Board okays football use of dome
by JEFF COUPE

- In a meeting Tuesday afternoon attended by approximately 40 people, the Board of Regents approved the use of the newly completed Student Activities and Recreation Center (ARC) by the football team for games.
- The decision was made after much discussion by the Board and was taken by a vote of 8-1.
- The only dissenting vote was cast by President Hartung, who was concerned about the impact on other activities in the ARC.

Regents-3 percent across the board

by RANDY STAPLUS

The Board of Regents has recommended a 3 percent across the board increase in budget for all departments and programs for the 1992-93 academic year.

The increase will be used to fund various projects, including a new music performance center, a new turf field, and a new student union building.

The proposal will be discussed at the next meeting of the Regents, scheduled for November 15.

Czechoslovakian Ballet to perform
by MOLLY DAVIS

The Moscow-ASU Community Committee presented the internationally celebrated Czechoslovakian Ballet on March 9 at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Coliseum. The company represented the best among Czechoslovakia’s ballet dancers and traditional decision-makers and will be making its first American tour under the direction of its founder, Jiri Kylian.

The artists have already appeared in many countries and are known to be very successful and traditional. They are currently touring several countries, including the United States, Italy, Argentina, Bulgaria, Spain, Portugal, France, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Israel, and the United States.

The tour in the United States will be the first of its kind in recent years, and it is expected to be a major success. The performances will be held in major theaters and will be attended by thousands of people.

The performance will be presented by the Moscow-ASU Community Committee.

EDITORIAL

Was the decision fair?

The Argonaut Board Center has proven itself to be just another group of elitist, self-serving power brokers who have no regard for the wishes and welfare of the constituency it represents.

The Board Center, under the guise of the Academic Council, has否 approved the hiring of a Marketing Manager, who will oversee the marketing and sales efforts of the university, in order to increase revenue and promote the university's image.

The decision taken by the ACB, whose members are all ASUI appointees, negates the concept of a covered multiple use agreement with the university.

It is therefore the view of the Academic Council that this decision is an injustice to the students and faculty of the university, and that the ACB should be held accountable for its actions.

If the Board Center continues to support this decision, it will only further alienate the student body and faculty from the university's administration.

VANDAL PLACE

By Jim Smith

The policy of vandalism must be taken seriously in order to prevent further incidents from occurring.

It is unfortunate that such behavior is taking place on campus, and it is the responsibility of the university administration to address this issue.

Wearns respond on dome controversy

What do you see as the purpose of the RSU?

A. The purpose of the RSU is to represent student interests and to facilitate communication between student and university administrative officials. This includes any matter that affects the student body.

How many alternatives are there to the present system if it is modified or changed?

A. There are two primary alternatives: one is for the RSU to operate in the same manner as the existing system, but with more student involvement; the other is for the RSU to be abolished completely.

Could you give some ideas on how the student representatives should act in a situation where they are not sure what to do?

A. In situations where students are unsure of what to do, they should consult with other representatives, seek advice from the university administration, and consider the opinions of the student body. It is important to maintain open communication and to seek guidance from those who have more experience in such matters.

Are alternatives present at other colleges or universities without the structure of the RSU?

A. Alternatives to the RSU structure are found in many colleges and universities across the country. These may include student government associations, student advisory boards, or other independent structures that represent student interests.

Do you see this failure on the part of the athletic department as a direct result of the recent changes in the RSU?

A. It is possible that the failure has been influenced by the changes in the RSU, but it is difficult to say for certain. The athletic department is responsible for managing the physical and athletic facilities, and the RSU is responsible for representing student interests.

If there are ways that the student organization can be made to work better, do you have any ideas?

A. It would be helpful if the student organization were better organized and if they had a clearer understanding of their responsibilities. It would also be helpful if they had more support from the university administration.

Do you think that the recent failures of the RSU have been due to inadequate funding?

A. It is possible that funding may have been a factor, but it is not the only reason. It is important to ensure that the student organization is properly funded, but it is also important to ensure that they are held accountable for their actions.

