The week was full of Silver and Gold

By Laurel Darow
Of the Argonaut

Homecoming's "Silver and Gold Blaze" has been burning this week.

Sat night the fire with a fun run Saturday, and the GDIs have been saying "The Heat is On" all week with competitions. On Wednesday, campus smoking groups gathered round the Homecoming Bonfire to add sparks to the blaze.

Coach Dennis Erickson led the students in cheer, and the letters V-A-N-D-A-L-S-L-E-E-E-E-E-E-tched in the night. He told the students they will be proud of what they see on the football field Saturday afternoon. "We're going to play like hell, I'll tell you that," he said.

In the bonfire skit competition, the Alpha Gamma Delta won with a skit that portrayed the Nevada-Reno wolfpack as a bunch of nerds in braces and high-water pants.

Targhee won second place after making fun of just about everything on campus. There was an Argonaut editor, "looking through old newspapers to find a hot story," sorority girls whose favorite meal is "seconds," and a packing committee that told a diaper-clad freshman the only place where students can park in the Falcone Empire Mall.

The Tri-Delta won third place making fun of the other Big Sky teams Grizzlies, Lumberjacks, Bengals, the Nevada-Reno Wolfpack and the Broncos (Guess who can't get a date. Me "cause I'm from Bevo State.).

Last year's Homecoming Queen Linda Bernsenberger thanked the students for their support during her reign. "It was a special year because of you guys, so thank you."

The sale of gold parking permits has been halted, as 622 have been sold for 450 available parking spaces. Special requests, and to the case of Shaeen, certain conditions may entitle access to the parking area.

In Wednesday's parking committee meeting, committee member Dorothy Shaeen suggested a provision to disallow others from the committee's deliberations and voting. "Others" were defined as those not on the parking committee or not designated as special advisors.

The motion passed with three votes against the motion, one of which was the bill President Jane Freund. This reporter was then asked to leave when she deliberated and voted on, which is in violation of the Idaho Meeting Law.
Language barrier hurts UI students

By Bryan Clark

Julie Hohbach is having trouble with computer science. Doug Anderson is knee deep in physics lab and Peggy Ward can’t seem to get into college algebra. While this may seem like a series of unrelated events, normal on a college campus, these students all have one thing in common. They attribute their scholastic shortcomings, in part, to foreign instructors.

According to these students and others, the University of Idaho has found itself caught up in a communication problem that many colleges and universities nationwide are experiencing. Statistics show that this situation stems mostly from the increasing dependance of American schools on foreign graduate students and professors.

William Saul, Dean of Engineering, said “we can’t help but become more dependent on foreign instructors, one-half of the engineering Ph.D.s awarded in the United States each year are to foreigners. There is now an across the board shortage of doctorate degree holders in the sciences that have a desire to teach.”

James Calvert, head of the Math Department, echoed Saul’s remarks: “One-third of the mathematics Ph.D.s in the U.S. are given to foreign-born students. We get a large number of applications every year from foreign students to study and teach here at the UI.”

“Before you understand the material, you have to understand the teacher.” —Peggy Ward

Why is there such a disproportionate amount of foreign doctors being awarded? Calvert points to the American student as the root of the problem. “Students today don’t want to study the basic sciences; math, chemistry and physics. Everybody wants to get into engineering so they can study computer science or go to a vocational-technical school.” Saul noted; “most people who have Ph.D.s in industry are in high demand in industry and industry usually pays better.”

If a foreign instructor at the UI are graduate students here to finish up a masters or doctorate degree while teaching to help subsidize their education.

Saul said, “in the engineering department we have eight or nine foreign instructors out of 75 total instructors and professors, half of them here on a temporary basis while they do graduate work.” He believes this is a good situation and the communication gap a minor obstacle. “The foreign instructors that come here are usually the best in their own country, and as a matter of fact, some of our most popular teachers are foreign.”

But what if the communication problem is not a minor one, as many students have implied? Saul said “We try to work with new instructors when they get here to ensure they can teach American students. All new instructors, foreign or not, must learn how to teach or have had teaching experience. A majority of foreign instructors have that experience here or in their native country.”

“In the Math department, foreign teaching assistants who aren’t up to snuff on their English take classes to improve their command of our language and work only in the Math lab during that period of time,” said Calvert. Of the four T.A.s currently in the department, two are participating in this program.

Both faculty members stressed the important role that prior teaching experience plays in the ability of the foreign instructor to adapt and cope in the American college system. While experience in their home country might not seem very helpful in teaching students here, Calvert pointed out that the majority of textbooks, especially in science, are printed in English. He also said though, “This helps but we are seeing an increasing number of teachers that can’t learn proper English because they learned in their own country through using English textbooks.”

Chong Niou, a graduate student from Taiwan, studied from textbooks written in English before he came to the U.S. He said “I had hoped that by coming here I could improve my ability to speak English, I’ve already had plenty of experience writing it.”

Saul said that although the language problem may balloon into something more than minor, the advantages of having foreigners here outweigh the disadvantages. “I have always found working with my foreign colleagues to be an enriching experience. It adds to your education indirectly by providing insights to the cultures of other countries. We also must realize that we are living in an ever increasing world economy and this education can be very important.”

“Sometimes the students have trouble understanding me in class but sometimes I can’t understand them either when they ask questions. I think that if we both cooperate we can overcome this problem.” —Chong Niou

Calvert noted that American colleges, and the UI in particular, are becoming increasingly visible in foreign lands. “We have foreign programs in China and agricultural aid in Pakistan, for example. Exchanges of cultures and ideas are an integral part of this, we, as countries, get to know each other better.”

Not everyone subscribes to the role of foreign instructors. Students, in particular, are critical of the situation. Most students, while they recognized the importance of cultural diversity, stressed that they are here for academics first.

Many said that a foreign instructor increases the difficulty of a class. Peggy Ward said “before you can understand, you are having to learn the language.”

Doug Anderson, among other students, observed that since foreign instructors are concentrated in the sciences, many majors are particularly hard hit. “I’ve got six classes this semester and of that, four have foreign instructors,” said Anderson, an electrical engineering major.

While the majority of criticism originates with students, all do not feel that having a foreign instructor is a problem. James Marr said the problem of communication is a two way street.

See Foreigners, page 10
Faculty council denounces Regents’ plan

By Laurel Darrow
Of the Argonaut

The faculty council spent nearly two hours Tuesday rewording its response to the University of Idaho Board of Regents’ “Statewide Plan for Higher Education.”

“It is most important that something produced by faculty have a certain amount of refinement,” said Bruce Bray, council secretary.

The council’s eight-page response is to be forwarded to UI President Richard Gill, who is to forward the council’s response to the Board. The statewide plan sets goals for the development of higher education at the UI, Lewis-Clark State College, Boise State University and Idaho State University. The plan includes consolidation of some programs and warns that there will probably be continued financial restraints on education.

The council’s response states:
• The plan overemphasizes the negative aspects of the current economy rather than emphasizing the strengths of the institutions and recognizing the potential for reaching higher levels of excellence.
• The plan ignores the need for and the desirability of faculty and student participation in decision-making.
• The plan endorses a centralized, top-down management philosophy, which would impede the development of responsive leadership.
• The plan calls for efforts to “maintain and enhance the quality of higher education,” but some of the plan’s proposals through the agenda to make the Homecoming Bonfire.

The appointment of Boyd Wiley to the position of ASUI lobbyist was passed by the senate. Wiley will serve as ASUI lobbyist for this year’s legislative session.

The finance committee’s bill transferring $38,170 from the General Reserve to the Entertainment Administration account was put on the agenda.

“The bill will not be considered at the next senate meeting.”

The appointment of Larry Seid to the Senate sub-committee on ASUI Student Affairs was reached. Seid moved to reconsider the bill appointing senators to ASUI Sub-Committees. “As any of us who have approached problems with the (current) arrangement and this is my solution to the problem,” Seid commented at the meeting.

The changes were approved by secret ballot and are as follows: Gino White was switched from serving on Rules and Regs to GOA. Mike Cobble was switched from GOA to Rules and Regs. Kelli East and Mike Felton will now serve on Finance. Hold Crawford will serve as vice chair of GOA.

On the more light-hearted side, Frank Hill, Argonaut Editor for fall 1984, “celebrated” the one-year anniversary of the suspension of Argonaut editors. Hill was not present at the meeting but asked Senator Scott Speedman to deliver a poem he and Laura

Wiley to be ASUI Lobbyist

By Megyn Golde
Of the Argonaut

It was straight to business at Wednesday’s ASUI Senate meeting, as senate whipped through the agenda to make the Homecoming Bonfire.

The appointment of Boyd Wiley to the position of ASUI lobbyist was passed by the senate. Wiley will serve as ASUI lobbyist for this year’s legislative session.

The finance committee’s bill transferring $38,170 from the General Reserve to the Entertainment Administration account was put on the agenda.

“The bill will not be considered at the next senate meeting.”

The appointment of Larry Seid to the Senate sub-committee on ASUI Student Affairs was reached. Seid moved to reconsider the bill appointing senators to ASUI Sub-Committees. “As any of us who have approached problems with the (current) arrangement and this is my solution to the problem,” Seid commented at the meeting.

The changes were approved by secret ballot and are as follows: Gino White was switched from serving on Rules and Regs to GOA. Mike Cobble was switched from GOA to Rules and Regs. Kelli East and Mike Felton will now serve on Finance. Hold Crawford will serve as vice chair of GOA.

On the more light-hearted side, Frank Hill, Argonaut Editor for fall 1984, “celebrated” the one-year anniversary of the suspension of Argonaut editors. Hill was not present at the meeting but asked Senator Scott Speedman to deliver a poem he and Laura See ASUI, page 19

Attention: UI Students

The Challenge Is On For Homecoming ’85

We would like your help in doing what has never been done before. That is filling the Dome Facility.

IDAHO VANDALS VS. NEVADA RENO WOLFPACK

Thursday, 1 PM

Idaho and Nevada-Reno, the two No. 1 contenders for the Big Sky Conference Title, both teams are ranked top 10 Nationally in Division 1-AA.

Idaho CAN win the title, but help is needed. All you have to do is show up and be a factor for the Vandals.

The Sky’s Lined With Gold, And The Gold Rush Is On

Wear Gold to the game and get your free Gold Rush Passes for any Movie Passey for any Movie (including the $2 one-for-one movie passes for any Movie). This is the Year of the Vandal. Help us make the Dream Come True.

Jane Freund, ASUI President
One year later: an inside look

A responsible newspaper approaches In-depth, investigative reporting with great caution: too many things can go wrong, and the project can backfire, focusing more attention on the messenger than the message. The sensibility of the matter is compounded when the subject of the investigation is the paper itself.

The series of stories on the opposite page is a self-investigation, and one which is overdue. It is a subject which has been waiting for the right reporter.

One year ago, the editor of the Idaho Argonaut and three senior staffers were accused of financial abuses, and were suspended with pay pending the outcome of a financial and management audit.

The remaining staff was divided into factions: those who supported the suspended staff, those who accused the action, or neutrals who attempted to avoid involvement and judgment. All three groups continued the difficult work of publishing the best Argonaut possible under the circumstances.

Student leaders and university administrators, both who have responsibility for proper financial management of the newspaper — but not the editorial content — were greatly concerned. The U's division of auditing services spent over 300 man-hours investigating, researching, reaching conclusions and making recommendations. It is safe to estimate hundreds more were spent on the matter.

Your confidence in the integrity of the Argonaut, and belief in our desire and ability "...to serve the students with news and opinions of integrity and interest," is paramount to the successful accomplishment of our ethical and journalistic responsibilities.

The story where what this newspaper has a right to be informed of how their money — public funds — was and is being spent. You need to be informed of the outline of the audit of what changes, if any, have been made in the last year. To this end, I sought a reporter who would have the skills, perspective and ethics to produce the best analysis possible.

When Laurel Darrow decided to return to the Argonaut, after working for the Spokane Spokesman-Review as Moscow correspondent, I immediately asked her to write this story.

Darrow is a senior journalism major from Lewiston. She was acting editor for one issue following the suspension of Argonaut Editor Frank Hill. She stepped back down to her regular position of copy editor during the month which followed, and served there until the end of the Fall 1984 semester.

