NORTHWEST Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE

"Bean Feed" Friday Night...Mental and Physical Phases...Twelve Idaho Men Will Go.

Bean Feed Friday Night.

An illustrated lecture by Paul Seaman, the northwest student secretary, is to be given in the association room in the Administration building Friday night at eight o'clock. After the lecture a "bean feed" will be served.

From a Spiritual Point of View.

By Joseph M. Adams, '11.

The influence within the atmosphere of the Columbia Beach Conference will always stay with a man thru life, domestic or business. A man having once been there goes back to his friends a different man to what he was when he came away from there. He becomes more responsible and more expectant of him. There is an inculcating strength in this mountain top experience for it takes a fellow to the mountain top where the hurry of life does not bother. He speaks to one in the still small voice where it is quiet and the breath of the voice can brush a fellow's face and penetrate a man's heart. God calls one up to tell him what he is and what top stations in life are.

On the summit one sees Faith still alive. It is a privilege for a fellow to climb this mountain of vision in order to view the Heavenly City and to sketch the shores line. The conference is the place to go in order to gain the "faith of our fathers." A man can go back to his friends and truly "launch out into the deep" as Christ has commanded. There one is brought to realize as no where else that the joy of service is the supreme joy and as Bishop Bradley said, "God's power is limited by you and by me; that service for the Master is not a task assigned but a duty assigned."

What Men Say About the Columbia Beach Conference.

A college man above all others should become acquainted with great movements of the present day if he is to consider himself a well rounded man. There is but one way to become definitely acquainted with the Student Men's Christian Association work and that is to attend a Student Conference. The student who attends the Columbia Beach Conference cannot help but bring away with him (1) definite knowledge of Christian fundamentals (2) of the various problems that are agitation or may soon agitation, the student in our college, (3) of association methods tried out in various parts of the field and (4) a broad vision of the whole student movement in America and around the world. These are the bare facts of the actual returns which are well worth seeking by any college man.

Athletics.

By A. P. Becker, '11.

Afternoons from 1 to 5:30 are devoted entirely to recreation at the conference. Some of the fellows go canoeing and come back to camp dripping and shivering.

Seniors will Present Play at Potlatch.

Arrangements Made to Play on Saturday the 27th...Cast Rehearsing Once A Week.

Final arrangements have been made by Manager Baas to present the Senior class play, "'Why Smith Left Home," at Potlatch a week from the coming Saturday. The opera house has been engaged for that night and tickets will soon be placed on sale at the Potlatch drug store. Special scenery will be provided for the occasion and with this aid and the advantage of the two previous nights' performances the play will no doubt be even more successful than when given in Moscow.

The trip to Potlatch will probably be made by automobile. The cast will have one rehearsal on the opera house stage with the new scenery.

Rehearsals are being held once a week now to keep the players familiar with their lines and to enable the cast to keep their parts well in mind.

W. S. C. Track Meet Saturday.

Only Meet of Year on the Home Field—Last Time Some of Idaho's Stars Compete.

The only intercollegiate track meet to be held on Idaho field this year will be pulled off next Saturday afternoon between Washington State College and Idaho. The meet promises to be close from start to finish. The teams appear to be evenly matched. If the weather is nice Pullman promises to send over a crowd of rooters to assist the visitors. Pullman has lost some of her best men this year, but Idaho has done the same and will have to all kinds of sup

A Word From the Management.

Moscow, May 8, 1911.

To the editor of the "Argonaut":—

On behalf of the Intercholomistic Committee I desire to express our appreciation of the support we resolved from the University as a whole, and to congratulate the University on the splendid exhibition of Idaho spirit which will usually be called upon in an emergency. The visitors were given every opportunity to see and know the University, and we can most effectually reach the high school students through this first hand acquaintance.

It would have been difficult, or even impossible to manage a meet of this size without the help of the entire University, and we desire to thank the members of the University who acted as officials, as ticket sellers and takers,
the band, the members of the band who assisted in the purchase of the medals, and particularly the students, faculty members and citizens of Moscow, who helped in the entertainment of our guests.

The satisfactory advance sale of tickets was due to the efforts of the committee, of whom Miss Gladys Nankervis, prep., Mr. Roy Johnson, T2 and Mr. E. K. Dennig, '13, were the most successful.