Have you thought about any possible solutions to the problems of the RSU?

A. There are several possible solutions that could be considered. These include providing more support to the student organization, increasing their funding, or considering changes to the structure or operation of the RSU.

Do you think that the student organization should be abolished?

A. It would be premature to consider abolishing the student organization. It is important to continue to find ways to improve the organization, but it is not advisable to simply eliminate it without considering alternative solutions.

Is there anything else that you would like to add?

A. It is important to continue to work towards improving the student organization, and to ensure that they are held accountable for their actions. It is also important to continue to seek advice from the university administration and to consider the opinions of the student body.

Inequities in sabbatical programs

A thorough review of the sabbatical programs at the University of Illinois showed serious inequities with the sabbatical program.

Furthermore, the University Senate would undertake a comprehensive review of the sabbatical and sabbatical leave programs in the university administration. The review would be conducted by a committee consisting of a representative from the Senate, a representative from the Faculty Senate, and a representative from the Student Senate. The committee would examine the effectiveness of the sabbatical program in promoting academic excellence and maintaining a high level of scholarship.

Moreover, the review would examine the allocation of sabbatical leaves, the criteria for granting sabbatical leaves, and the procedures for selecting sabbatical leave recipients. The committee would also consider the impact of sabbatical leaves on the quality of teaching and research.

The review would be conducted in accordance with the University's policy on academic excellence and the welcoming of innovative ideas.

The University Senate would present its findings to the University Administration and make recommendations for improving the sabbatical program.

The University Senate would also recommend the establishment of a committee to monitor the implementation of the recommendations and ensure their effective execution.

The University Senate would work closely with the University Administration to ensure that the recommendations are implemented and that the sabbatical program is improved.

The University Senate would also work with the Faculty Senate and the Student Senate to ensure that the recommendations are effectively communicated to the faculty and the students.

Faculty takes short on pay

Student returning to the U in next year might be surprised and shocked for this: The increase of his loan still figure bigger while our student later figure a raise in his tuition.

Indications of this fact are few, but it is a common complaint among President Harling's faculty. The raise that has been proposed is not used to cover the increased cost of living for the academic year.

"The national average salary for full professors in the U.S. is $3,300 above the average salary for a high school teacher," said J. W. A. Johnson, chairman of the faculty committee.

He noted that full professor salaries at the U of I are on the lower side. For example, at the University of Wisconsin, the average salary for full professors is $2,300 above the average salary for high school teachers.

"The problem is the general trend of the academic year. The raise that has been proposed is not to cover the increased cost of living for the academic year," said Johnson.

"There is only one university in the state conducting this program where the president has been rejected by the Board of Regents," said Johnson.

He added that the president is trying to establish new priorities where the university's financial situation will not be as severe.

"If we're going through a pretty bad time, we're not going to make national news," said Johnson.

This is the only university in the state conducting this program where the president has been rejected by the Board of Regents.

In the meantime, the faculty committee has several meetings planned to discuss the situation.

"We are trying to make sure that our students have the best possible education," said Johnson.

U of I music professors sign recording contract

Two University of Idaho music professors have signed a contract to record an album of 20th-century music for Clarinet and bassoon.

Included in the new album will be a composition by Dr. Ronald Klimko, U of I associate music professor and bassoonist, who will record the music with Ceci Gold, assistant music professor and clarinetist.

Klimko and Gold recently recorded with the Musical Heritage Society, Inc., to record compositions by Scher & Chopin of the Netherlands, Kenneth Wilson of New Zealand and two American composers, Benjamin Keller and Thomas Haring.

Klimko described the composition: "Passages for Clarinets and Bassoon," as "a theater piece with lots of spirations. "It begins with the clarinets playing off stage, then the bassoonist playing behind the audience. The two move on in unison," according to Klimko.

The recordings will provide a visual impact as well as achieving new sounds on the instruments so the movements change their position, Klimko added.