I asked my copy-edited this report, a task which presents potential ethical conflicts, since I served as interim managing editor while the suspensions were in force. No textual changes have been made with her approval or consent. This is her work and her report, and I am pleased to present it to our readers.

John Hecht

LETTERS

Hey girls, state your names now

An open letter to all past and present students of Syringa Girl's State.

We know out there on the University of Idaho campus there are a lot of past Syringa Staters. We would like to get together and catch up on what everyone's been doing since Girl's State.

The American Legion Auxiliary is going to help us with a get-together of alumni and present students. Everyone is welcome to come up — that's where you come in.

If you are a past Girl's Stater, please give your name and phone number to one of the girls below. After we get a hold of everyone we'll call you and let you know when the big reunion will take place.

Sally Nalamura (885-7028); Sarah Kruse or Nicole Reeves (885-6686); Terri McMannon (885-7106); Reagan Davis or Barb Hinkle (885-6512).

Reagan Davis, student reporter

Hello, Mom! Hi, Yes-I'm Fine. You'd be proud if you could've seen me this week... In our intramural football game, I deflected what could have been the other team's game winning pass...

I had this brilliant idea to paint our And greek house porch a new color... consequently, I was chased by fraterni ty brothers in an Idaho campus trek...

This has been a homcoming week. I'll never forget.

The World Court doesn't count by David Blakely

Quick. Name the major trial going on in the world today where the accused is not offering any defense, isn't even present, and has no chance of being punished. If you said a Nazi war crimes trial you'd be wrong, but not by much.

Presently on trial before the United Nations World Court is the United States. More specifically, the Central American policy of the Reagan administration. Nicaragua has charged that the CIA created the "Contras" rebel organization in an attempt to destabilize and overthrow the ruling Sandinista government.

Our government has declined to defend itself in the trial, claiming the World Court has no jurisdiction in the matter. Interestingly, the last country to refuse to participate in a World Court trial was Iran, during the hostage crisis. We're keeping great company nowadays aren't we?

So far the testimony has been clearly one-sided. David MacMichael, an ex-CIA analyst, has testified that President Reagan approved a CIA plan for the creation of the "Contras" rebels from U.S. funds. MacMichael also said the administration's claim that Nicaragua was shipping arms to communist rebels in El Salvador was invented by the CIA to pacify the American public.

Another witness, a French priest, testified that the "Contras", whom Reagan has claimed are the moral equivalents of our founding fathers, committed numerous atrocities against women and children. Other less noteworthy witnesses, including a former Contra leader, have all made similar testimony.

As I said the testimony has been clearly one sided. You can choose to believe it — or you can choose to believe the administration's claim that the Nicaraguans are telling "an awful lot of lies." However, the real question is: "Why aren't we defending ourselves?"

The Reagan administration would have us believe that the trial judges are all communist stooges trying to score a propaganda win over the U.S. Yet only four of the 15 judges are from communist countries. Our government's paranoia has indeed become obsessive if it believes that the judges from Britain, France, Norway, Italy, etc. are secretly in league to embarrass us.

Regardless of whether or not the World Court has jurisdiction over this matter, if we are innocent, we should use this forum to score our own propaganda victory over the communists. Certainly the CIA must have some evidence it can use without compromising its agents in Nicaragua. Or has it? Our absence from the trial makes it all the more believable that such evidence doesn't exist.

Though this trial hardly gets a mention in the American press it is covered worldwide. Yet, the world, seeing the hypocrisy of our foreign policy, will be watching and the rest of the world. No doubt our allies and potential allies are wondering what sort of government calls the Soviet Union "evil" and at the same time thumb's noses at our court. Should we ever have to use the World Court in the future we'll no doubt be laughed out of the U.N.

An essential part of civilized conduct between nations rests on respect for international law. There are some nations, Iran and Libya come to mind, whose leaders feel they are above that law. By refusing to participate in the World Court trial we are adding our names to that list.

At bottom, we all need to ask: "What are you hiding from us Mr. Reagan? And why?"
Some changes made, some weren't

In the ten months since the report was made, the advisers to the auditor's recommendations have been acted upon. Some have not.

Cash handling, billing and accounts procedures have been institutionalized and a fairly regular system of financial analysis has been implemented. Payroll forms provide a method of payroll verification.

Advertising accounts that are checked and approved are sent to the controller's Office. The Argonaut has no cash register in which all incoming cash and checks are placed and recorded on the register tape. Funds are deposited daily with the bank.

But some recommendations have not been implemented. Auditors suggested that the reporters earn flat salaries rather than inch pay. "That was a recommendation," said John Hecht, the current rent editor. Reporters are still paid a salary plus 5 cents per word.

"It's an incentive situation in which you can get people to work more if they know they'll get rewarded for more work," Hecht said.

In addition, auditors suggested the reporter accounts be deposited regularly and the Argonaut should be provided with a cash register.

The Argonaut accounts should be deposited regularly and the accounts be deposited regularly and the Argonaut should be provided with a cash register.

Recommendation: A part-time person to supplement the Argonaut's accountant's work. The budget should be reviewed monthly by representatives from the newspaper, the university's business manager, the Argonaut's accountant and the university's management. The Argonaut accounts should be reviewed by the newspaper's management monthly.

Recommendation: A part-time person to supplement the Argonaut's accountant's work. The budget should be reviewed monthly by representatives from the newspaper, the university's business manager, the Argonaut's accountant and the university's management. The Argonaut accounts should be reviewed by the newspaper's management monthly.

Recommendation: If there is a lack of coordination between the Argonaut and the university's account, the Argonaut accountant's work should be reviewed by the newspaper's management monthly.

Recommendation: A part-time person to supplement the Argonaut's accountant's work. The budget should be reviewed monthly by representatives from the newspaper, the university's business manager, the Argonaut's accountant and the university's management. The Argonaut accounts should be reviewed by the newspaper's management monthly.

Recommendation: A part-time person to supplement the Argonaut's accountant's work. The budget should be reviewed monthly by representatives from the newspaper, the university's business manager, the Argonaut's accountant and the university's management. The Argonaut accounts should be reviewed by the newspaper's management monthly.

Recommendation: A part-time person to supplement the Argonaut's accountant's work. The budget should be reviewed monthly by representatives from the newspaper, the university's business manager, the Argonaut's accountant and the university's management. The Argonaut accounts should be reviewed by the newspaper's management monthly.

Recommendation: A part-time person to supplement the Argonaut's accountant's work. The budget should be reviewed monthly by representatives from the newspaper, the university's business manager, the Argonaut's accountant and the university's management. The Argonaut accounts should be reviewed by the newspaper's management monthly.

Recommendation: A part-time person to supplement the Argonaut's accountant's work. The budget should be reviewed monthly by representatives from the newspaper, the university's business manager, the Argonaut's accountant and the university's management. The Argonaut accounts should be reviewed by the newspaper's management monthly.
Changes, from page 5

ASUI's communications operations manager, said this is not done because it would create no opportunity for interaction between the sales staff and the customers.

"I think it's important that the personal contact be maintained," Pool said. "We don't want to have to ask the customer to come up to the controller's office all the time."

Members of the ad staff take care of credit sales themselves. Customers are billed when the account is due and they are sent a second billing when accounts are 30 days past due. After 60 days, a third notice is sent and the account is turned over to the controller. The controller credits the Argonaut account for the amount, and the university is then responsible for collecting the money from the customer.

"The university is probably better equipped to deal with problem accounts than we are," Pool said. However, the system allows flexibility. National advertisers take 90 to 120 days to pay their bills, so those accounts are not turned over to the controller's office. Pool said those advertisers would probably not do business with the paper if the account had to be turned over after 60 days.

The system also avoids a problem that has created deficits in the past, Pool said. Previously, if an account was not paid by the end of the fiscal year, Argonaut books would show a deficit. Last year, for example, the newspaper ended up about $65,000 in the red because of delinquent accounts.

Under the current system, the delinquent accounts will be turned over to the controller and the Argonaut's account will be credited for the full amount.

Suzanne Gore, advertising manager, said ad staff members have a bad account list. If a customer is on that list, he cannot buy an ad in the paper, she said. The Argonaut has lost business because of that policy, but "if they don't pay there's no sense in running ads anyway," Gore said.

The auditors recommended that the ad staff require credit applications and cash payments for first-time advertisers. Gore said that recommendation is followed to some extent. If ad staffers believe a credit application is necessary, they take one to the customer. Or they can ask for cash in advance. She tries to encourage cash-in-advance sales by giving customers a five percent discount.

The auditors also recommended that the university's auxiliary business manager prepare a monthly financial analysis for the newspaper. Pool said the business manager does not prepare such statements, instead he does it himself. Every two weeks he is to prepare financial statements. The only problem with the system is that Pool often does not have time to "keep up with the paper work." This week, for example, the statement was supposed to be prepared on Monday, but it will probably not be done until Friday, Pool said.

But Hecht said the business operation is more efficient, and that helps the staff members to work more efficiently.

"Once you have your structure in place, you can get out and fulfill your mission," Pool said. Staff members seem to have a strong belief that they are working to serve the students, he added.

And payroll forms provide a "paper trail" that helps management keep track of how much money is spent, Hecht said.

Independents to wrap up their week tomorrow

By Tah O'Hagan

For the Argonaut

Tonight's lip sync air band contest will be followed by a dance and a Saturday morning fun run will bring this year's G.D.I. week to a close. The contest is scheduled for 8 p.m. tonight in the SUB Ballroom and the fun run will start on the north side of Theophilus Tower at 8 a.m. Sat. This week's activities already have included a scavenger hunt, a beer chugging contest, a ski competition and frisbee golf. Attendance at the events was considered good by the organizers, with 20 of the 23 halls at the scavenger hunt, and all 23 showing up for the beer chugging.

Halfway through the week the top ranked men's halls in the competition were Borah with 450 points, Targhee with 440 points and Graham with 430 points.

Top-ranked women's halls were Campbell and Neely, tied for first with 435 points, and Houston and Setsel tied for second with 425 points and Carter with 415 points.

A cruise on Lake Coeur d'Alene is the prize for the hall finishing in first place.

Several things have been changed from last year's G.D.I. events. Potentially dangerous events, such as the car stuff and car bash, were eliminated.

Last night's G.D.I. games in the ASUI Rubble Dome included a tug of war, pyramid building, and obstacle course and a leg toss.

Jazz groups to perform

The UI Jazz Band and Choir will be presenting a concert at 7:30 tonight in the Music Building Recital Hall.

The performance tonight is the first of three concerts that will be presented this semester. McCurdy said.

HOMECOMING SAVINGS
25% off Thermal Carafes (1/2 L & 1 liter)
And Thermal Totes

882-6898
Moscow Mall

peppermill gourmet kitchen store

FREE HIPSIP with every Priazzo® order over $10, delivery while supplies last.

NOW PIZZA HUT DELIVERS!

"And delivery is FREE!"

FRESH! HOT! FAST!

Priazzo® Is Here!
Limited Delivery Area

Delivery Hours: 5 — 11 p.m.

Moscow Store only

882-0444

IDAHO

Special 29.95

U of I Bookstore Reg. 37.50

INDEPENDENTS TO WRAP UP THEIR WEEK TOMORROW

BY TAH O'HAGAN
FOR THE ARGONAUT

TODAY'S LIP SYNC AIR BAND CONTEST WILL BE FOLLOWED BY A DANCE AND A SATURDAY MORNING FUN RUN WILL BRING THIS YEAR'S G.D.I. WEEK TO A CLOSE. THE CONTEST IS SCHEDULED FOR 8 P.M. TONIGHT IN THE SUB BALLROOM AND THE FUN RUN WILL START ON THE NORTH SIDE OF THEOPHILUS TOWER AT 8 A.M. SAT. THIS WEEK'S ACTIVITIES ALREADY HAVE INCLUDED A SCAVENGER HUNT, A BEER CHUGGING CONTEST, A SKI COMPETITION AND FRISBEE GOLF. ATTENDANCE AT THE EVENTS WAS CONSIDERED GOOD BY THE ORGANIZERS, WITH 20 OF THE 23 HALLS AT THE SCAVENGER HUNT, AND ALL 23 SHOWING UP FOR THE BEER CHUGGING.