The hardest problem was the sec-ing of accommodations, and this would have been incapable of solution without the hearty and willing assistance of the various fraternities. The chapters as wholes and the individual members put themselves to great expense and personal inconvenience to see that the visitors were well taken care of, and a large part of the credit for the good impression which our guests got is due them.

Field Manager Stoner merricisses that for his efforts to get the track in good condition, and the good records testify to his efficiency. Mr. Mac Scottish, '14, the publisher of the program, deserves thanks and congratulations on his success. The enterprises of the Moscow Tel. and Tel. Co., in putting a phone in at the field should be commended, and finally we wish to congratulate the management of the Argonaut on their successful "extra" after the meet.

This is not the least useful advertising the University receives.
Yours truly,

EVAN T. BAGUE,

JUNIOR ANNUAL APPEARS.

Class of 1912 Got Out "Gem of
The Mountains" Earlier Than Usual—Very Attractive Book

The "Gem of the Mountains" 12" has appeared. The first copies were here Saturday, Monday morning active sales began.
The book is very attractive. It is beautifully bound with flexible leather back of a deep red color,
with the title printed in silver.
The printing is much superior to that of last year, yet it could be improved upon very materially.
The work was done by the Haga-
Borden company of Spokane.
The half tones are excellent, especially those showing views of the campus. The book is dedicated to Liest, A. W. Smith and a fine sepia toned photograph of him is mounted at the front pages.

The cartooning is very good in-deep. Every member of the Junior class is favored with an individual cartoon, a feature that was omit-ed in the annual last year. Some of these cartoons possess remarkable merit, the write-ups of the individuals are also good, many of them showing great cleverness on the part of the writers, but they are not all strictly accurate. This may be excused however, since it is the first attempt of the editors
to put out an annual.

Another slight fault found in the annual is defective proof reading. Names are misspelled and even spelled in more than one way and typographical errors are not altogether uncommon. But it must be remembered that the undergraduate editors are not professional proof readers and could not be expected to have it perfect anyway.

The edition of the "Gem of the Mountains" is certainly very atttractive and is ably edited and managed. It is a credit to the class. The management is to be congratulated for getting the book out at a distribution as early as this

The Biology Club picnic which was scheduled for last Saturday

ORCHESTRA CONCERT
AT OROFINO

Musical Entertainment by Members of Varsity Orchestra
Highly Appreciated.

The concert given by selected members of the University orchestra under the direction of Prof.
Heller-Collins at Orofino, Saturday night, was a financial and artistic success. A large crowd was in attendance and was highly appreciative of the whole program.
The soloists were E. Heller-Coll-rens, violin; Miss Edna Campbell, Euphonium; and Prof. E. J. Carey, su-
bat, and their work was heartily applauded. By special request, Prof. Collins played an extra
"Souvenir," by Drills.

The concert was given under the auspices of the local high school and was managed by W.
Roy Smith, a graduate student of the University, who is finishing the term of school there; allowing Miss Manda Mix, an alumnus of Idaho, to take up the duties of the county superintendent of schools in the new county. He was aided in the management by Miss Mix and also Miss Abbie Mix, a former student here. After the concert
the party was entertained by Mr.
and Mrs. Torsen, formerly of Moscow, in their new drug store and enjoyed some delightful refreshments.

Those making the trip were:
Professors Collins, Tall and Gas.
Miss Edna Campbell, Forrest
Power, George O'Donnell, Thomas
Doyle, Ray Gilmore, Harry Seb-
son, and Carl Mulinir, Miss Sylvia Smith went with the party as chaperone.

2. Excerpts from music drama, "Salome"—Richard Strauss.
I. The Cossacks.—At the ramp-et call bayonets and feet soldiers assemble. Their forceful leader dons the fane of their courage by a marial Appeal. A sepoltion av-evences before them, singing, and the priests bless the army about to depart upon its perilous campaign. Now and again a group of, people crowd to the, heart of the warriors, but the beating of drums enures their brave resolution. Sounds of a march unite to the tranced chant, and, little by little, fire themselves in the distance, while the popular acompanites the army with joyful acclamations.
II. Tschaikowsky's Serenade.
III. Serenade.—On the stage of a street theatre the "Dance of Death" is performed. Death ap-appears fiddly in hand and invites the people to take part in the gruesome measure.
IV. Love scene. (Prelude.)—In a champ on the coast, the sea rolls up its grey tours. The young cou-nels and the fair maids of the seaport, abandon themselves wholly to the peaceful joys of love.
5. Jewel Song from "Faust"—Gounod.
Mado Dimitrieff.
6. Variations on a Tschaikowsky.
Theme.—Chaliapin, when a child, a Bobtievsky piano used.