Klimko and Gold will premiere "Passages for Clarinets and Bassoon" at a facility named Tuesday, at the University of Idaho. Recording an album of Clarinet and bassoon music, a project of the Klimentos' work as members, will be released, while Gold has done books on the clarinet and saxophone.

"We decided on an album in a natural follow-up to our books," Gold said. "After writing different compositions, we received few responses, and we'd like demonstration tapes. We then signed with Musical Heritage." The Musical Heritage Society, Inc., has recorded some of the world's most prominent artists, including Maurice Ravel, French composers, American pioneers and Handel's works.

Klimko and Gold, members of the Northwest Wind Quare, have recorded three of the album's compositions and will complete their work in the next few weeks. The album is scheduled for release in 1971.

Bill Woolster's book, "Iowa's Fair," has received an elegant type of "Popular Photography." The book, reviewed by Nudie, shows that the book features many the photographs are not exactly how the book was made for a photographic description of Iowa life in 1971.

"Ruff and Ref" the perilous story of a rookie referee

By NEL BORON

Bull is a new official for the ongoing basketball season.

"Bull's a big head. He's not bad at the game, but his judgment is off. A basketball player comes up and greets him, but he ignores him. Bull was fine enough to keep a man at ease, but he's very firm. The way I see it, he's not the type to be a good referee."

The problem had been brewing since the beginning of the season. Bull's calls were inconsistent, and his demeanor was off-putting. The players were frustrated, and tensions were rising.

On this particular night, the game was heating up. The fans were loud, and tempers were flaring. Bull was in the middle of it all, trying to maintain control.

"I'm just doing my job," Bull shouted to the crowd. "I'm not trying to be a showboat."

But the players were not impressed. They complained to the coach, who then called the association.

"This is a disaster, Bull," the coach exclaimed. "You can't handle this game."

Bull was assigned to the game for another night, but his performance only got worse. The officials were pressing for his removal.

On the final night of the season, Bull's fate was sealed. He was taken aside by the association and given a chance to prove himself.

"I've seen enough," one official said. "This can't continue."

Bull was given one last chance, and he took it. He called fouls, blew his whistle, and made his presence felt. The players respected him, and the game was called fairly.

"It's not easy, but I'm learning," Bull said. "I'm doing my best to make sure everyone is satisfied."

The association was satisfied, and Bull was given another chance. He proved himself, and his calls became more consistent. The players and fans were happy with his performance.

"Bull's a good official," the coach said. "He's learning, and I'm sure he'll be fine in the future."

And so, Bull continued his journey as a new official, determined to make a difference on the court.

Doctors offer test to find out Eye-Q

What's your vision? Eye-Q test. Find out tonight at the Idaho State Fair (Boise, Idaho). Open to all. No charge, only your eyes.

A quick test of your eyesight, designed to provide you with an idea of what your vision is like. The test consists of two parts:

1. How many perfect vision.
2. How your eyes function during close-up vision.

The test is quick and easy to administer, and it can be given in any setting. It is a way to assess your vision in a non-invasive manner.

If you have poor vision, there are several options available for you. You may want to consider:

1. Glasses or contact lenses
2. LASIK or other surgical procedures
3. Wearable technology (e.g., smart glasses)

It is important to consult with an eye care professional to determine the best course of action for your specific vision needs.

Junk cars towed free

Don't know what to do with your old junk car? Have it towed away at the time of the test itself. This is a service provided by the Moscow police department.

An outstanding marriage is being celebrated in Lemonaitd and will be held in your childhood home this weekend. The ceremony will be officiated by the Reverend John Doe. The couple has been raising quite a problem in the area and is causing trouble for many of their neighbors.

The service will be held at 3 PM, with the reception following immediately. The couple is looking forward to this special occasion and will be grateful for everyone's presence.

If you have an old order car or lawn mower sitting around, don't hesitate to call the police department - it is a car that you can't afford.