HALFWAY THROUGH THE WEEK THE TOP RANKED MEN'S HALLS IN THE COMPETITION WERE BORAH WITH 450 POINTS, TARGHEE WITH 440 POINTS AND GRAHAM WITH 430 POINTS.

TOP-RANKED WOMEN'S HALLS WERE CAMPELL AND NEELY, TIED FOR FIRST WITH 435 POINTS, AND HOUSTON AND SETSAL TIED FOR SECOND WITH 425 POINTS AND CARTER WITH 415 POINTS.

A CRUISE ON LAKE COEUR D'ALENE IS THE PRIZE FOR THE HALL FINISHING IN FIRST PLACE.

SEVERAL THINGS HAVE BEEN CHANGED FROM LAST YEAR'S G.D.I. EVENTS. POTENTIALLY DANGEROUS EVENTS, SUCH AS THE CAR STUFF AND CAR BASH, WERE ELIMINATED.

LAST NIGHT'S G.D.I. GAMES IN THE ASUI RUBBLE DOME INCLUDED A TUG OF WAR, PYRAMID BUILDING, AND OBSTACLE COURSE AND A LEG TOSS.

JAZZ GROUPS TO PERFORM

THE UI JAZZ BAND AND CHOIR WILL BE PRESENTING A CONCERT AT 7:30 TONIGHT IN THE MUSIC BUILDING RECITAL HALL.

THE PERFORMANCE TONIGHT IS THE FIRST OF THREE CONCERTS THAT WILL BE PRESENTED THIS SEMESTER. MCCURDY SAID.

HOMECOMING SAVINGS
25% OFF THERMAL CARAFES (1/2 L & 1 LITER)
AND THERMAL TOTES

882-6898
MOSCOW MALL

PEPPERMILL "GOURMET KITCHEN STORE"

FREE HIPSIP WITH EVERY PRIAZZO® ORDER OVER $10, DELIVERY WHILE SUPPLIES LAST.

NOW PIZZA HUT DELIVERS!

"AND DELIVERY IS FREE!"

FRESH! HOT! FAST!

PRIAZZO® IS HERE!
LIMITED DELIVERY AREA

DELIVERY HOURS: 5 — 11 P.M.

MOSCOW STORE ONLY

882-0444

IDAHO

SPECIAL 29.95

U OF I BOOKSTORE REG. 37.50
Teri Campbell crowned Homecoming Queen

By Malia Leteleo

Of the Argonaut

Teri Campbell is an example of how the Homecoming Queen has changed over the years. Campbell, University of Idaho's 1995 Homecoming Queen and a biology major, represents what Jane Freund, ASUI president, calls the campus-involved, brilliant young women who are emerging today. "You're seeing a more all around kind of woman," Freund said.

Freund said in looking back at the homecoming queens and their majors over the last five years, a surprising variety of studies exist. From business, to computer science, to office education, to finance, and lastly to bacteriology. "Bacteriology in a homecoming queen is like computer science in an ASUI president," she said, referring to her computer science major. It's (homecoming queen selection) not just a good looks contest.

Campbell, who was an ASUI senator in her freshman year, was extremely quiet, Freund said. She's the type who doesn't have to speak to be heard. She was a very effective senator.

Campbell's homecoming court, Patty Albaneze from Boise and Reagan Davis from Focola, thought Campbell was easy to get along with. "I think she'd do a super job," Davis said.

"I really enjoy her," Albaneze said. "I think she's a neat gal." Albaneze, from the Alpha Phi sorority, is a public relations advertising major, and Davis, from the Alpha Chi Omega sorority, is a political science/public relations major. Campbell, an Alpha Phi sorority member, said she enjoys being at the UI, and her involvement here is a positive experience. "I'm glad to represent the university in such a way," she said.

Currently, Campbell is administrative assistant to Freund, Panbellicine Council Executive Board member, Alpha Phi's Scholarship Committee chairman, Interfraternity Council representative, Alpha Phi Executive Board member, and Alpha Phi Standards Committee member. "I like to spread my time in different areas to get a well rounded education while I'm here," she said. Campbell said time as an ASUI senator had been a learning experience. "I enjoyed my time as a senator and learned so much in a year's time," she said. "I'd like to keep on, but as far as my major goes and time commitment, I'd like to remain involved in other areas of the ASUI.

Scavenger, from page 1

also the nation's leading rusher with 1320 yards.

Elliot had a little trouble with that one. She followed another GDI that ran 26 yards, with the ball at the 5. "Somebody knows where to go," but he went into the locker room, so Elliot ran back upfield. "I don't know my way around the field," she said. "I thought it would be right up front." Back in the front hall, Elliot found the picture of the All-American and wrote her name on it.

Out on the street, she met her hall roommate who had returned from the Ad Building, and they started running down the addition, where they were bunched up over such questions as "What was the score of the Vandal victory over Northern Arizona Saturday night?" and "Who is the current ASUI Vice President?"

The weary reporter left them in the hallway of the east end addition, where they were piling up over such questions as "What was the score of the Vandal victory over Northern Arizona Saturday night?" and "Who is the current ASUI Vice President?"

The weary reporter left them in the hallway of the east end addition, where they were piling up over such questions as "What was the score of the Vandal victory over Northern Arizona Saturday night?" and "Who is the current ASUI Vice President?"

The weary reporter left them in the hallway of the east end addition, where they were piling up over such questions as "What was the score of the Vandal victory over Northern Arizona Saturday night?" and "Who is the current ASUI Vice President?"

The weary reporter left them in the hallway of the east end addition, where they were piling up over such questions as "What was the score of the Vandal victory over Northern Arizona Saturday night?" and "Who is the current ASUI Vice President?"

The weary reporter left them in the hallway of the east end addition, where they were piling up over such questions as "What was the score of the Vandal victory over Northern Arizona Saturday night?" and "Who is the current ASUI Vice President?"

The weary reporter left them in the hallway of the east end addition, where they were piling up over such questions as "What was the score of the Vandal victory over Northern Arizona Saturday night?" and "Who is the current ASUI Vice President?"

Cray Band returns for Homecoming

By Laurel Darrow

Crazing fans will be dancing to rhythm and blues this Homecoming weekend.

Robert Cray, considered by some to be the "next big thing" in blues, is bringing his band to the SUB Ballroom.

Downbeat magazine recently noted that the Robert Cray Band for offering "an appealing, highly entertaining mixture of sultry blues and bluesy soul tunes ... delivered with conviction and easy power." Another Downbeat article quoted Cray's "rich, supple voice" and "his passionate, technically restrained guitar technique..."

John Kiefer of the Kitchener-Waterloo Record wrote that although "the next big things" rarely live up to their reputation, Cray easily surpasses his. "Cray isn't just the next big thing, he's an entire new look at the blues looking at the blues."

Cray's first album, "Ridin' On," won four awards at the 1984 National Blues Award Show, for Contemporary Blues Artist of the Year, Contemporary Blues Album of the Year ("A House Full of Blues"), Blues Song of the Year ("I Put a Spell On You"), and Best New Artist of the Year ("Boof Bourgeois"").

He told the magazine that he was influenced by his dad's jazz, blues, rhythm and blues and gospel records. His favorites were B.B. King, Muddy Waters, and his mother's Johnny "Guitar" Watson. Cray was heard by millions.

See Cray, page 12

Homesteading queen of '85, Teri Campbell (right) is crowned by outgoing Homecoming queen of '84, Linda Berkenkotter at the traditional Beadwreap rally Wednesday night.

Photo by/Barry Moore

"That's no fair, Borah had an advantage," a man said.

Official Spangler was noting some of the answers on the lists of questions. He was amazed that a team missed one: "Several years ago I had a cool crappie day a gentleman named Mr. Riddle donated a very large bag of money to the University of Idaho. The money was used for the construction of a green-carpeted athletic center for the use of the associated students of the University of Idaho's Varsity athletic teams and intramurals as well as the general use of the students. What is the name of this athletic center?"

Spangler pointed to one form. The answer read "Idaho Vandal Center."

Official Ron Lee said his only complaint about the event was that the students finished the race early. It started at 4 p.m., and the first team was done by 4:30. "It was way too fast," Lee said.

The reporter stopped hyperventilating long enough to agree.
Bells filled with memories

By Nalle Lettsin
Of the Argonaut

Long-time members of the university community who remember the origins of the University of Idaho bells, which ring out each day over the campus and city, know they serve as a loving tribute to a mother. "UI's musical bells, known as the David Memorial Carillon, were inaugurated on September 10, 1964, by four sons and a daughter living in Moscow, in memory of their mother, Donald, Earl, Homer, and Howard David, formerly owners of David's Department Store, now David's Center, in the latter sister Verna gave the carillon to UI in the name of Mrs. Frank David, their mother.

The three sets of bells are located in the music building. The carillon consists of 185 bells, housed in five boxes, ranging from two to three and a half feet in length. The vibrations made by the bells are electronically amplified more than a million times by best wires to the speakers in the administration building.

Music selections for the carillon are recorded on paper rolls, with punched holes to designate the notes. Some songs are recorded on cassette tape. A digital cassette player, added to the carillon in 1984, and a paper roll player create the music. Both players can be used arbitrarily. Jackie Roelen, School of Music curator, said, Roelen is the only one who knows how to change the selections.

Music selections for the carillon include classical, jazz, folk, Christmas carols, and even the Beatles. UI's alma mater, Here We Have Idaho, is usually played at 10:00 p.m. "The aim is to provide a variety of music and at the same time please the people," Roelen said.

The carillon automatically runs its music by a calendared clock at 12: 20, 5:30, and 10:00 p.m., and chimes every hour. It has a console from which the bells can be manually operated, but the carillon is played only manually during commencement exercises. Years ago, the carillon was played frequently, and became an integral part of UI campus life.

For Homecoming Weekend, the music will be played automatically from paper rolls that include Go Vandals Go, Silver and Gold, and Here We Have.

One of the first to play the carillon manually for students and faculty during commencement exercises was retired faculty member Martin Frykman, who remembers a time when the bells were not played for commencement alone. It was not uncommon then to hear the ringing notes of the carillon across campus on Sunday afternoon, for those content to lie back on the lawn and just relax.

"It adds a dimension," she said, referring to the part the carillon plays in the lives of Moscow students and residents. "I think it's important."

In the summertime, for discontented students taking summer school and for Moscow residents complaining of the heat, the carillon broke the monotony by following the See Carillon, page 12.

Moscow invaded by aliens, almost

By Bryan Clark
Of the Argonaut

If you noticed a large number of Luke Skywalkers, Chewbacca, and aliens all over the place about your neighborhood this past Wednesday, don't worry. Moscow's invasion is not close at hand. The only invasion that occurred was that of science fiction fans who attended Moscow VII, which was held here this summer in Moscow.

Moscow is a convention for fans of science fiction and fantasy held annually in Moscow since 1979. The convention originated from a desire of the members of the Pulsar Empire Science Fiction Association to commemorate the life of E.E. "Doc" Smith, the legendary science fiction novelist, who was from Idaho and graduated from the University of Idaho early in this century.

REVIEW

Verna Smith Trestrail, Smith's daughter, has been a permanent fixture at Moscow since the very beginning. Jon Gustason, Smith's son, is one of this year's event, said "Verna has always been a source of support for us."

On how she became involved with the Moscow Trestrail was "the organizer of the first convention contacted Robert Heinlein and he told them that Doc Smith had a daughter who would probably help, so they got in touch with me."

"I have been with Moscow ever since and I think that right from the beginning that Moscow would be a forever thing, and here we are, planning for a tenth anniversary convention."

In addition to Heinlein, Trestrail keeps in touch with most of the authors that were friends of her father's. She said "I knew a few of them, though, I didn't know they were famous. I thought that everybody's house had publishers and writers running in and out all the time." She reported to the assembled: "Ike (Isaac Asimov) was thrilled

See Alien, page 16.

