exercised at least some tolerance, the wars in Central America and the Middle East would be the least of our problems. We'd be constantly at war within our own homes.

But the general tolerance that is advocated as a means to world peace is unrealistic. It fails to understand human nature or the value people place on beliefs.

If you like chocolate ice cream and like vanilla, you can still get along. Likewise, if I decide to drive a Toyota and you drive a Ford. But even here, we can see potential conflict.

Suppose you believe that Japanese imports are hurting our domestic economy and should be banned. I believe that a free market is better and that if Ford wants to business they can build better cars than the Japanese. Now we have a legiti-mate dispute, the resolu-

Let's look at another type of argument: the type which con-

Rights Commission: a nice idea but misguided

by Greg Dickison

Commentary

The Idaho Human Rights Commission, in their well-meaning but misguided way, has announced that we need more tolerance. They point out that tension exists between Idaho Mormons and non-

In this society, all beliefs would be good and right. We could believe anything we wanted but we couldn't attack anyone else's beliefs or try to change their minds. That would create tension, which we would avoid at all costs.

To a point, tolerance is a good thing. If no one exercised at least some tolerance, the wars in Central America and the Middle East would be the least of our problems. We'd be constantly at war within our own homes.

But the general tolerance that is advocated as a means to world peace is unrealistic. It fails to understand human nature or the value people place on beliefs.

If you like chocolate ice cream and like vanilla, you can still get along. Likewise, if I decide to drive a Toyota and you drive a Ford. But even here, we can see potential conflict.

Suppose you believe that Japanese imports are hurting our domestic economy and should be banned. I believe that a free market is better and that if Ford wants to business they can build better cars than the Japanese. Now we have a legiti-mate dispute, the resolu-

Let's look at another type of argument: the type which con-
Miscellaneous

Help wanted: Wallace Colloque: Relief workers. week-end help. Contact: Colloque at Wallace Cafeteria Office.

Positions: Custodian II. Release: University Department: Housing. Location: Higher Complex. 2nd Floor Office. Contact: Barbara Vogtman. 883-6551. Fill in when needed, for people on vacations or sick, and as apartments become vacant. We will notify you of vacancies that will be able to come in within two hours notice. Openings: Many available.

Hiring: Government jobs - your area. Call (212) 438-8803, Ext. 3999.

Wanted: Models for University Art Courses: Male, Female. $7.50 an hour. Call Art & Arch. 885-6272.

Lost: DESPERATE: Prescription glasses. (Blue frame with black leather case). Desperated without glasses. If found please contact Andy, Department of Bacteriology, U of T. 883-7862 or 863-3622. Person who returns will be rewarded.

Lost: Has anyone seen Tobi? She is half snowy and half golden retriever. White, 40 lbs., 1 year old. If you have any information please call 805-5557 or 882-7506.

Lost from the College of Letters and Science: Light blue binder with external credit information. Please return the binder that was taken Aug. 22nd to the College of Letters and Science. Thank you.

Airplane Rides $5.00 per seat. Friday noon to 2:00 through Sept. Intro to Flying $25.00. Sight-seeing and charted rides available. Inter-State Aviation, 320-6566.

Horse Pasture and Hay Barn. Close to town. $20.00 per month per horse. 882-0152.

Revival at Trinity Baptist Church, 505 Mountain View Road. Everyone is welcomed. Starts Sept. 11 - Sept. 15. 7:00 pm nightly. Nursery available. 882-2015.

12x55 with an 1x25x addition. Very clean. Evening 882-0154.

Doc's Diet Center

We're the Weight-Loss Professionals
Call today for a free consultation

3 Weeks for $99

#5 Kenworthy Plaza

Moscow 882-3760

Argonaut Tuesday, September 13, 1988 5

Dartoons & Classifieds

Black Rose Rocks Ratz.
No cover Wed. or Thurs. Come out and dance on Moscow and Pullman's largest dance floor.
Open at 7 Music starts at 9:00 pm

"I don't want a lot of hype. I just want something I can count on."

Some long distance companies promise you the moon, but what you really want is dependable, high quality service. That's just what you'll get when you choose AT&T Long Distance Service, at a cost that's a lot less than you think. You can expect low long distance rates, 24 hour operator assistance, direct connections and immediate credit for wrong numbers. And the assurance that virtually all of your calls will go through the first time. That's the genius of the AT&T Worldwide Intelligent Network.