Seats will be on sale at Watts' phar-

The following program will be rendered:
2. Excerpts from music drama, "Salome"—Richard Strauss.

The concert in Pullman will be the big feature of the Musical Festival held under the auspices of the State College on May 18 and 19. The program will commence at 2:00 p.m.

The vocal quartette which accompanies the orchestra is composed of singers of national and international fame. The soprano, Mme. Dimitrieff, will sing the Jewel Song from "Faust," and the quartette will be heard in Tschaikowsky's number.

Mme. Nina Dimitrieff, the distinguished Russian soprano who is to be one of the soloists at the approaching concert of the Russian Symphony Orchestra, of New York at Pullman on Friday afternoon, May 19, is a woman of rare presence of mind as well as a singer of international reputation. Mme. Dimitrieff once quelled an angry mob that had assembled in an Italian opera house to wreck the performance.

In that country, it appears, the rivalry of opera managers frequently results; in hiring an unruly mob to pack the gallery of his adversary's undertaking to interfee with its progress in hopes of causing an enterprise to be permanently abandoned. On one occasion Mme. Dimitrieff was to sing the leading soprano role in a great opera, but before the time came for her to appear for the first time on the stage the house was in an uproar.

The rough element in the top balconies had first hissed the tenor then shrieked at him and the stunned man had retreated to the wings for refuge, her mind acting like a flash Mme. Dimitrieff dispatched a messenger to her hotel across the street for a Russian and Italian Dog, and, with those in her possession, prepared for a bold move.

In the face of the public the brave soprano advanced before the footlights. Seeing her, this crown of its fury, seemed not to increase its howling. But the prima donna went calmly on with her aria though the leader of the orchestra looked at her appealing several times to stop. Finally, with the climax of her numbers reached, Mme. Dimitrieff advanced to the front of the stage and waving the Russian flag quickly produced and waved it of that. In an instant the howling was changed to cheering and the opera proceeded to success, with Mme. Dimitrieff the heroine of the night.

THE BOSTON
SENlORS HAVE NOVEL PARTY

Mrs. Hutton Takes Class to Moving Picture Show—They Spend Rest of Evening At Her Home.

Last Monday night the Senior class enjoyed a very novel party. Mrs. S. E. Hutton entertained the members of the class in a unique way. They met early in the evening down town and went in a body to the Crystal theatre, where seats were reserved for them and where a special program of moving pictures had been prepared for their especial benefit. Between acts (or pictures) the class gave class and college yells and sang college songs. The regular music of the program was changed at three times so as to provide an accompaniment to the singing. The pictures selected by the manager of the theatre were most appropriate for the jolly crowd and Manager Potter deserves praise for showing such good judgment.

After all the pictures had been shown once and the series began to appear on the curtain for the second time, there was some discussion as to whether or not the show was over. The majority seemed to think it was and the party left the theatre and went together to Mrs. Hutton's home on Van Buren street, where the remainder of the evening was spent in conversation.

Refreshments were served late in the evening, consisting of excellent hot chocolate and an abundance of various kinds of sandwiches, and ice cream cake.

Miss Permae French, matron of the girls' dormitory, accompanied the party as hostess.

This novel and informal party was one of the most pleasant spring events the class has had during its four years of college life.

Idaho Takes Third in Meet

Idaho took a poor third of 17 points in the tri-state meet held at Eugene last Saturday. Outside of the relay which was conceded to Idaho, the Idaho team got but one first and placed in but six events. Money won the 220-dash in 22.55 and was second in the 220 hurdles. This event went in 25.15 which is a new northwest record. Steckler was third in both the pole vault and high jump. Densinger finished in the half mile and Whitten took third for Idaho in the 440.