Lensmen popular for years

By Bryan Clark
Of the Argonaut

Most students at the University of Idaho can probably name some of the more famous UI alumni but most don't realize that one of the pioneers of science fiction was a UI graduate.

See Lensmen, page 17.

What's Homecoming without a visit to Good Luck on the Games!

Johnnies

Breakfast Steaks 114 E. 6th Moscow Coffee

Lunch Cocktails

Dinner Moscow Florists & Gifts

Order your traditional I-MUM early, for the game of the year.

Moscow Florists & Gifts

I-MUM

for the HOMECOMING GAME

8th and Main

083-3203
Choosing a long distance company is a lot like choosing a roommate.

It's better to know what they're like before you move in.

Living together with someone for the first time can be an "educational" experience.

And living with a long distance company isn't any different. Because some companies may not give you all the services you're used to getting from AT&T.

For instance, with some companies you have to spend a certain amount before you qualify for their special volume discounts. With some others, voice quality may vary.

But when you choose AT&T, there won't be any surprises when you move in. You'll get the same high-quality, trouble-free service you're used to.

With calls that sound as close as next door, Guaranteed 60% and 40% discounts off our Day Rate—so you can talk during the times you can relax. Immediate credit for wrong numbers. Operator assistance and collect calling.

So when you're asked to choose a long distance company, choose AT&T. Because whether you're into Mozart or metal, quality is the one thing everyone can agree on.

Reach out and touch someone™.

AT&T The right choice.
University of Idaho, 1960

Contrast: People, and places

By Erin Fanning
Of the Argonaut

Looking back at the UI in the 1940s and 50s it is obvious that the UI of the 80s is a changed place.

These changes will come together this weekend when the campus welcomes back alumni during one of the most important weekends at the UI, Homecoming.

A major change will be, for some alumni, the new buildings that were constructed during their absence. "There has been a lot of physical change but the interior of the campus has not changed," Flip Kleffner, Director of Alumni Relations, said. "Therefore alumni will not be disillusioned that new buildings have taken the place of old.

Among the new buildings are the Art and Architecture building, 1966, and the Hartung Theatre, 1977, which are the show places for arts and theatre at the UI.

Older alumni coming back after a long absence will see a new library, built in 1957, but will be glad to know that the Perch is still intact.

The Perch, built in 1925, served as the first UI bookstore before it became a grocery/convenience store. But one of the most important structural changes and especially on Homecoming weekend is the Ribble Dome. The Dome, built in 1975 and seating over 17,000, will be the center of action this weekend when the Vandals play Nevada-Reno.

Football and athletics in general have always been a major part of the UI. "There were super athletes then and there are super athletes now," Kleffner, a former UI football player who played in the 1950s said.

"There have been tremendous equipment and physical conditioning changes over the years," he said, "and because of this the level of competitiveness has escalated."

Bill Belknap, Director of Athletics, said that one of the important areas of change has been the growth of women sports.

"An important step for women athletes at the UI was the formation of the NCAA I (a more difficult league) which moved up our status," he said.

In the 50s there was not a women's athletic program at the UI, Kleffner said. "It was hard for some to relate to women actually competing in sports. I know it took me a while."

Important changes also occurred in football, especially in the 60s with the formation of the Big Sky Conference.

Belknap said, "We were not, in the past in a competitive framework and within the last 25 years in-state rivalry has occurred, a result of the Big Sky Conference."

Kleffner added, "With the success of Dennis Erickson UI Football has had three winning seasons in a row," he said. "No one else has done that in 20 years.

Other Homecoming events have undergone very little change in the past years. "They have been the same up and down," Kleffner said, "but there has always been the Homecoming parade."

Former assistant athletic director of the late 40s, Frank Young remembers when there were actual pajama parades and every living goup had a float in the parade. "There used to be a baseball field where the current swimming structure is and during Homecoming we would have 30 minutes of fireworks. The whole town used to turn out," Young said.

But through all the tangible and intangible changes that the UI has experienced there remains a spirit about being part of the university.

"We generate our own enthusiasm," Kleffner said. "It comes from the isolation of Moscow. We become an extended family."

HOMECOMING

SPECIALS

6 night Hawaii package $359
Hawaii air only $279
7 night Caribbean package for as low as $455
Pullman to Seattle or Boise $75 one way 882-1310
Back to the good ol’ days
Idaho: The way it was

By Korma Metzler
Of the Argonaut

Parties, athletic events and dormitory life are just part of the campus life here at the UI.
Campus
dormitory life has changed over the years as each class made their mark on the campus.
The original campus consisted of twenty acres of wheat fields. The Board of Regents paid James Deskin $4,000 for building the first dormitory.

October 12, 1892 was the first day of classes and it was then that campus life began.

According to the History of the class of 1901, compiled by Minnie Lucile Galbreath Marcy, the “1901 class called themselves the naughty ones (01as).” Marcy told of the adventures her class had participated in.

“Now brash, how adventurous we were that day in our freshman year when we cut classes for an all-day picnic after going to the photographers for a class picture.”

Marcy also gave the University their share of trouble.

“Once again, our initiative was shown clearly on that memorable day when our boys decided that “Christian Day” should be declared as a perpetual holiday to commemorate the day when our beloved Lieutenant Christian left for war. This did not fit into the faculty’s plans, so a barrier was placed across the entrance of the “U” grounds and any faculty member insisting on entering was taken for a “rude”.

We can still see Miss Henry trying to maintain her dignity as George Snow and Gob Mix trundled her down the street in a wheel-barrow...we got the holiday—temporarily.”

Gob Mix later graduated from the UI and went on to use his real name Gainsfield Mix to become a Lieutenant Governor of Idaho.

Christian Day later became a reality. However, when Christian returned from the war he asked that the day be forgotten.

A new extinct part of campus life is Lake Huntley. It was a stagnant pond in front of the Administration Building where the tennis courts are now. Former President James MacLean had it drained in 1901.

The rivalry between the freshman and sophomore class was placed in an organized environment when each fall the largest members of the class got to the Administration Lawn to get rid of their frustrations. About twenty yards behind each team were the goals of the contest to see who could carry the most men behind the opposing goal.

The classes were at one time separated by their apparel. In 1910 the men of each class could be spotted by a certain piece of clothing. The freshmen had to wear green caps, Juniors wore red caps and the seniors car-tied canes and went bareheaded. The sophomores wore anything they wanted. The lettermen of the upper classes were responsible for making sure the freshman wore their green hats. Those violating the

G.D.I.s—Living on their own

By Korma Metzler
Of the Argonaut

The Independents, who are the resident hall inhabitants, are celebrating G.D.I. week through tomorrow.

G.D.I. is the term given to dorm residents. Loosely translated it stands for gosh darned independents. The term has been around for a long time but no one is sure exactly when it became known on this campus. Jim Bauer, coordinator of Residence Hall programs, says that the term is not exclusive to UI campus.

The G.D.I.’s have lived on different locations across the campus. For instance, Christman Hall was originally located in the west wing of the faculty office building. In 1909 the hall was moved to the tenth and dleventh floor of the Thelphius Tower. Later, the hall was moved again because of bad behavior. It is now located in the Wallace Complex.

Christman Hall is dedicated to Brigadier-General Edward R.
Christman who was involved in the campus military department in the early 1900s.

Now the Continuing Education Building, Forney Hall is located in honor of Mary E.
Forney, the wife of Judge Forney, who was one of the universities early regents. The hall moved to the second and third floor of the Tower in 1909.
The first floor of the Tower was a non-occupational, "dormitorydate" until 1978 when it was annexed by Forney Hall.

The building inhabited by the Farmhouse fraternity used to be known as the French House. It was named in honor of Permeal French who was Dean of Women from 1908 to 1936. In 1969 it was moved to the Tower where it currently occupies the fourth and fifth floors.

Willis Sweet Hall originally occupied the east wing of the Faculty Office Building, Willis
Sweet was one of the early regents. The hall occupied the eighth and ninth floors of the Tower until moved to its current location because of bad behavior in the Tower.

Targhee Hall is the only men’s cooperative dorm on campus and was originally called the Campus Club. The Campus Club used to be located in an area near what is now Gault Hall. In 1979, the name was changed because its residents felt the name was too old fashioned. One of the students who had worked in the Targhee forest all summer and since many of the students living on the hall were forestry majors at the time, the hall soon became know as Targhee Hall.

McConnell Hall, used to be located in the building that is now Willis Sweet Hall. It was named for William J. McConnell who was an American governor and the United States Senator.
It was moved to the Wallace Complex in 1967.

The Alumni Association now owns the building that used to be Hays Hall, named in honor of Gertrude Hays who was a regent of the university. It now occupies the sixth and seventh floor of the Tower.

See G.D.I., page 26

HOMECOMING SAVINGS
Receive a 10% discount on all regular priced merchandise in stock. This is anything from tapes to stereos!!

THE BEST FOR LESS.
Moscow Mall 883-0530

WE HAVE SOME FINE PETS
(Perhaps a Little Spoiled)

• Small Animals
• Kittens • Puppies
• Large Selection of Tropical Birds
• Tropical Fish
• Super Savings on Fish Tanks — Selection Great!

310 N. MAIN • MOSCOW 883-0690

In a game against Washington State College (the forerunner of Washington State) halfback Theron Nelson, in the dark shirt, goes up for a pass. (Gum of the Mountains-1938)
Ballet has successful start of season

By Bella Letato
Of the Argonaut
American Festival Ballet dancers leaped into their season premiere with dynamic performances over the weekend at the Hulting Theatre.

In each of the five selections in the program—Tryptych, Cinderella Pas de Deux, Ptarmigan, Rhapsody in Blue, and Impromptu Celebrations—the performers were polished, quick and confident.

Tryptych combined traditional ballet techniques, such as pointed toes, feet, and hands, with more modern movement, where the dancers' fingers were outspread and feet were flexed.

Simple costuming for the eight dancers and modern music without the addition of many instruments helped ease the audience into the selection and set the mood for the rest of the program.

Cinderella Pas De Deux, a traditional ballet selection, combined the talents of Duncan Ver Schute and Monica Gugli, principal dancers for the American Festival Ballet.

Ver Schute's leaps for the benefit of Cinderella (Mudgett) possessed height and length, giving the impression of effortless flight and confidence. Mudgett's short, quick steps, delicate balance and sometimes shy expressions effectively portrayed a young girl's fragility and possible fright.

Ptarmigan was a selection designed to represent the world of birds. Costuming, green with blue trimming, and music with the sounds of birds helped create an atmosphere in which birds might live.

The dancers' motions were designed to follow those of birds as well. Graceful, sweeping arm gestures were designed to imitate the motion of birds flying, and flexed feet, combined with an almost staggering walk represented birds walking on ground.

The sole male dancer of the selection, Alfred Hansen, performed excellently, with modern and jazz movement to emphasize the freedom of movement associated with birds. His fierce facial expressions and uplifted eyebrows gave him the appearance of a bird of prey.

Rhapsody In Blue combined a play and a jazz dance. The eight dancers represented characters from the 1920s who fall in and out of love. The antic dancing of the four males and females as they beguile each other made this selection the best and the most humorous.

Maria Hansen played the vamp, teasing the males with circular hip motions that drew the males, then pushing them away in the same instant. With suggestive facial expressions, she was very real to the audience.

Abigial Drinkard, as the cheerleader, also teased the men with her style of dancing, but with less abandon and more confidence.

Carillon, from page 6 of moviegoers in 1977, when John Belushi, filming "Animal House," cast him as the bassist in the fictional band, Otis Day and the Knights.

In addition to Cray, the Kingspins, a local R&B/rock group, is playing at the Elks. The Kingspins have been together for about a year now, playing at local clubs.

Both dances start at 9 p.m. They are free and open to the public.

Carillon, from page 6 of moviegoers in 1977, when John Belushi, filming "Animal House," cast him as the bassist in the fictional band, Otis Day and the Knights.

In addition to Cray, the Kingspins, a local R&B/rock group, is playing at the Elks. The Kingspins have been together for about a year now, playing at local clubs.

Both dances start at 9 p.m. They are free and open to the public.

"Cinderella Pas de Deux" was performed by Monica Mudgett and Duncan Ver Schute for the season premieres of American Festival Ballet.