When it's time to choose, forget the gimmicks and make the intelligent choice—AT&T.

If you'd like to know more about our products or services, like International Calling and the AT&T Card, call us at 1 800 222-0300.

AT&T
The right choice.
Bhudu Boys to drop into Cavern Thursday night

by Julie Clark
Entertainment Editor

The Bhudu Boys, who play a variation of African music called jtu, will perform at Washington State University's Campus Cavern Sept. 15. The five musicians who make up the band were inspired by Zimbabwean independence fighters coming from the bush, or bhudu, to celebrate their country's liberation.

Formed in 1980 when Zimbabwe became free, the Bhudu Boys take both their name and their musical inspiration from that independence. Their music celebrates liberation from a political atmosphere in which even traditional African music was considered revolutionary.

The band's blend of traditional music, mirth, with the more contemporary sounds of jtu has made it a Zimbabwean favorite. The Bhudu Boys have had three number one singles in Zimbabwe, and in 1987 held the number one spot on the UK independent label charts with their album Shabani, recorded on Discrafrique.

Cavee Bhudu Boys have toured in the UK and Europe and are now performing on their first U.S. tour, which supports their latest album True Jt. This band has recently signed a long-term deal with Mango Records in North America.

Jtu melds traditional African melodies with high energy modern guitar sounds and Zimbabwean rhythms. The Bhudu Boys opted for this contemporary sound over a more traditional route when open musical expression was allowed again in 1980.

Thursday's concert starts at 8 p.m., with ticket prices $5 in advance and $6 at the door. Advance tickets can be purchased at the Campus Cavern on the WSU campus, but according to Ken Seymour of KZZU FM in Pullman, they are going fast.

"There are only 180 to 200 tickets on sale, since the band is pretty small," Seymour said. "So it might be a good idea to try and get them early."

Support is provided by the WSU Hotel and Conference Center (in Pullman) and Black Cat Records in downtown Pullman. Tickets are also available at the Pullman Public Library (170 N. Main St. in Pullman), the Post Office, and The Book Nook (508 W. Main St. in Pullman). Only cash and personal checks are accepted.

Tickets are $10 and $14 for adults, $6 and $8 for students and seniors and $4 and $6 for children 12 and under. "Cindereella" tickets can be purchased at the colliseum box office and The Depot in Pullman. Cavanaugh's Value Inn in Lewiston has a limited number of tickets available.

The gallery holds a major fund-raiser to help support its financial responsibilities. The exhibit, held in February during the Mardi Gras celebration, helps pay expenses. Support also comes from the Idaho Commission on the Arts and private donations.

The gallery, located at 5th and Main in downtown Moscow, is open for viewing Thursday through Sunday, 12 p.m. until 6 p.m. and Thursday and Friday until 9 p.m.

"Frame of Reference With Noun," by David Reif, is on show at the Prichard Gallery. ARGONAUT/Reif Staff

BOYCOTT BURGERS WITH ARBY'S
99¢
ROAST BEEF SALE

Here's a great reason to join the Arby's Burger Boycott for a limited time, you can enjoy our delicious original roast beef sandwiches for only 99¢. Plus, save an additional 50¢ on savings and great taste.

Arby's Sale Ends Sept. 18th
Taste the Arby's Difference
MOSCOV & LEWISTON STORES...
Vandals win opener
Tough defense holds down Vikings

By Joe Hughes
Sports Editor

"Defense again proved to be the key in the Vandals' win over the Portland State University Vikings Saturday night, rather than the expected offensive showdown between the two quarterbacks.

Last season, it was the defense that preserved a 17-10 victory for Idaho and again this year the defense held down the potent PSU offense in the Vandals' 27-18 win.

A crowd of 10,100 watched the Vikings drive down inside the Vandal 20-yard line five times only to score four field goals and one touchdown. The defense registered eight sacks of PSU quarterback Chris Crawford including three by defensive end Marvin Washington. Inside linebacker Jerry Medwed led the team with 18 tackles and one interception.

Meanwhile, the Vandal offense sputtered in their season-opening debut. After two opening series on offense that netted 17 yards, the Vandals scored late in the first quarter on a 41-yard pass from quarterback John Friesz to receiver David Jackson. Friesz finished the game 18-39 passing for 289 yards and three touchdowns. He also threw two interceptions.