Idaho sent a team of only five men and a manager. As there was no chance of winning the meet with such a small team Coach Vandy thought it best to go in for the relay. The men who made the trip were picked with this object in view. That Idaho would have won the event is shown by the action of the other teams. Washington refused to run in the final event, and Oregon conceded the race to Idaho.

At about 11:00 a. m., Wm. B. Loe, president of the Alumni Association will deliver the address of the event. This will be followed by speeches by representatives of the four college classes and of the prey. The next thing on the program will be the presentation of money gifts from the three lower classes to be used for the purchase of a present given to the University in the name of the Senior class.

Miss Wold's classes will then give exhibitions of folk dances, which will be followed by the May pole dances, three of which will occur simultaneously. These will close with a May day song by the girls.

This completes the program for the townson. Lunch will be served on the campus. The dormitory will serve coffee and sandwiches and ice cream. All who can are expected to bring lunches, but they will be spread on the campus and all will eat together.

After the lunch there will be a band concert. The cadet band has been preparing several new pieces and will be able to furnish music for the college services, including the new song—'Alma Mater Idaho.'

Just before the tennis tournament which is expected to close the day, the different classes will roll off some entertaining stunts. It is planned to play some of the finals of the tennis tournament to complete the program of the day. The prize for the tournament is a handsome silver cup offered by Flower and Carl David, both of whom are graduates of the U. This cup will be kept in the trophy room and the names of the winners will be engraved on it each year.

Half-way Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

The Y. M. C. A. of W. S. C. and Idaho will hold a "half-way meeting" next Sunday afternoon, Gail Saxon, the northwest student secretary will address the two associations. The meeting will be held just north of the "half-way" school house.
MEN'S TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Homer and Earl David Cup Offered to Winner of Singles. Finals End This Week.

A men's tennis tournament has been arranged. On account of the ladies' tournament next week it is necessary to complete this contest by the end of the week. It is hoped to have the last final on the afternoon of Campus day which will be Friday, the 19th.

Homer and Earl David, both of whom are graduates of U., have furnished a handsome silver cup to be presented to the winner of the men's singles. It will be kept in the trophy room and the name of the winner each year will be engraved upon it. This valuable prize together with the cup Mrs. Hays furnished a few weeks ago ought to stimulate considerable interest in tennis. A comparatively large number have now entered the contest.

Whitman college has asked for an intercollegiate tournament. The teams chosen to represent Idaho in this contest, if it is held, will probably be chosen by the scores won in the men's tournament this week.

The Preparatory Play.

Owing to a change in the schedule for the appearance of Mr. Morris, the Spokane opera's famous cartoonist, it has been necessary to change the date for the Prep play, the "Pharmin" from Saturday the 7th to Monday the 19th. All who are to take part are at work and it is safe to say that the management will be able to present a very credible Roman play, which will be a valuable item in the education of any student. A list of the members of the cast will be given in the next issue of the Argonaut. As has been said before this play is to nearly as possible a representation of the Roman play as it was actually given in the days of Terence, its classic author.

Pullman Fraternity Entertain.

Professor Elliot, Bay Lyman, Earl Hall and Alfred Wisher attended the annual banquet given by the Alpha Zeta fraternity in Pullman last Friday evening. The Alpha Zeta is the agricultural fraternity at W. S. U. The party of "Aggies" from Idaho went over in an automobile, returning the same evening.

from unexpected baths; others stroll up and down the sand, look longingly out westward and strive to attain the poetic mood; and still others, in bathing suits, track suits, or suitcases, brave the cold and briny deep—especially the cold deep—some of these venturesome people to the very dangerous depth of waist deep. Such plunged usually last at least five minutes and sometimes arouse straggling comment about baths at the north pole. But it's fun and a fellow always goes back again the next day. The big attractions however are the baseball battles, the tennis tournaments and the track meets. It might not be interesting to a real, live fan to watch some of the playing that is done, but that's the joke. The scrabb player—the fellow who lost in the tryout at his college—has his chance at the conference. He stands far out in right field with his bands on his hips and dreams of Gretchen and wonders what she'd think if she could see him now. Then some one shouts and he springs high in the air. When he comes down again he realizes that the excitement is over the little round ball that has dropped 25 feet in front of him is boring itself into the earth while three men go home.

Tennis is not so much an amateur affair; for there are some close and interesting matches.