Photo Bureau/Debra Gilberston Excitement for fall

TRI-STATE
IDAHO'S MOST INTERESTING STORE

SWEATERS: YOUR CHOICE

19.95

CHERRY STIX

TWILL JEANS
Pastel Ripstop twills & canvas at a good savings.
Reg. Values to 29

14.88

SAVE UP TO 50%

SATURDAYS

SWEATERS
Gorgeous textures tweeds & colors.
Reg. 24.50

19.99

CHEROKEE
pre-washed DENIMS

* Black or blue
* Cotton at its best
Reg. 28.00

16.88

SAVE UP TO 40%

1104 Pullman Road  Moscow
Open Daily 9 AM—9 PM  SAT. 9 AM—7 PM  SUN 9 AM—6 PM

prices effective
Sept. 27 — Oct. 4
Team members from Targhee Hall give their impression of sorority girls at Wednesday night’s GDI games held Thursday night in the Kibbie Dome. Photo Bureau/Michele Kimburling
Derby Days egg toss. Photo Bureau/Deb Gilbertson

Martin Brubaker, 12, concentrates on knocking all the cans down by sliding a lid down the table. The competition is similar to bowling during Kids Day sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega. Photo Bureau/Michele Kimberling

Hanging on to his hat, Brad Cuddy tries to dodge a tackle during Sigma Chi's "Derby Grab" on Saturday. The event was part of Sigma Chi's "Derby Days". The winning team was the Gamma Phi sorority. Photo Bureau/Deb Gilbertson
Abigail and Harvey brings history to life

By Sarah Kershul
Of the Argonaut

On the Hartung stage Tuesday night history was recreated but it was not the history we are used to in the classroom. It was a history that combined with literature and the stage had intensity, vitality and relevance. Tuesday night's production by the Northwest Theater Co. of Abigail and Harvey was a fine performance of a remarkable play.

REVIEW

As a documentary drama it combined history and literature. Although the playwright, Charles Deemer, was limited to historical facts he brought the story of Abigail Scott Duniway's campaign for suffrage and her turbulent relationship with her brother Harvey vividly to life by the magic of the theatre.

Jane Van Boskirk movingly portrayed the passionate Abigail in her struggle for the right to vote. The conservation that opposed her is embodied in her arrogant brother Harvey, played by Bill Douglas.

Harvey betrayed Abigail by writing a sting editorial against women at a crucial point in her campaign for enfranchisement. It was Harvey and Abigail's conflicting political views that created the dramatic tension of the play.

Nevertheless, the brother and sister remained inexorably bound together despite their constant disagreements.

Abigail, from page 8

The outlook for women at the turn of the century was bleak according to Abigail Scott Duniway, who spoke at the University of Oregon in Portland.

Abigail said "blood is thicker than politics." It could be said that their relationship is one of greater importance than the immediate ramifications of their acts because their lives were a microcosm of the values which existed in Northwest America at the turn of the century.

The structure of the play was unusual. Beginning in 1914 when Abigail told the dead Harvey of her victory the plot then unfolded backwards to 1871 when Abigail decided to found a newspaper and to adopt the women's cause.

The playwright said there were two reasons for this. The first was that he wanted to focus on Abigail and Harvey's relationship not what happens next. Incidentally this focus was achieved last night by the absence of scenery too.

Secondly, he said that the play suggests betrayal and that he was influenced by Harold Trestrall said, "They honor those who have dedicated themselves to the ideals and vision of "Doc" Smith.

This year's winner for author was L. Sprague DeCamp, who has written numerous novels and co-wrote the popular Conan series with Robert Howard. Receiving the 1985 Lemann for art was Frank Frazetta who is well known for his medieval art and who, coincidentally painted the cover art for the Conan novels.

Another highlight of the weekend's activities was the traditional masquerade ball held on Saturday night.

Mort's Club

Pre-Parade Function. $200 Pitchers
From 7 am — Parade Time
114 East Fifth Street 882-9918

Date: Saturday, October 12, 1985
Distance: 5k and 10k
Time:
Starting Time 10:00 am
Pre-registration check in 9:30 - 9:50
Day of race registration 9:15 - 9:30
Place:
Race starts and finishes at Eggen Youth Center, East D Street, Moscow, Idaho
Entry Fee:
$9.00 Pre-registration (includes T-shirt)
Entries must be received at the Moscow Parks and Recreation or the UI In-tramural and Campus Recreation by October 2nd Fun Run Option:
$2.00 No T-shirt. Register any time.
Awards:
100% cotton long sleeve T-shirt with silk screened logo to all non-fun run entrants.
MAIL ENTRY FORM AND FEE TO: Interurban & Campus Rec Moscow Parks & Rec
Box 203
P.O. Box 900
UI Memorial Gym
Moscow, ID 83843
882-0240
Make checks payable to Campus Recreation Or Moscow Parks & Recreation

Sponsored by:
UI 1 Campus Recreation & Moscow Parks & Recreation

16 Idaho Argonaut, Friday September 27, 1985
CAMPUS

The Eve of the Redemption Internations of the Human Form from Preliterate Times to the Age of Constaminate - Eta Sigma Gamma announces a public lecture by Dr. A. L. H. Robinson of the Se-tate Art Center and the Seattle Society of the Archaeological Institute of America. This afternoon at 4:30 in Admin. 306.
Campus Choral Fellowship - Join them for an evening of fellowship, worship, refreshments and Biblical

Carillon, from page 12

tative elections, and scrapbook photos to be ting will be served after the meeting.

HOMECOMING

Golf Tournament - held all day on Friday. Contact the Alumni for more information at 885-6154.

Exhibition Open House - to be held all day on Friday.

College of Education Ex-

postum - will start at Vawamwa's Landing at 8:30 on Friday morning. A registration fee will be required.

Reunion. Class of 1960 - Registration is from 1 to 4 p.m.
in the Alumni Lounge on Fri.
A campus tour will take off from the SUB Lobby on Friday afternoon at 3 p.m. Socializing will be held at the University Inn-Best Western from 5:30 to 7 and dinner will be served at 7 that

UI Parents Association board meeting - held Friday at 6:30 in the Wallace Administration

Ballet, from page 12

innocence. Dressed in skirt,

Irene, who was one of the first to hear the carillon play in 1960.
The first resounding notes of the bells "brought tears to our teaching at 7:30 tonight in the Appaloosa Room of the SUB.
Sunday Morning College Class - a discussion of the impact of art truth from 9 to 10 on Sunday morning at the Campus Christian Center.

Sunday Evening Fellowship - the Word of Faith will be meet-g at 5 p.m. on Sun. for a July lecture booked and is wanting to watch the video Bening starring Peter Sellars.

Episcopal Campus Club - meets at the Campus Christian Center at 7:30 on Sunday

Twenty Hours of Heil - a pretation by Mme. Lyman, will be in French and will include slides and a French Creole speaker in Admin. Room 316 on Monday.

Society of Woman Engineers
(SWE) - Members and prospective members are invited to attend the meeting to be held in the SUB 6e-6a Room at 6 on Monday night. Business to be discussed includes: Engineering center context, ESAP represent-

Carillon, from page 12

game on Saturday at the home theaters for the members of '60 and their family. Our 1986 vision of what the future holds for students in the sciences

Lenses, from page 9

Vandal Weekly, September 27, 1985

PREVIEW '85

An album will be played on KUOS FM, 89.3 each night at 10:05 p.m.
Friday 9/27 - Executive Slacks, Kansas
Saturday 9/28 - Sonic Youth.
Deeley Valley '89 - Roches.
Another World
Monday 9/30 - SKynny Puppy, Bites.
Tuesday 10/1 - Martin Egan, Monty

LIMITED TIME OFFER!

$3750

* Our special offer includes lenses and your choice of frames from a special selection

VISION GLASSES

$5500

BIFOCALS

$7500

SINGLE VISION

BIFOCALS & TRIFOCALS

- For quality frames and lenses, $3750
- Includes special prescription
- Includes prescription for complete pair of glasses

- Frames and lenses

- Prescription for 4.00 diopters sphere $12.50
- Prescription for 3.00 diopters sphere $12.50
- Prescription for 2.00 diopters sphere $12.50
- Prescription for 1.00 diopters sphere $12.50

- Prescription for 1.00 diopters cylinder $12.50
- Prescription for 2.00 diopters cylinder $12.50
- Prescription for 3.00 diopters cylinder $12.50
- Prescription for 4.00 diopters cylinder $12.50

- Prescription for 4.00 diopters cylinder $12.50
- Prescription for 3.00 diopters cylinder $12.50
- Prescription for 2.00 diopters cylinder $12.50
- Prescription for 1.00 diopters cylinder $12.50

ADD/REXTRA CHARGE:

- Tinted, Prismatic or Cataract Lenses

- Drifting or Grooving

- No other discounts apply

- Other express courier services apply

- Eye Exams also available & prescriptions filled

EYE GUYS

Family Vision Center

155 Main St

(509) 795-3788

EYE GUYS

- Open 10 - Monday - Saturday

- 309 So. Main St.

- Moscow, ID

- 882-1823

- Books, Strings
- Accessories & More
- Discounted Prices
- Full Service & Lessons

- Phone: (509) 795-3788
- Email: info@eyeguys.com
- Website: www.eyeguys.com

- Monday through Saturday
- Hours: 10:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

- No appointment necessary

- Accepts cash, credit cards, and checks

- Located near the corner of 3rd Ave and Main St.

- Free parking at the rear of the building

- Conveniently located near several restaurants

- Easy access from 1st Street or 2nd Street

- Easy access from 2nd Street or 3rd Street

- Easy access from 3rd Street or Maple Street

- Easy access from Maple Street or 4th Street

- Easy access from 4th Street or 5th Street

- Easy access from 5th Street or 6th Street

- Easy access from 6th Street or 7th Street

- Easy access from 7th Street or 8th Street

- Easy access from 8th Street or 9th Street

- Easy access from 9th Street or 10th Street

- Easy access from 10th Street or 11th Street

- Easy access from 11th Street or 12th Street

- Easy access from 12th Street or 13th Street

- Easy access from 13th Street or 14th Street

- Easy access from 14th Street or 15th Street

- Easy access from 15th Street or 16th Street

- Easy access from 16th Street or 17th Street

- Easy access from 17th Street or 18th Street

- Easy access from 18th Street or 19th Street

- Easy access from 19th Street or 20th Street

- Easy access from 20th Street or 21st Street

- Easy access from 21st Street or 22nd Street

- Easy access from 22nd Street or 23rd Street

- Easy access from 23rd Street or 24th Street

- Easy access from 24th Street or 25th Street

- Easy access from 25th Street or 26th Street

- Easy access from 26th Street or 27th Street

- Easy access from 27th Street or 28th Street

- Easy access from 28th Street or 29th Street

- Easy access from 29th Street or 30th Street

- Easy access from 30th Street or 31st Street
Gibb freezes

A freeze on vacant positions and deferrals of capital improvement projects is planned to help the UI meet a possible holdback of state account funds for the current fiscal year.
UI President Gibb announced Wednesday.

The university’s share of the holdback totals $1.2 million.
All of the restrictions are to be implemented immediately, but will be reviewed after the State Board of Education takes action at its October meeting.

It will not be known whether the cuts are permanent until something during the 1986 legislative session. The impact on the university, therefore, will not be known until next spring.

“Our most immediate and serious task is to prepare for a loss of at least $1.2 million this year,” Gibb said.

To make the cuts, Gibb is proposing budget reductions from salary savings of vacant positions, as well as the reduction of expenditures for purchases that can be postponed, such as capital improvement projects.

“In order to generate the size of budget reductions being considered by the board, we must immediately implement severe restraints on filling vacant positions,” he explained.

Therefore, I must impose an immediate freeze on filling all faculty and staff positions that are now vacant or become vacant during the current fiscal year.

One exception to the holdback cuts will be the one-time funds received by the UI this year for instructional equipment and library services.

“We do not intend to use these one-time funds to help meet the holdbacks,” Gibb said.

Foreigners, from page 2

communication can be overcome and foreign instructors are good in their field and bring new, different ideas to a class.
Also, college is a prep for the real world and many people studying in the sciences will have to work with foreigners if not in a foreign country eventually.”