"I don't think this is by any means one of John Friesz's better games," head coach See Football page 8

Senior tight-end Chris Slater takes the ball for some extra yardage during the Vandals' season opener Saturday night.}

INTERCOLLEGIATE KNIGHTS
MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The Intercolligate Knights are looking for new members to join their realm. September 14 and 15. Between 6:30 pm and 9:00 pm at the SUB.

For further information call Skip Perry 882-1876
Darce Dergane 882-8270

Crossroads is much more than BOOKS
BIBLES
AND MUSIC

CROSSROADS BOOKSTORE
Come in and see how much more we can be.
"We love because he first loved us." 1 John 4:19

TRICKY TUESDAY

SPECIAL
$8.52
Any two of your favorite toppings on a large 16" pizza for only $8.52.

$8.52
TWO ITEM LARGE
Simply present this coupon and receive any two of your favorite toppings on a large 16" pizza for only $8.52.

Name

Address

Phone

Good Tuesday 9-13-88
FAST FREE DELIVERY

ARG001388

ARGONAUT The Daily Student Newspaper

Lady Vandals place third

By Mike Lewis
Staff Writer

Lady Vandals Susan Deskine and Rellie Morgan were named to the All-Tournament team and led the University of Idaho volleyball team to a third place finish at the Southwest Missouri State Tournament in Springfield, Mo.

Deskine led the tournament with 33 blocks and was second with 51 kills while Morgan led in assists with 164 and service aces with 10. Teammate Marianne Moore also had 10 service aces in the tournament.

Idaho was 2-2 in the tournament with victories over Lamar University 15-9, 15-7 and...
Outdoor Corner

Kayak Pool session-
Wednesday, Sept. 14, 7-10 p.m. at the UI swim center.
Instructional Rock Climbing-
Saturday, Sept. 17, Day Trip. Sign-up closes Sept. 15.
Paddle Boat Trip-
Backpacking Trip-

PUT US TO THE TEST:
SSAT • PSAT • SAT • ACHIEVEMENTS • ACT • LSAT • GMAT • GRE • MCAT • DAT • GRE PSYCH • GRE BIO • OAT • TEAS • NMB • NDE • NCLEX-RN • MSRP • FMGEMS • FLEX • CCGN • CPA • BAR EXAM • NTE
If you have to take one of these tests, take Kaplan first. Our students get the highest scores. We’ve proven it to over one million students. Let us prove it to you.

RIMA BUILDING SUPPLIES
"We’ve Got Your Lumber"
Paint, lumber, prefinished shelving, decorator blocks and all the hardware and accessories needed to spruce up your room or apartment.

WELCOME BACK TO SCHOOL
10% Discount on all merchandise with student I.D.
123 W. 17th • Moscow • (509) 882-4541

Stop in for a lunch, dinner or Sunday brunch.
Special and make any occasion a memorable one at Bisquitrot
415 S. Main Moscow
(509) 882-3560

BARGAIN BASEMENTS!
Looking for a good deal? Want to save time and money? Want it to be convenient?

CAMPUS COPY CENTERS
• SUB Basement
• Media Center Annex
Closet Services for resumes, theses, transparencies.
Additional services for cutting, collating, folding, stapling and binding.
Division of Instructional Media Services.

Rugby team split games
by Scott Trotter

The UI Rugby A team defeated the Tacoma Nomads while the Vandals B squad lost to Washington State University in two exhibition games played Saturday on Guy Wicks field.

Rugby coach and president Matt Hansen was impressed with the play of both teams. "The A team played really well," Hansen said of the Vandals’ 34-7 win over Tacoma. "It couldn’t have gone better."

Although the B squad lost 15-0, Hansen and center forward Paul Reisenburg said they were satisfied with the play of the team, which is comprised mostly of rookies.

"The experience that the new players got was worth more than the win," said Reisenburg. "The players are still learning the game and will improve with time."

Hansen, Tim Ferrel, Tracy Judell, Tim Pitts, John Olsen, Steve Wohlschlegel and Dave Bear scored points for the A squad. "We all played well," Hansen said. "This win over Tacoma was a great way to start the season."