In track the Idaho Empire schools won the cup in 1910. Idaho won the running broad jump and had one man in the winning relay team. No college records are ever broken but the men enter into the events as earnestly as tho they were winning real glory for their school men. Thus the afternoons break the monotony and relieve the nervous strain incurred in the real business of the conference.

Supt. Meek of Boise, Here.

Superintendent Meek, Meek of the Boise schools is visiting the University this week. He is lecturing to the classes in Education on school management and administration. He is scheduled for five lectures, the first of which occurred yesterday morning. All students in Education are required to attend these addresses and all others are invited to attend.

SUCCESSFUL BASEBALL TRIP
Varsity Team Breaks Even—Record Better Than Expected—Boys Enjoy the Trip.

The Varsity baseball team returned last Monday from the journey around the circuit, bringing back a percentage of 259 won of the games played on the road. This is the best record yet made by any of the conference teams on their trips this season. The team won the first three games of the week's scheduled, and would probably have kept up the good work had the squad been able to keep in good shape. Playing ball every day and jumping half way across the state at night is a strain on even the best professional teams. The Idaho team, with but two regular pitchers and a limited supply of subs, is to be commended on the showing made under such circumstances.

The reports sent back of games won were somewhat of a surprise to those who had not been following the recent development of the team. Captain Fritz was sent into the box for the first game at Whitman. He pitched a great game, allowing but three scattered hits and striking out ten men. With excellent support he was able to shut out the missionaries. The Idaho nine broke into the star column but once in the nine innings. Idaho got two men around the bases through the aid of a little slick work on the part of Kesty, Crew and "Three-bagger Williams." Wheeler was high man at the bat in this game with two hits in three times at bat.

On the following day Idaho repeated the stunt, winning 6 to 5. Both sides batted heavily, but Robinson was able to whiff out seven of the Whitman sluggers and kept the six hits made off his delivery well scattered. Five errors by the Idaho team saved Whitman from another shut out.

It required thirteen innings for Idaho to defeat the University of Oregon by a 4-3 score in the first game of that series. Robinson was again on the slab and pitched a brilliant game with twelve strikeouts and but four hits. This gives Idaho's star twirler a record of pitching 22 innings in two days and winning both games. We suggest that it be equaled in the conference right away.

On Thursday Oregon used three pitchers to stop Idaho's winning streak. With Landrum away from third, Wheeler gave up from second and the nine men more or less carded up, the boys were forced to take the small end of an 8-3 score. Landrum pitched for Idaho and kept the hits well scattered with the exception of one inning. The captain got ten men to the bench on strikes and contributed toward Idaho's score with two hits and two runs. At Corvallis the boys dropped both games for reasons stated above. Pat Robinson was used at the receiving end of the battery in both O. A. C. games as well as with the second game with Oregon. His work behind the plate was highly thought of. Priece Perkins pitched the last game. While not one of the regular seven, he showed good form and with a little better luck in tight places he might have won his game.

The boys report a very good time at Corvallis. The Corvallis commercial club entertained them and showed them around the city. The Idaho boys were welcomed and made themselves thoroughly at home in the chamber of commerce rooms. This generous spirit on the part of the commercial club is very commendable indeed.

Some of the men fattened up the batting averages while away. Kettleson batted .364 in his 26 times at bat, and Crew averaged .269 in the same number of trips to the plate. Williams was at bat 23 times and got away with an average of .227. Williams generally came in with a hit when it would do the most good, and his game had much to do with the victories of the trip.

The team has five more games to play this season, two with Washington today and tomorrow, and three with Pullman. If the students will give the Idaho team anything like the support it deserves, Pink will have Idaho up near the top when the final standings are figured up.

Morris Date Postponed.

Mr. Morris, the Spokesman-Review cartoonist, who will come to the University and deliver an illustrated lecture on the "Cartoon-ist and His Work," has written that he will not be able to come on Friday, the 19th, as was announced. His work keeps him busy with the citizens of Spokane all the week except Saturday. He plans to have him here on Friday night, but as that was not possible, arrangements were made to change the date of the Prep play from Saturday, the 27th to Monday, the 30th and Mr. Morris will speak on the former evening. The lecture is to be given in the Y. M. C. A. hall in the Administration building. A nominal admission of 25 cents will be charged.