The problem of communication is not one sided though.
Chong Niou said, “Sometimes the students have trouble understanding me in class but sometimes I can’t understand them either when they ask me questions. I think that if we both cooperate we can overcome this problem.”

It is apparent from the feeling of both students and other students that a problem in communication does exist. Some suggest cooperation, others say to just “overcome the problem,” but what does that mean? Schools around the nation are trying diff erent programs in an attempt to integrate foreign TA’s and prof essors into the American classroom.

Most colleges require some sort of test be taken by prospective instructors to determine their proficiency at English, usually the Test of English as a Foreign Language. Unfortunately, this test doesn’t guarantee any ability to speak the language.

Thus, the use of The Test for Spoken English has increased on college campuses. Russ Ballard, of the Educational Testing Service, which administers the test, said, “The use of the spoken test has increased geometrically. Many colleges are requiring prospective TAs to take it while still in their own country.”

Several universities around the country have adopted for-nal training programs, something like what we have here at the UI but more involvolvid.

These programs range from short orientation sessions to semester long courses, such as in the UI math department that are designed not only to teach students to speak English better but to also accclimatize them to the American

These are possible solutions to overcome the problem that, if overlooked, could possibly deny us of great benefits.

In the words of James Rollins of Saul, “Who knows, this could be the key to open the door to a whole new world for us all, as human beings, get along better.”

Right to Work director comments on Idaho press

Press coverage of right-towork legislation in Idaho has become more favorable in recent years, according to the executive director of the Idaho Freedom to Work Committee.
Gary Glenn, speaking to a reporting class at the UI Thursday, said now that right-to-work proponents have a strong base in support in the state, reporters deal more fairly with the issue.

Glenn said in 1977 right-towork supporters were “fighting the establishment,” and reporters focused on what he called “other issues,” such as the source of money for the right-to-work movement, the legislative committee and lower wages in many right-to-work states.

Since passage of the legislation Glenn said supporters of the law have been treated with more respect, “I guess everybody likes a winner,” Glenn said.

The Taft-Hartley Bill in 1949 ended discrimination against hiring of non-union members, but in some workplaces employees are required to join the union after they land a job. Right-to-work legislation would end this requirement.

The law was passed by the Idaho legislature this year over the veto of Gov. Evans, but its fate is still undecided. It was enacted with an emergency clause which has been legally challenged, and a petition drive didn’t assure its appearance on the ballot next year.

Glenn said the law guarantees individual and political freedom of choice, and if an article contains that desire as implied in the first paragraph, he doesn’t care what the rest of it says. He said the law would help attract industry to Idaho because it would lessen union restrictions, specifically what workers could perform what jobs.

The AFL-CIO is opposed to the law.

The Idaho press has not always acted responsibly in its coverage of their right-to-work law, according to Glenn. He recalled a news conference in Sun Valley following the filming of Pole Rider there. Gov.
Evans and Clint Eastwood were the featured attractions.

The paper was forced to answer questions on right-towork, but Eastwood did not.
According to Glenn, Eastwood said he didn’t know right to work was an issue in Idaho, but he did know that North Carolina, a right-to-work state, had the largest influx of new movie production in the nation.

Glenn was disappointed that the press did not cover what he said was an embrassgemenigor to listening to Clint Eastwood talk about new movie production in a right-to-work state. He said the media also distorted what happened, making it appear that Eastwood denied the importance of right-to-work legislation in Idaho.

Glenn said one Pocatello movie station did present what happened as he saw it, but he was disappointed by the other media “deliberately squashing everything else that happened.”
Isle of Man sends two women to Idaho

By Richard Burke Of the Argonaut

When two women from the Isle of Man (IOM) and one woman from the Royal Veterinary and Agricultural University of Denmark have in common with the University of Idaho? Through the Ella Olesen Scholarship, they are all now attending the UI for a year.

Each year, a full ride scholarship to the UI is offered to three women, one from Denmark, two from the IOM. The scholarship was set up by Ella Olesen to give women the opportunity to experience life at an American university for a year.

The requirements for the scholarship stipulate that the candidates from the IOM be university graduates and that the candidates from Denmark be in the process of finishing their undergraduate work at a university. The application includes submitting an autobiography and going through a rigorous interview process.

The scholarship was set up by Ella Olesen, a graduate and former burner at the UI. Her father was from Denmark and is the sister of Ella from the IOM. The IOM is a small island located off the coast of England and Ireland. It has a population of 65,000 and is a sovereign state. It also boasts the oldest continuous democracy in the world today. The climate of the island is similar to that of Seattle, and the economy is agriculturally towards a liberal arts university and welcome the diversity of

When asked what they wanted to do during their stay here, all agreed that they would like to experience many fields of education, as well as the various aspects of an American university.

Fischer is interested in how she would never get the chance to study psychology in Denmark," she said in reference to the more narrow curriculum of her field of study at the university at Den-
mrk. "I would like to do all the things I couldn't do during my undergraduate studies — like relax and enjoy myself and ex-explore other fields of study," said Kerruish.

Appropriately the Olesen scholarship recipients do enjoy themselves, as two of last year's recipients are currently working on their master's degrees at the UI.

After she finishes her year here, Fischer plans to return to Copenhagen and complete her studies in Agricultural Economics. Callin, who is working on her post-graduate studies in Denmark, would like to combine this with her knowledge of Food Science in some capacity, perhaps going into management. Kerruish, who is currently spective.

Regent's plan, and soften the language.

Relatively minor changes including "historically," "of right"

"wholly," with "diminished," and some faculty members apparently thought this was a rhetorical device.

Other changes were made to make the response seem less reductively claiming that you have to have

1. take into consideration the authorities you are taking into consideration and the kind of response you want to get and how you're going to get it.

2. Be a professional professor of theater arts. He said the council should not criticize the statewide plan, but take a positive approach to the plan. The council should take approach of trying to help the board get the right track," Flather said.

Another council member,

Stei
ger said the Council

Sand took a more neutral approach, saying the council should take a neutral approach and not be critical of the judgment of the faculty.

"I think we're on the right track," Steiger said.

Another council member

said the council should take a more problem-solving approach and not be critical of the judgment of the faculty.

"I think we're on the right track," Steiger said.

A third council member said the council should take a

more problem-solving approach and not be critical of the

judgment of the faculty.

"I think we're on the right track," Steiger said.

"I think we're on the right track," Steiger said.

Who's who among the class of '60

By Eric Fanning

Of the Argonaut

This weekend the Class of 1960 will have their 25th anniversary at the UI campus.

The Class of '60, like all classes before and following, it has its share of remarkable and notable members. This weekend some of those alumni will meet together and remember the UI during the late 50's.

Steve Symms, current U.S. Senator and former '70's U.S. Representative for Idaho, attended the UI from 1956 to 1960. Symms, 47, played football during his stay at Idaho and his senior year he played center for the Vandals. He is also a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

After college Symms joined the U.S. Marine Corps. He left the Marines in the mid 60's as a captain and returned to Murray, Idaho to work with the family business, Symms Fruit. In the early 70's Symms had a successful campaign running for U.S. Representative for Idaho. In 1980 he defeated former Senator Church for the U.S. Senate.

Symms grew up in West Virginia with his wife, the former Fran Stockdill, UI class of '59 and a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. They have four children.

Wayne Kidwell, former Attorney General for Idaho in 1974, graduated from the UI pre-law in 1960. By 1966 he was Ada County Prosecuting Attorney and two years later he was elected to the Idaho State Senate. After being re-elected in 1968 he was selected as the Senate Majority leader.

While in college he was active with the Sigma Chi fraternity. After graduation he served two years in the U.S. Military Police Corps. Returning to Idaho, he practiced law and completed his Juris Doctor degree.

He currently has an active law practice and owns a Boise area legal practice. Kidwell is closely connected with the Boise Art Center and is the former Chairman for the Idaho Citizens for Reagan Committee.

He and his wife, the former Shari Linn of Kellogg, have two sons and two daughters.

Captain Gerald E. Gneckow, UI alum and member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, was named into the 1985 Alumni Hall of Fame. Gneckow's career in the military began at the UI when he was in the Naval Training Corps until 1962.

After college he was commissioned an Ensign in the United States Navy and became a First Lieutenant. In 1962 he served as Missile Officer and in '64 he became an instructor at the Guided Missiles School in Virginia.

He attended the College of Naval Command and Staff in Rhode Island in 1970. During the Vietnam War he participated in naval operations off the coasts of North and South Vietnam. He also served as Surface Plans Officer until 1977. He then returned to Idaho to continue his education at the College of Naval Warfare.

In 1985 Gneckow received the John Paul Jones award for outstanding leadership. Other awards he has received are the Bronze Star, the Meritorious Service Medal, and the Combat Action Ribbon.

Gneckow married the former Patricia Koppes of Boise and they have two children. Two have attended the UI.

Annette Manner Park, UI alum and member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, has contributed greatly to Idaho's cultural and artistic organizations. She served as chairperson of the Idaho Commission on the Arts. Park has also served on the Western States Arts Federation Board and the National Assembly of State Arts Agencies.

In 1984 she was named one of the 10 outstanding women in Idaho by the March of Dimes and received the White Rose Award. Park is the Executive Director of Arts Idaho and former President of the Boise Art Center.

Park was born in Payette and currently lives in Boise.

Roger Jones, member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, attended the UI from 1958-60. Following his graduation he returned to his hometown of Rupert and became President of Rolland Jones Potatoes, the family business. He established one of the first potato processing plants in Idaho, Magic Valley Foods.

Jones served as Alumni President in 1974 and is a member of the Vandals Hall of Fame. He also owns an export/import company in Arizona.

He and his wife the former Nancy Grange of Rupert have four children. Three are currently attending Idaho (Doug, Jana and Roger).

The alumni mentioned above are only a small sample of the outstanding members of the class of 1960.

(Information provided by the Alumni Center.)
UI, Reno clash for Sky top spot

By Greg Elzner
Of the Argonaut

Conference champions are usually crowned in late November when it comes to football, but this Saturday afternoon in the ASU-RIBBON Dome, there might just be a September coronation.

Two favorites for the Big Sky crown will be the front-running teams when the 2-1 University of Idaho Vandals host the 3-0 Nevada-Reno Wolfpack in a UI Homecoming affair.

"This will be the biggest game on this campus since I've been here," UI head coach Dennis Erickson said. "It really should be an exciting one with Homecoming and everything." But Erickson isn't going to accepting any BSC trophies after the game if his Vandals come out on top.

"There's a lot of good football teams in this league. Idaho State and Weber State are playing well and you can't count out Montana State (1984 champ)," Erickson said of the BSC title hunt. "But whoever wins this one will really have the momentum for the rest of the year." Wolfpack head coach Chris Ault agrees with his coaching counterpart.

"No question about it, this is the most important contest so far for both teams," Ault said. "We're looking forward to it. I'm sure they'll be ready to play with it being their Homecoming.

"We didn't play as well as we could," Ault said of Reno's 37-10 victory over Boise State last week. "We're looking to getting a little better.

"The Pack was good enough to roll up 492 yards of total offense in their 27 point victory, 103 on the ground and 289 through the airways.

The Wolfpack offense is a little different this year without their usual dominating running back. But this has brought about the emergence of junior quarterback Eric Beavers.

Beavers, No. 1 in BSC passing efficiency and No. 3 in total offense, has thrown for 722 yards and has been a part of nine Wolfpack touchdowns while throwing only two interceptions.

"They are a different team this year, they're showing it," Erickson said. "Beavers has been doing a real fine job at quarterback for them.

Beaver's favorite target when he goes to the air is junior wideout Bryan Calder. Calder, UNR's top all-time season record holder, is back after catching 53 balls in 1984.

"He's our clutch man, our possession receiver," Ault said.

While the 65 Wolfpack doesn't have the big game at the running back slot, two people have stepped in to give Reno a double threat on offense.

One place that Reno hasn't changed at all is on the other side of the line of scrimmage, the defense. Reno ranks atop the BSC total defense last by only giving up an average of 219.7 yards a game.

"Their defense is extremely good," Erickson said of the Wolfpack defenders. "They are a very, very physical group of ballplayers.

Leading the Reno defense is their solid secondary, where all of last year's starters return. Leading the secondary are cornerbacks Patrick Hunter and Joe Petersen, both with five interceptions last year. Daryl McCoy, three ints. and Brian Kasadi, one int. return at the safety positions.

The Wolfpack linebacking corp is led by returning letterman Mike Dixon. Dixon had 107 tackles and four blocked kicks for the Pack last year.

Upfront, Reno goes with tackles Tyler Carlson and Elton Ridge. Ridge had 46 total tackles last year including five QB sacks.

"He's our stalwart on the defensive front," Ault said. "He must have played a good game.

Redshirt Bill Bonsall fills the nose position for the Wolfpack.

"We wanted to improve with our front people, mainly the outside," Ault said. "We feel we have done that."

"Our defense been exceptional this year," Ault said of his team only giving up 20 total points in these three games this year.

"But what concerns me is that we have placed a good a quarterback with the stature of (Scott) Linehan out there.

This will be the seventh meeting between the Big Sky opponents with 3 Reno holding a decisive 6-0 margin, a fact Ault feels might help the Vandals.

"It might be extra incentive for them," Ault said. "But that's past history, it's this year that concerns me.

Both teams appear healthy for the contest with Idaho's Steve Jackson and Fred Lloyd possibly ready to play.

Idaho cracks Top-10

The University of Idaho stands 10th in the latest NCAA Division I-AA poll, announced Monday. The poll is conducted by a vote of NCAA Division I-AA athletic directors.

The Vandal's ranking marks the first time in two years the Vandals have landed a spot in the poll. Idaho is 2-1 on the season and 1-0 in Big Sky Conference play.

Idaho opens this season Saturday, the University of Idaho stands second in the poll with 19. Richmond, VA, and 1-0

"It's the country's top Division I-AA team.

Idaho and Reno will square off at 1:30 p.m. this Saturday.

Idaho Argonaut, Friday September 27, 1985 21
Bob Curtis, heart and voice of the Vandals

By Frank Hill
For the Argonaut

It is perhaps ironic, but Idaho's most listened to personality never attended the UI. In fact he's a graduate of one of the UI's most bitter rival - Washington State University. Yet despite the fact Vandal sports announcer Bob Curtis graduated from WSU, he's been the heart and voice of the Vandals since 1956.

"It's really nice to be recognized," Curtis said. "It's nice when people on the street come up to you and talk to you as though you'd known them for 100 years. They almost feel like they know you, and sometimes I feel really ashamed I don't know them.

Curtis' notoriety, however, did not come overnight. After graduating from WSU in 1947, he worked as a regional sportscaster for Associated Oil broadcasting both WSU and UI games.

"I did some Idaho games," he said, "but mostly I covered WSU.

Finally, after 10 years of broadcasting Cougars and Vandals, Curtis was hired by KBOI in Boise to broadcast only Vandal games. And a 20-year love affair was initiated. The amount of time the 60-year-old Curtis has devoted over the years to broadcasting UI football and basketball games is staggering.

By his own estimation, it takes the Colfax, WA, native eight to 10 hours a week to prepare for just one football game. And that figure does not include time spent traveling to and from road games, time spent away from his wife Lynn and children Kris, Todd and Kelly.

And over the course of his 30-year UI broadcasting career, that number adds up to a lot of hours spent outside the broadcast booth.

"Before every football season, you have to spend a lot of outside time preparing," he said. "But after the first game of the season, then it is only a matter of reviewing.

Curtis prepares himself for each week's game at his ranch house north of Colfax, but his home away from home is the broadcast booth. And the booth is a place where Curtis has spent a lot of time over the years. An awful lot of time.

Since 1956, Curtis has broadcast every Vandal football game played; home or away, rain or shine, for 30 years. He has described literally hundreds of thousands of plays for people listening, "all up and down the Vandals' sports network."

And that is how Curtis takes his seat behind the mike at Saturday's UI University of Nevada-Reno homecoming contest. It will mark the 30th consecutive game he has called.

If one takes Curtis at his word, it is not too hard to figure out just how much time he has spent behind the microphone.

If a person was to own a recording of every Vandal football game Curtis has announced, it would take over six weeks of non-stop listening to hear every one of his descriptions. But that's only half of the story.

Because in addition to announcing UI football games for 30 seasons, Curtis has also been describing Vandal basketball games for an equal length of time.

And over the decades, the "Silver Fox" has accumulated a lot of memories. Although Curtis said no one game stands out above any other, he did cite two games from yesteryear that were memorable because of a single incident.

"Once when we were playing Washington State in old Seals Stadium, Idaho was leading up until the final minutes. It was rainy and muddy and the ball was a nightmare. "In those days, team's didn't have a lot of break formations and Washington State's back Hugh Campbell (now the head coach of the Houston Oilers) had been lining up and running right all day. Well one time he lined up on the other side, and I said "He's going to run the other way," and sure enough, WSU went with it the other way."

"He broke it all the way for a touchdown. It looked like it was going to be a big, high for Idaho, but it wasn't. I don't know why that game stands out, just doesn't.

Another football game Curtis recalled was Idaho's 54-0 whitewashing at the hands of Utah State.

"Utah had a couple of players named Merlin and Phil Olsen, and we couldn't stop them," he said. "And in addition, it snowed so hard you couldn't even see the ballplayers. The game was played in Logan, Utah, and it

JANSPORT SPECIALS
Save 30 - 40% off Jansport Day Packs, Tents and Sleeping Bags.

Sack 2 Day Pack $16.75 Reg. $24.95
Sack 3 Day Pack $14.95 Reg. $21.95
St. Helens Day Pack $19.95 Reg. $28.95

Jansport Bags
Lhasa Hotel Tent (3 person) $150.00 Reg. $250.00
Tahoma Rucksack $33.00 Reg. $47.00
GreenSpring Sleeping Bags $59.95 Reg. $99.95
St. Moritz Pack $59.95 Reg. $99.95

HURRY! SALE LIMITED TO STOCK ON HAND.

JANSPORT

Curtis, page 24

See Curtis, page 24
1960, a year of ups and downs for UI

By Greg Klimer
Of the Argonaut

The year of 1960 was an up and down year for the Vandals at the University of Idaho.

At the top of the list was the cross country team. The long distance men took the prestigious Pacific Coast Invitational in Palo Alto, California behind Ray Hunter to win the meet and finish and Ray Allan finishing right behind Hunter. The Vandals also won on West Coast schools, including second place Stanford and third place finishes UCLA.

The team then followed up their performance as the team with a very impressive third place finish at the National AAI finals in Louisville, Kentucky. Hunter and Allan once again led the Vandals runners with fourth and fifth place finishes. An interesting note was that the team would not have made it to the starting line in Louisville if it weren’t for UI students and area people raising money for the team’s travel expenses.

The UI football team, coach- ed by Skip Stahler, wasn’t as fortunate as the cross country team as they finished the year with a 1-9 record. Idaho’s lone victory of the year was the win over New Mexico State. Fullback Mike Sheehan’s five yard run was the difference in the 9-6 struggle.

Although suffering through a 1-9 season, three Vandals were drafted into the pro ranks. Tackle Jim Prestel was drafted by the Cleveland Browns, receiver Jim Norton was drafted by the Detroit Lions and center Stan Fanning was drafted by the Chicago Bears. Fanning was also drafted by the brand new AFL’s Houston Oilers.

Although not drafted into the pro ranks, back-up center Steve Synnms made his mark in another professional field. Coach Dave Strack’s UI basketball squad was a young one but still managed a respectable season. The Vandal cagers finished the year with a 11-15 mark, including a fourth place finish at the Far West Classic in Portland, Oregon.

All-American “Jumping” Joe King received the Ronnie White Award, the UI’s MVP award, and was also the team’s leading scorer with a 12 point a game average. As a team, Idaho ranked in the Top-20 defensively, allowing an average of only 59.3 points a game.

Coach Wayne Anderson’s baseball team started the year on record form as they went through the pre-season schedule with an impressive 14-2 record. Things went a little differently the rest of the way, as the squad went 5-11 in the Northern Division race.

Ralph Hatch received post season awards as First Team All-Northern Division shortstop. The UI track team, coached by Bill Soroby, was thin as numbers went but posted individuals that performed well. The distances were the strength, mostly helped by distance ace and cross country star Hutchison and Allan. The team finished 5-6 in dual meet competition.

The UI golfers also set school records, as they finished with a 6-1 dual match record. The golfers finished third in the Northern Division tournament.

IDaho swimmers put a surprising season together, finishing 4-4 on the year. Surprising because most all competitors were brand new to the Idaho program.

Frank Young’s UI tennis squad was also a young one as the team struggled through a long 9-9 season, that saw the Vandals lose several close matches.

Idaho ski team enjoyed a fine season as they took two of their three meets competed in, while finishing second in the other. In taking their two meets, both victories over slim margins to the University of Washington, the Vandals were led by Hallord Crowold, who finished first in both.

All and all, a successful effort for the University of Idaho.

By Joe Schulte
Of the Argonaut

The University of Idaho men and women’s cross country teams enjoyed their second straight successful meet last weekend in Whittman at the Whitman Invitational. The men finished a solid fifth in thirty eight while the women came in at the runner-up spot. Both teams had top runners perform to make injuries.

Leading the way for the second place women were freshmen Kathy Wall in 15th, Janet Beaudry seventh, Missy Madsen ninth, Stasy Monnie 15th, and Margaret 27th. Top runners Jackie Mount, Sheenie Craig, Pam Pardal and Pam Pardal all sat out the race.

Head coach Scott Lorcok was very pleased with his women’s teams. “Kathy ran a great race, the whole team ran well. Stasy had a good race, she’s now ready to go.”

Freshman Wall was named Mountain West Athlete of the Week.

The men, running without top runner Tom Bohannon, still had a good meet as Robin Mein led the Vandals with an impressive finish. Rounding out the scoring places for the men runners were Tony Theriault, who overcame problems to finish 14th, Chris Schulte 17th, Bob Dcie 33rd, and freshman Doug Hatten 36th.

Coach Lorcok now many good things for his men’s teams. “It obviously was Robin’s day, he really carried us,” Lorcok said, “I was pleased with the team’s overall performance. Our improvement over last year shows by the fact that we had a sub-par day and still beat teams like Eastern, who we haven’t beaten in five years.”

The men and women have time off now as the women don’t run until October 5 at the Stanford Invite and the men run October 12 at the EWU Invite. This weekend Coach Lorcok will take a few runners to the Coca Cola Meet in Spokane but no official team will be entered.

Vandals fare well at Whitworth

SPECIAL!
Show us your student I.D. card and receive a LIFETIME membership for $9.95 and 6 FREE movie rentals.

ADVENTURE LAND
Mall

20% DISCOUNT
on glasses thru Oct. 31
• Bausch & Lomb, Ray-Ban, Bolle, Shnorld, Serengeti • Contacts Best Prices, Persion.
UCA
• Sunglasses, I won’t be undersold
108 E 8th Moscow 883-3000

20% DISCOUNT
on Student I.D.
• Doug Davidson Licensed and Certified Optician
• 6 years in Moscow
ISLAND ADVENTURE LAND

The World Is Your Campus

Studying around the world, visiting Japan, Korea, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Sri Lanka, India, Egypt, Turkey, Greece and Spain. Our 100 day voyages sail in January and September offering 12-15 transferable hours of credit from more than 50 voyage-related courses. The S.S. UNIVERSIA is a 500 passenger American-built ocean liner, registered in Liberia. Semester at Sea admits students without regard to color, race or creed.

For details call toll-free (800) 854-0195 or write: Semester at Sea Institute for Shipboard Education University of Pittsburgh, 3E Forbes Quadrangle Pittsburgh, PA 15260
Curtis, from page 22

was sure cold up in the mountains," he said.

"Idaho was a lot of games with scores like this," he added with a chuckle. "We've been beaten worse," he said referring to a pair of losses to the University of Houston (77-6 in 1967 and 77-3 in 1968), "but at least it was nice to be warm inside the Astrodome."

Whereas Curtis hesitated to recall the specific game that made the.

"The Notre Dame loss," he said without much feeling.

"I think we played in the 1961 basketball.

"Wayne Walker and I were pretty good friends," Curtis said referring to the former Vandals who achieved all-pro status in the N.F.L. with the Detroit Lions. "I was younger then and got to know him pretty well.

"I also liked Kenny Holarte very much. He was very ap-preative of what you could do for him. He was very articulate and a nice person to interview. Scott Lashin is much the same way. But it's Wayne Walker that stands out in my mind."

As far as basketball players are concerned, Curtis named former UI guard Donnie Newman as one of his favorites.

"He was the entire show for them," Curtis said. "He was a good player and very pretty good. Indeed, the record of the 1977-78 team was 4-2-2 and the 1978-79 team posted a 11-15 mark.

Another player Curtis lauded was Kellerman. "Brian Kellerman was a good player, but not a good leader like Newman. He was a great Xfactor, but not the natural

"Don Monson was the savior of Idaho athletics," Curtis said referring to Monson's three succesful seasons in the early 1980s.

"Before Moss, nobody wanted Idaho, in basketball or football. Moss proved you could win at Idaho and Dennis (Erickson, head basketball coach) is benefiting from that tradition today."

Curtis has witnessed many changes in the course of Vandals basketball, coach) in the program. Curtis has managed to suceed without蜘蛛.

"Anytime you've worked at a place for so long you're bound to make some enemies. After you've worked as a place for five years, you usually move on. But I've been fortunate that the university's reputation is in favor of what I do, and I've really appreciated that.

And in recognition of Curtis' success, he has been named Idaho's Athlete of the Year more than 20 times. He's also received favorable reviews from the Seattle Post Intelligence and Portland Oregonian.

But perhaps for Curtis, his crowning achievement came when he was elected to the University of Idaho's Hall of Fame last winter. Thus after three decades of dedicated service, Curtis was made a member of the UI's most

"We had a hard time getting out of the gate in Vandal's previous game. We were snook in the airport, so we in the University of Idaho's Hall of Fame, the UI's most and alumni to the University of Idaho.

We hope you enjoy your stay.

By Chris Schulte

The University of Idaho women's volleyball team ran into a much-improved Gonzaga squad Wednesday night, but still pulled out a 12-15, 15-11, 15-6, 15-9 victory in Memorial Gym. The win brought the UI record to 9-7.

In the opening game, Gon-zagaz came out ready to play and may have caught the UI off guard as they put out a hard fought game 15-12. In game two, Idaho began to put their game together and behind the aggressive play of Robin Jordan and Nelle Gant, the Bulldogs away 15-11. With the match now tied at one apiece, Idaho began to dominate more and finished Gonzaga off in consecutive games 15-4, 15-9.

Head coach Pam Bradetzic was pleased with the play of her team and said after the match.

"It was a good match because everyone got a chance to contribute to the win, over a much improved Gonzaga team."

Earlier in the year, Idaho thumped Gonzaga in straight games at the Cavanaugh's Classic.

"I liked the firepower we showed and the way the team came back" Bradetzic said.

"We're playing well as a team, our transition game is still improving, Robin Jordan and Sal-

by Beyer played great in games two, three and four."

Once again, leading the Van-are now off until next Tuesday when they host Washington State.

"We definitely need this time off," Bradetzic said. "We need to get healthy again, nothing serious, just illnesses and ragging injuries.

JOIN US TO CELEBRATE IDAHO'S VICTORY OVER NEVADA-RENO!

Bring this coupon in to receive a combination dinner free with the purchase of another combination dinner of more or equal value.

"The best Mexican food in Idaho and Eastern Washington."

Cafe Ole welcomes parents and

Downtown Moscow

800-2713

Bogarts Blasts the 3-Day Weekend

Starts Saturday Happy Hours

Fun with the Boys! spend extended weekend at wu Bogarts Football Challenge Presents Super Saturday

 Nate the Knife -

ita West L.

Boys & Girls

Credentialing Center and the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.

the press.
Secretary and fan loves her team

By Tom Liberman
Of the Argonaut

"She gets stuff that has to be done in an hour and she gets it done," assistant Vandal football coach, Boyce Bailey said.

"She spends a lot of overtime here and that is really appreciated by us," assistant coach, Tim Lappano said.

You can say so many nice things about her," assistant coach, Brett Ingalls said.

"I like her, if they have a program, would fold," assistant coach Keith Gilberson said.

She's the best secretary I've ever had in my fifteen years of coaching," said head coach Dennis Erickson.

Marianne Ahles is the recipient of all this praise and more than deserving of it in the opinion of her peers.

She has been the secretary of the UI Vandal football team for the last two years and is also the swimming and tennis secretary.

Before that she had worked in the controllers office where she got to know some of the football staff and when the job to be football secretary opened, she took it.

Ahles is a Idaho girl, born in Kendrick but raised in Lewiston where she graduated from high school.

She said that she was not a football fan before meeting many of the coaches and players but now is a confirmed Vandal fanatic.

This is the best job she has ever had and she truly enjoys working with the program she said.

"The coaches are wonderful, the staff is like a big family and of course the players are real special," Ahles said.

There is a lot of paperwork to be done everyday and the job is very stressful Ahles said.

"If you truly love something there's never enough work," she said.

She has much praise for the coaching staff she works with, saying that they work very hard and are gone from their families for weeks during recruiting season.

One of the daily jobs she must take care of is the practice script, which must be typed up and passed out to the players. She said all the players will be doing every five minutes of practice.

Ahles gets handwritten copies from each of the coaches which she coordinates into one legible sheet by practice time at 3:00 pm.

Assessing the Vandals changes to win the conference this year, she said that the team has a good chance to make the NCAA 1-A playoffs.

"I think they have a wonderful chance," she said. "The players are prepared to do their best to win."

She enjoys the closeness of everyone involved in the football program and the time people are willing to spend with each other.

"Coach Erickson will talk to any kid no matter how busy he is, all the coaches are that way," Ahles said.

Many of the players call her "mom" and in many ways that is what she is to the student athletes.

"The players are in a hard position, they have to study and

IM Corner

—NEW ADDITION TO IN-TRAMURALS...Come see the new Wall of Fame!!! Check the Calendar for up coming events... Become involved!!!

A fringe benefit of her job is the contacts with other coaches from the college and pro ranks as well as many scouts.

"Dennis is highly respected among other coaches all around the country," she said.

Among those she has spoken to is Dallas Cowboys General Manager Gil Brandt who calls occasionally.

She said that the Cowboys are very nice and send stuff all the time. She has a set of note pads with her name on them sent by the Denver Broncos.

"I occasionally get presents from the Seattle Seahawks," Ahles said.

She said that she meets scouts from every pro team in the NFL and the USFL although the USFL scouts have dropped off in the last couple of months.

"Quite a few of our seniors are being looked at, I think they should all be first round draft choices," she said.

She also gets to talk to many of the athlete's parents and some alumni whom she is always glad to do something for.

Ahles thinks she has the perfect job and the coaches and players think she is the perfect person for the job.

Marianne Ahles goes over the day's schedule with her boss, UI head coach Dennis Erickson. Photo Bureau/Bob Bihn

WE'RE A TRADITION

Rathaus Supreme with 10 Items

Medium is $10.00
Large is $12.00

Moscow on Pullman
215 Main
E. 630 Main
882-4633
334-5400

Paris Vision Center

Dr. George A. Paris
Optometrist

$25 off frame & lenses with examination
2 for 1 Daily & Extended wear contact lenses
Excludes Tinted & Gas Permeable Lenses

$15 off frame & lenses
10% off Tinted & Gas Permeable Lenses
20% off all sunglasses, includes Vuarnets, RayBans, Serengeties

Offer good from 9/15 - 9/31

Moscow Mall 882-3434

Rathaus Supreme, Moscow Mall
Expires 10-3-85

SHUTTERBUG

Homecoming Special
6 FREE Reprints
(with coupon)

— We Feature —
• 4 hour slide processing
• Student discounts
• Passport photos
Expires 10/30/85

Third Dimension Cuts

Haircut $7.50

BLO-CUT
MEN $9.50
WOMEN $10.00
Includes shampoo, conditioning, cut, and blow-style

HIS’ “N HERS’

NO APPOINTMENT NEEDED

PALOUSE EMPIRE MALL
882-6633
OPEN: Mon.-Fri. 10-9, Sat. 10-6, Sun. 12-5
Lindley Hall was located in the building behind the life science building, but that building was torn down in 1974. The hall which was named for Ernest H. Lindley, president of the UI from 1917 to 1920, is now on the third and fourth floor of the Stevenson Wing in the Wallace Complex.

The Lindley Hall is dedicated to Bernice McCoy, State Superintendent of Education and regent of the university. Originally, it was on the first and second floor of the Gooding Wing in the Complex, but is now on the twentieth floor of the University Center building. Borah Hall, named for Senator William E. Borah, is located on the first and second floors of the Stevenson wing in the complex.

Marguerite Campbell is the namesake for Campbell on the first and second floor of the Complex's Willey wing. She was an early regent. The fifth and sixth floor of the Willey wing is dedicated to Louise Carter, a retired dean of women who served from 1944 to 1957.

The four story Gault Hall is named in honor of the first president of the university, Franklin Gault. The hall was damaged by fire in 1956, when an arsonist lit the upper floors on fire. The first killed three students.

Board of Regents member James E. Graham, has his name to Graham Hall which is on the third and fourth floor of Ballard wing in the Complex. The Willey wing also houses Houston hall which is named for Maude C. Houston, a former member of the Board of Regents.

Olesen Hall was originally on the third and fourth floor in the Gooding wing in the Complex. The hall moved to the second floor in 1982. It is named for...
CLASSIFIEDS

1. APARTMENTS FOR RENT
   FOR UNIVERSITY STUDENTS ONLY. If you are interested, call 882-2901 immediately. 1985
   rate for 1 bedroom, 700.00, and 2 bedroom,
   900.00. Other details available. 882-4681.

2. TRAILERS FOR RENT
   Trailer space for rent, L & M Trailers Court, Uniontown. $3 per month. Call 303-7784.

3. JOBS
   ONLY CRANBOSTON AREA. We have many families looking for loving child care workers.
   3 year old child, excellent salary, hours.
   MUST DRIVING. Please call 882-2672.

4. AUTOMOBILES
   1964 Camaro sport coupe, excellent condition, very low miles. Price 6900.00. Call 882-3646.

5. PERSONALS
   Announce, 241-6789. Wanted: Party planning services. Call 882-4425.

6. ANNUALS
   1985 Weekly school newspaper. Orders are being taken now. Call 882-6999.

7. MISC
   For young girls out of the house, take care of flowers, plants, end of summer. 882-4698.

8. MOTORCYCLES
   Excellent condition. Call 882-3646.

9. PERSONALS
   Full time or part time for boys and girls.
   Comments. Call 882-4600.

10. APARTMENTS FOR RENT
    For sale, 1973 typewriter. Excellent condition. Call 882-2672.

11. PERSONALS
    Full time or part time for boys and girls.
    Comments. Call 882-4600.

12. MOTORCYCLES
    Call 882-4681.

13. PERSONALS
    Needs to stay at the Spokesman. Campus Line has 4 trips daily. Call your travel agent or 882-4681.

14. ANNUALS
    1985 Annuals. Price 5.00. 882-3646.

15. PERSONALS
    Excellent condition. Call 882-4600.

16. APARTMENTS FOR RENT
    FOR UNIVERSITY STUDENTS ONLY. If you are interested, call 882-2901 immediately. 1985
    rate for 1 bedroom, 700.00, and 2 bedroom,
    900.00. Other details available. 882-4681.

17. MISC
    Seeking machine repair service. Must make and return at student rate. 882-1588.

Let’s be honest, looking for that perfect job can be quite daunting. But with the right tools and approach, you can find the right opportunity. Good luck on your job search!
Clothing and Accessories for Men & Women

Jewelry Birkenstocks Hats Cards Gifts Gloves

and the only Photo Booth in town

125 E. 3rd Downtown Moscow
Monday-Saturday 10-6